Relief trains were started from Slater at 10 a. m. and from Kansas City at 12:30 p. m., each carrying a corps of physicians.

GOING AT HIGH SPEED.

The trains collided while going at a rapid rate. Both engines were demolished and the forward cars telescoped.

Both engineers, the freight conductor and Baggageman Racer were killed outright, as were three passengers. Most of the damage appears to have been done in the combination smoker following the baggage car, these cars being pushed into the space of one car by the terrific impact of the collision. Among the passengers was B. L. McClain, general agent of the passenger department in Kansas City of the Chicago and Alton railroad. Mr. McClain escaped unhurt and immediately after the crash set about organizing systematic relief.

In a message to the local office McClain recites simply the fact of the wreck, adding that the train took fire soon after the collision and that at the time his message was sent the cars were burning. Nothing has been received from him since, and at the office of the superintendent of the road it is stated that owing to the confusion at the scene it has been impossible to obtain details. The dead will be brought to Kansas City about 3 o'clock. The injured will be taken temporarily to Marshall, the next station west.

BARNS WERE AFIRE.

At 1:30 o'clock this afternoon the fire department was called to the north side, where a lively blaze had gotten a headway in the barn at the rear of the home of Henry Engelking, 82 North Harrison street. The structure burned furiously and sent great clouds of black smoke upward, leading many to fear that an extensive blaze was in progress. The Engelking barn was totally burned, as well as a similar structure across the alley and owned by Peter Case. A shed on the adjoining premises of Charles Figel was badly scorched, as were also several others in the vicinity—at least six suffering from the blaze. The origin of the fire is unknown. The loss will not exceed $300.

UNLAWFULLY TOOK REMAINS

GARRETT UNDERTAKER WHO WAS TOO FAST.

The death of Charles Campbell, of Garrett, yesterday afternoon, at the home of W. H. Arney, near the Driving park, brought about a disagreeable series of circumstances, which, however, were wholly due to the officiousness of an undertaker from Garrett. After the death, Schoene & Veith, Fort Wayne undertakers, were called and they took charge of the body and subjected it to the usual preliminary treatment for burial. This morning at 3 o'clock an undertaker from Garrett arrived with a hearse, having driven over, and took charge of the remains and proceeded to remove them to Garrett for burial, in spite of the remonstrations of the people of the house. The Garrett undertaker insisted that he knew what he was doing and went away with the body. Schoene & Veith had no selfish interest, but reported the fact the county health officer, and that official presented the matter to Sheriff Stout, insisting that the body be returned to this county, as it is clearly and plainly against the law to remove a body from the county without a death certificate, properly signed by the county health officer. Sheriff Stout telephoned Sheriff Hathaway, of Auburn, relating the circumstances, and this afternoon received a reply saying that the Garrett undertaker would return to this county with the body this evening.

The Hibernian Rifles will take an outing next Sunday, going into camp on Reilley's dairy farm. They will march out at 7 a. m. and will break camp at 6 p. m. to return to the city. They will have a morning and afternoon drill and dress parade in the evening, and if it is not too hot, the army regulations will be mixed up with a game of base ball.

James Lonergan, foreman of The Sentinel bindery, continues critically ill at his home on Erie street. A slight improvement noted in his condition in the early part of the week has disappeared and today his suffering is unusually acute.

KILBOURNE LEADS

OHIO DEMOCRATS NAME HIM FOR GOVERNOR.

NOMINATED BY ACCLAMATION

SOMEWHAT NOISY TIME IN THE CONVENTION.

DOWLING MEN ARE UNSEATED

PLATFORM JOHNSONESQUE ON STATE ISSUES.

Columbus, Ohio, July 10.—Col. James Kilbourne, of Columbus, was today nominated for governor of Ohio by the democratic state convention here. A platform was adopted that on national issues embodies the conservatism of the McLean faction and state issues sets forth the taxation views of the Tom L. Johnson element. A resolution reaffirming the Kansas City platform and expressing renewed confidence in William J. Bryan was overwhelmingly voted down.

PECULIAR CIRCUMSTANCES.

The convention convened here today under peculiar circumstances. All the more conservative elements had combined in the preliminaries against the friends of Mayor Tom L. Johnson, of Cleveland, but the combination was not maintained after the committees were selected, and during the all-night session of the committee on resolutions it was claimed the McLean and Kilbourne men were no longer co-operating against the propositions of the Johnson men on the platform and organization. The contest was in the committee on resolutions and on both national and state issues.

Johnson men won on their favorite views on state matters and the others on national issues.

There is no re-affirmation of the Kansas City or any other platform. There is no mention of previous platforms or of Bryan. The sub-committee of seven that drafted the platform stood four to three in favor of the conservatives, but the full committee rejected both the majority and the minority reports and then picked out such parts of each as were voted in section by section. The full committee did not stand the same on all sections of the planks. The three planks of the Johnson men—on franchises, steam and electric railways and corporation taxation were adopted as amendments.

The majority report of the sub-committee, and then the resolutions as amended, were adopted so the minority report of the sub-committee practically became the majority report of the full committee and things generally were reversed.

Previous to the assembling of the convention today there was unusual agitation among the delegates.

C. P. Salen, a member of Johnson's cabinet, had been continued as permanent chairman and other friends of Johnson had secured the taxation resolutions wanted. There was much talk about the Kilbourne and McLean men having differences, but it became evident later on that the Johnson men had won on the taxation issues without any other changes.

The convention was not called to order until nearly 11 o'clock by Chairman Brucker. Prayer was offered by Rev. John Hewitt.

Hon. Charles P. Salen was heartily cheered when he was introduced as temporary chairman.

A BITTER WRANGLE.

There was a long and bitter wrangle over a motion to seat the Dowling delegates from Montgomery county, the minority report of the credentials committee being adopted. Much surprise was evinced at the action of the Hamilton county delegation in voting almost solidly with the Johnson forces, as Dowling had been recognized as one of the McLean leaders.

Ex-Congressman J. F. Fillette reported in favor of making permanent the temporary organization. This was adopted. Chairman Salen acknowledged the honor with a bow

Hon. M. A. Daugherty then reported the resolutions, which were adopted.

THE PLATFORM.

The report submitted by the committee on resolutions contained nearly two thousand words. It consists of a preamble and sixteen articles under the following heads:

Municipal governments, taxation, conduct of state affairs, etc., people's rights, tariff reform, monopolies, merchant marine, imperialism and expansion, the Boers, Monroe doctrine, the navy, civil service, election of senators, agriculture and labor, republican responsibility, and boss rule and political corruption. The preamble follows:

"The democrats of Ohio reaffirm their belief in the equality of taxation and other public burdens; their advocacy of the equal rights of all people with special privileges to none; their hostility to the monopolization of industry, with its tendency, on the one hand, to crush out individual enterprise, and, on the other, to promote a socialistic spirit among the people as the only refuge from oppression; and their faith in that theory and practice of constitutional government which brought the nation into existence and has preserved it to the present generation."

The subjects above mentioned are then taken up. It is declared that the municipalities of the state should be radically reformed. The denial of home rule is declared to have fostered special legislation and the imposition of burdensome taxes. It is demanded that no franchise, extension or renewal thereof shall hereafter be granted except upon vote of the people. On the subject of taxation the platform says:

"The acceptance of free passes or other favors from railroads by public officers or employes shall be made adequate grounds for vacating the offices held by them. All public service corporations shall be required by law to make sworn public reports, and the power and duty of visitation and public report shall be conferred upon the proper state and local auditing officers, to the end that the true value of the privileges held by these corporations shall be made plain to the people.

"Steamship, railroad and other corporations possessing public franchises shall be assessed in the same proportion to their saleable value as are farms and city real estate.

"The proceedings of the republican majority of the state board of equalization are a scandal. Property values, instead of being equalized, were increased or diminished at the dictation of political bosses, pursuant to corrupt combinations and conspiracies."

Regarding the conduct of state affairs the republican administration and the republican majority of the general assembly are denounced.

Centralization, "which would destroy the rights of the people," is condemned.

Tariff reform is demanded on the ground that the production of the country far exceeds its power of consumption.

The enactment and rigorous enforcement of measures to prevent monopolies and combinations in restraint of trade and commerce is demanded, as is also the suppression of all trusts and a return to "industrial freedom." As a means to that end the platform declares that all trust products should be placed on the free list and the government should exercise a more rigid supervision of transportation. Restoration of the merchant marine is favored, without subsidies, however.

On the subject of imperialism and expansion, the platform says:

"Powers granted the federal government were not meant to be used to conquer or hold in subjection the people of other countries.

"The democratic party opposes any extention of the national boundaries not meant to carry speedily to all inhabitants full, equal rights with ourselves. If these are unfitted by location, race or character, to be formed into self-governing territories, and then incorporated into the union of states, they should be permitted to work out their own destiny.

"Only territorial expansion demanded by the national welfare and the national safety is at any time to be favored—the objection which should have prevented certain of our recent accessions being that they imperil the national safety without promoting the national welfare; tend to embroil us with European powers, weaken our claim to supremacy on the American continent and furnish a dangerous opportunity and temptation for the disregard of the self-evident truth of universal application, that governments derive their just power from the consent of the governed."

Maintenance of the Monroe doctrine is demanded; a navy adequate to the protection of American citizens and property the world over; election of senators by direct vote, and the right of labor to combine for the assertion of its rights and the protection of its interests. It is declared that the burdens of the "unjust and discriminating laws for which the republican party is responsible, fall chiefly on those who till the soil or labor at other forms of production.

BOY AND GIRL HELD UNDER BOND

State Causes Detention of Del Reed and Marie Sampleton as Witnesses in Cothrell Murder---The Developments.

Marie Sampleton and Ira Reed, domestic and hired man, who were in the employ of Charles Dunn at Wallen, were locked up in the Allen county jail in default of bonds of $2,000 each, held as witnesses in the Cothrell murder case. Neither knows of the presence of the other behind the bars of the jail, nor does Dunn know that steps have been taken to insure the presence of the witnesses when wanted.

The young lady was found at 8 o'clock Tuesday evening at the home of Will Dunn, on East Third street, and the young man had driven to Wallen to feed the stock and was preparing to return to the city when the officers arrived. Both insisted that they knew nothing more than had been told at the coroner's inquest.

The determination to hold the witnesses was reached by Coroner Barnett and Prosecutor Emrick after a visit to Wallen Tuesday afternoon, where a number of discoveries were made which the prosecution deems of great importance in the case.

IN THE SWEAT-BOX.

Both witnesses were closely questioned for more than an hour each at the county jail this morning, and while the officials will not disclose all they learned, it is stated that both the boy and girl remembered considerably more than they were able to do at the inquest and the officers say admissions were made this morning of facts and circumstances that were absolutely denied at the coroner's examination on Tuesday. The officers believe they know still more and that they will eventually disclose more information of grave importance.

At Wallen Tuesday afternoon it was reported to the officers that Reed stated to a Mrs. Madden there that he hadn't told all he knew and didn't propose to; that the officers were trying to pump him, but could not. Today when the officers pinned him down to this statement Reed admitted having had a conversation with Mrs. Madden about the case, but claimed that he simply told her he "didn't tell all he thought." This explanation does not satisfy the officers and they are confident of bringing some new information to light before the date of the preliminary hearing.

Marie Sampleton appears to be much unnerved by her detention and the officers say she materially added this morning to her information as given at the inquest, though they declined to go into details concerning the new admissions. Coroner Barnett says she admitted, among other things, that Dunn had made improper advances toward her, but that she had repelled him and had struck him over the head with a dipper.

HELD UNDER BONDS.

The officers say they had reason to believe these two witnesses might not be present when they were needed and the determination to hold

MAY UNIONIZE TEACHERS.

Milwaukee, July 10.—Proposed unionizing of the school teachers of the country into champions of the cause of labor formed the basis of the report which Mayor Agar, of Fairbury, Ill., made to the national convention of glass bottle blowers today. The report declared that the text books used in the public schools teach erroneous ideas regarding labor, and proposed three objects for the teachers' unions, as follows: To use only those text books bearing the union label; to endeavor to add text books which looked upon labor problems from the laboring standpoint; to increase the teachers' wages.

A TOWN WIPED OUT BY A CLOUDBURST

Helena, Mont., July 10.—A cloudburst is reported to have almost destroyed the town of Corbin, twenty miles south of Helena. No loss of life has yet been reported, but it is thought escape for the inhabitants was impossible. Corbin is situated close to a line of foothills of the Rockies. During the night a terrific storm prevailed. Water rushed down the hills in dense volumes and in a short time the large Peck concentrator was partially wrecked. Houses were torn from their foundations and reduced to debris. The water rose to eight feet in the principal streets and only the most substantial buildings remained in position. Traffic on the Northern Pacific and Great Northern was stopped by washouts and communication was cut off. It is estimated that the loss of the concentrator alone will run into the thousands. Residents of this city familiar with the surroundings at Corbin are of the opinion that a loss of life must have accompanied the flood.

CARNEGIE HAS $280,000,000 TO GIVE

New York, July 10.—A London dispatch to the Herald says:

Andrew Carnegie still has £56,000,000 ($280,000,000) to give away in public benefactions. Mr. Carnegie himself is authority for this statement, which he made recently at Skibo castle to a member of the New York chamber of commerce committee, who is now in this city, but wishes his name kept secret.

According to Mr. Carnegie, he is still undecided in what manner to dispose of his wealth for the public good. He wishes the public to obtain the best results from his uture benefactions and for that reason has not yet formulated any philanthropic statements.

Mr. Carnegie admitted that free libraries and other educational institutions would undoubtedly obtain a portion of the millions in question, in order that the plans he had previously adopted should be fully developed. His hearers judged from what he said His hearers judged from what he said bility of directing his wealth toward endowing and supporting art galleries, scientific museums and similar institutions.

THE SULTAN SETTLES HIS BILL

Abdul Hamid Gives up Cash in Discharge of the $95,000 Claims and the Checks are Now Safely in Washington.

Washington, July 10.—The state department has received the amount of the American indemnity claim against Turkey, $95,000, through the American legation at Constantinople.

The money was paid by the Turkish government to Mr. Leishman, our minister at Constantinople; was by him placed in the Ottoman Imperial bank and drafts remitted for the amount. These drafts have just reached Washington. As is always the case, the claims in the aggregate considerably exceed the amount of the indemnity actually paid, but our government has expressed itself satisfied with the payment. It assumes full responsibility for the distribution, the Turkish government paying down a lump sum of $95,000 and leaving it to the state department to distribute this among the claimants at its discretion and after its own fashion. It is stated that as soon as the department officials can prepare their list they will communicate directly with the claimants.

CLOSE OF GREAT CONVENTION

Cincinnati, July 10.—Today being the last day of the International Christian Endeavor convention events have been crowded in upon each other, making it really the busiest day of the meeting, which lasted five days. There was not an hour from sunrise until the time for the farewell meeting tonight but that was marked for meetings and services. The music hall auditoriums were the centers of most activity. The action of the local committee in dispensing with auditorium Ohio and consolidating the meetings scheduled to occur there today with the two meetings in auditoriums Endeavor and Williston, caused a revising of the entire program as far as speakers were concerned. The assignments to these halls were made before the convention, and as the speakers who were to have participated in auditorium Ohio are here they were included on the programs in the other two auditoriums.

The usual quiet hour meetings at the Second Presbyterian and Ninth Street Baptist churches ushered in the day's program. The Endeavorers then adjourned to the big auditoriums, where the first two big meetings of the day were conducted. They were devoted to a discussion of the "Twentieth Anniversary Session."

Secretary John Willis Baer, of Boston, presided in Endeavor hall, and Bishop B. W. Arnett, of Wilberforce, Ohio, in Williston hall. After the devotional exercises six ministers were given five minutes each on Twenty Years of Christian Endeavor."

Rev. A. B. Curry, of Birmingham, Ala., then spoke on "The Element of Obligation," in the discussion of what made Christian Endeavor a success and why? Rev. John Shape, of Wilmington, Del., followed on "The Power of Testimony;" Tracy McGregor, of Detroit, "The Joy of Service;" Rev. Henry T. McEwen, of Amsterdam, N. Y., "The Spirit of Consecration," and General Secretary Willis Baer, of Boston, "The World's Christian Endeavor Union." "What Has Been Gained in Twenty Years of Christian Endeavor" was treated by Rev. George B. Stewart, of Auburn, N. Y., and Rev. J. G. Butler, of Washington, D. C.

The new field secretary, Clarence Eberman, of Lancaster, Pa., and Rev. W. S. Anent, of Pekin, China, spoke of Christian Endeavor fellowship. Rev. Harland E. Freeman, of Sheridanville, Pa., then followed in an address on the subject of "It is Interdenominational."

The farewell meetings to be held this evening will be the greatest of the day. Rev. J. Campbell Morgan, of Baltimore, and Rev. Floyd W. Thompson, of Philadelphia, are the only two speakers who will be heard. The Endeavorers will assemble in groups from each of their states, and as the roll is called, will reply with short addresses on the purposes they have in view for the extension Christian Endeavor during the coming year.

Miss Anna Carsten, Clayton, Ill., says: "Your Peruna did me so much good. I believe I should have been dead by this time had I not used it. I am feeling so well now. I have not taken any medicine for four or five months. I can cheerfully recommend Peruna to my friends."

Everywhere the people, especially the women, are praising Peruna as a remedy for all forms of catarrhal difficulties.

"During the past year I gradually lost flesh and strength until I was unable to perform my work properly. I tried different remedies, and finally Peruna was suggested to me. It gave me new life and strength. I cannot speak too highly of it."

The extreme sensitiveness of the mucous lining of every organ of a woman's body is well known to physicians. This explains why, in part at least, so few women are entirely free from catarrh. Peruna cures catarrh wherever it is located.

BOY AND GIRL HELD UNDER BOND

them was reached at Wallen Tuesday evening. After they had been thoroughly questioned this morning Prosecutor Emrick went into Justice France's court and asked that they be placed under bonds to appear as witnesses in the case. This was at 10:30 o'clock, and the boy and girl were brought into court separately by Deputy Sheriff Ryan. Justice France fixed the amount of bonds at $2,000 each, and as they were unable to give surety both were returned to jail.

SECOND POST MORTEM.

This afternoon, at the request of the defense, Dr. Maurice Rosenthal and Dr. G. L. Greenawalt went to Wallen to make a second post mortem examination of the remains of the dead child. The request was made to Coroner Barnett on Tuesday afternoon for permission to do so, and the coroner at once acquiesced in the right of the defense to make a complete examination. It is believed the question as to whether the lungs were filled with water or not is the principal one which the defense desires to investigate, as determining whether or not life was extinct before the body was placed in the water.

Dr. Greenwell and Dr. Barnett are both positive in their statement that there was no water in the lungs, which would indicate death previous to being placed in the water. A portion of each of the lungs was removed and placed in a sealed jar now in the possession of the coroner.

Coroner Barnett, Prosecutor Emrick and Dr. A. H. Macbeth also went to Wallen this afternoon to be present at the second post mortem at 2 o'clock.

This request of Mr. Dunn's attorney necessitated a postponement of the funeral services, which had been arranged for 10 o'clock this morning, and it is probable they will be held at the conclusion of the examination this afternoon. Among those who went to Wallen today to attend the funeral are four aunts of the dead girl—Mrs. Ellen Koontz, of Prospect avenue; Mrs. Lucinda Foust and Mrs. Jennie Richards, of 205 East Wayne street, and Mrs. Harriet Richards, of Highland and Harrison streets.

DEL REED TALKS.

Ira, familiarly known as "Del" Reed, the young man in Dunn's employ, was seen this morning at the turnkey's office in the county jail by a reporter for The Sentinel. Reed is 17 years of age and a bright-appearing young fellow, but inclined to be curtly positive in some of his statements, though he talked with apparent freedom, and stoutly maintained ignorance of any criminal circumstances in connection with the disappearance or death of Alice Cothrell.

Reed today stated that on Tuesday he was engaged at logging with Cothrell, father of the dead girl; they did not return until 9 o'clock in the evening, and unharnessed the horses and placed them in the stable; the feed was already in the boxes for them. Reaching the village Reed learnd of the disappearance of the Cothrell girl, and hurriedly eating his supper, he hitched up a rig and, together with the girl's father, drove to this city in search for her. Was not around the Dunn house five minutes after eating supper.

Edna Cothrell, an older sister, had heard somebody say Alice had said she was going to her grandmother's in the city. Cothrell and Reed drove to Fort Wayne, stopping at several farm houses along the way to make inquiries. Then notified the police and sheriff. Did not get back to Wallen until about 3 o'clock Wednesday morning. All were in bed at the Dunn home.

HUNTED FOR THE GIRL.

Reed insisted that he saw nothing about the house during the week that would tend to arouse his suspicions, and that he had himself joined several times in the search for the little girl, putting in perhaps a total of three days at this work. On Saturday evening he, with Miss Sampleton and Edna Cothrell, drove to Huntertown to see if anything had been learned there of her whereabouts. He had heard Dunn say on Saturday morning that he had searched all over the place, but had never heard him forbid anybody searching.

Reed stated that he had worked for Dunn a long time, and that they usually got along well together, though they had occasionally had a few words. Reed thought at times he was getting more than his share of the hard work, and would peremptorily refuse to do certain work ordered by Dunn. The boy had the best of the three teams and said when anything was to be done that was a snap for the team and hard on the driver, he usually got it.

When the reporter asked in regard to the conversation Reed is reported to have had with Mrs. Madden, Reed replied:

"Ask the sheriff; he will tell you."

Reed stoutly maintained and reiterated in response to different statements of the question as put by the reporter that he had never held any conversation with Miss Sampleton concerning the disappearance of Alice Cothrell, and asserted that from the time of the disappearance of the little girl to the time of the finding of her body in Dunn's cistern he had never had any suspicion that she possibly might be found on Dunn's premises.

DENIED THE STORY.

Reed was most emphatic in his denial of the report that he had overheard any sort of plotting between Dunn and Miss Sampleton; he had never heard anything of the sort; had never heard the two in conversation regarding the little girl, and maintained that there had been so far as he could observe no suspicious actions about the Dunn home.

Dunn took excellent care of his unfortunate wife, said Reed, and the little girl was a favorite with Mrs. Dunn, who plays the organ a great deal, and Alice was in the habit of coming in and singing for her. Mrs Dunn had not touched the organ since the finding of the little girl's body and seemed much affected at her death.

Sunday afternoon Reed says he with two or three other young men were loafing along the railroad track talking to a tramp who was bound for Michigan. Returning to the house he took a drink of water from a tin pail which Dunn had filled from the cistern just before dinner. Reed then saw a crowd of people around the grocery and went down to investigate the cause. It was the Huntertown people who came to aid in the search, and a short time later the body was recovered from the cistern. Half an hour before he had drank water drawn from the cistern. It was from a tin pail; that in which Dunn carried water from Huguenard's was a wooden bucket; did not see Dunn drink from the tin pail that day.

The efforts of the newspaper men to interview Miss Sampleton today were fruitless, as the officials declined to permit the reporters to question the young lady. She is confined in the woman's ward at the county jail.

SOME NEW DISCLOSURES.

The visit of Coroner Barnett and Prosecutor Emrick to Wallen Tuesday afternoon resulted in making a number of discoveries which the officers consider of great value in connection with the case. Sentiment in the little village is universally against Dunn and the feeling is running very high.

The officers went over the whole scene thoroughly, inspecting the Dunn house, barns and surroundings and questioning a large number of citizens of the village. The place had a deserted air at first, but so great was the interest in this remarkable case that within a short time there was a large number of people present and all willing to aid the officers in their search. It is plainly evident that people were loth to mention their suspicions for some days. Dunn was a prominent citizen and none of the people of the village cared to anger him until the fruitlessness of protracted search had made it evident that different tactics must be adopted.

The residence occupied by Dunn is owned by Mr. Grosjean and is the most imposing house in the village. It stands at the north edge of the town, facing eastward, and adjoining the sawmill operated by Dunn. On the first floor are the parlor, a small bedroom, a sitting room, dining room, kitchen and shed-like structure at the north side of this, where Marie Sampleton was engaged in washing on the day that Alice Cothrell disappeared.

REGULATORS WERE THERE.

Earlier in the day representatives of the Huntertown regulators had made a thorough search of the Dunn premises, for these sturdy men are determined to lend all the aid possible in sifting the terrible affair to the bottom.

The measurement of water in the cistern Tuesday showed a depth of about seven feet and two inches, and the coroner's measurement of the trap door in the floor above the cistern showed it to be 16x22 inches, while the opening in the top of the cistern proper is 13x22 inches, and the situation convinces the officers that it would be a very difficult matter for a child to fall accidentally into the cistern. The water is intensely cold and several dipperfuls of it brought to the surface showed a plentiful population of bugs and worms, so that the party present Tuesday was not prepared to indorse the water from this cistern for drinking purposes.

At the rear of the yard is a small barn used as a cow stable, and farther north and to the rear of the mill yard is the barn used as a stable for several of Dunn's teams.

IMPRESSION IN MANGER.

In the manger farthest to the west on the south side of this barn the officers noted a peculiar depression in the hay, which was packed quite solidly something after the impression which would have been left had a body lain there. The stall itself is about half filled with sawdust, and Mr. Cothrell, father of the little girl, could offer no explanation of the appearance of the manger. He stated that the stall had not been used for some time.

This stable is reached by way of the alley at the rear of the Dunn residence, and through which Miss Sampleton says the little one was walking after she saw her leave the house on Tuesday afternoon.

HEAR MANY REPORTS.

The fact that an arrest has been made in the case has undoubtedly made the people of Wallen feel that they can talk with more safety, and Coroner Barnett and the prosecutor are daily collecting more testimony in the case. One fact which took them to Wallen yesterday was the information that Del Reed had given information in addition to that adduced at the inquest, and the officers went to the home of Dennis Madden and took the testimony of Mrs. Madden on this point. "We were all talking about the disappearance of the child," said Mrs. Madden, "and when I met Del Reed I asked him if there was anything new. He said, 'No; they are trying to pump me, but they can't; I haven't told all I know, and I don't propose to."

There are, of course, an endless variety of stories flying about the village, and many of them the officers believe are somewhat overdrawn. One has it that Reed accidentally overheard a conversation between Dunn and the servant girl in which they were plotting to put the little girl out of the way; and that when Dunn saw Reed had overheard them he made threats to enjoin his secrecy. This is absolutely denied by Reed today.

ASKED THEM TO SPEAK.

Coroner Barnett, addressing a number of citizens who had gathered, told them that the only desire upon the part of the state was to get at the exact truth of the whole matter; that the citizens of Wallen should be as desirous of seeing equal justice done to all as were the officers of the law, and stated that if any person in the village could shed any light upon the case it was his sacred duty to speak. Thomas Jetmore and a young man named Beitzell told of a rumor they had heard to the effect that Del Reed had stated that he had overheard a conversation between Dunn and the Sampleton girl which indicated that the Cothrell girl had been foully dealt with.

The coroner had the testimony of a number of witnesses taken in short hand by Stenographer Fonner, who accompanied the party.

GIRL IS AN ORPHAN.

Marie Sampleton, the domestic who is believed by the state to be a most important witness in the case, is seventeen years of age and an orphan. She was reared in a Chicago orphanage, and is quite prepossessing. About township. About three years ago she came to Fort Wayne and worked for a time for Mrs. Henry Fleckenstein until she entered the employ of the Dunn family in February and went to Wallen.

The unwonted confinement is telling upon Mr. Dunn, and he suffers somewhat from stomach trouble. At the jail it was stated that he ate a fairly hearty breakfast this morning.

Both prosecution and defense are busily preparing for the preliminary hearing to be held at 2 o'clock Saturday afternoon in Justice France's court.

As chairman of the railroads and transportation committee Mr. Culbertson has done very effective work and his election to the presidency will be universally gratifying. Mr. Monning has been secretary of the club continuously since its organization and is now elected for the third time. He has made an admirable officer in every respect. Mr. Bond is another official who succeeds himself, having held the office of treasurer for the past year.

There was nearly a full meeting of the board of twenty directors and some routine business was disposed of. The club will hold no further meetings during the heated term, resuming regular meetings in September.

At a meeting of the building committee of the Third Presbyterian church Tuesday evening it was voted to allow the gargoyles on the tower of the new church to remain, the committee deeming it unwise to incur the additional expense of removing them.

A meeting of the school board was held last evening, and the contract for enlarging the Nebraska school was awarded to Conductor H. L. Mollett, who submitted the most satisfactory bid. One story will be added to the present structure, of four rooms, making eight rooms in all. The school contained 250 pupils during the last term, and the rooms would not accomodate them, making it necessary to fit up an additional room in the basement. The addation will cost about $7,000, and the work will commence at once in order that the school may be ready for occupation when the fall term opens.

SHOW ON THE WHITE FIELDS.

W. D. Henderson, the dealer in feed and hay, who has the contract for furnishing the hay and grain for the Buffalo Bill show, has been instructed to deliver the goods at the White fields, east of Glasgow avenue and at the foot of Washington and Wayne streets. This practically settles the location of the show, a question which has been of more or less interest to all citizens ever since it became known that the great exposition would hold forth in Fort Wayne. This arrangement will be satisfactory to a majority of the people, because the White fields are accessible by rail, street car and other modes of conveyance. The Nickel Plate has not yet arranged to put on a train service to the grounds, but it is believed that the company will do so. When the fireworks display was made on those grounds during the Fort Wayne centennial celebration the Nickel Plate ran a train every ten minutes between the depot and grounds and did a thriving business and one that was entirely satisfactory to the people. Of course, the street car company will give excellent service on that day, but so great will be the crowd that all the street cars in the city would be unable to handle the people within the limited time allotted for that purpose. Buffalo Bill shows in Auburn tomorrow, coming here Thursday over the Lake Shore; gives two exhibitions here Friday and leaves Friday night for Warsaw, where he will show Saturday. Next week he will exhibit in Chicago.

The meeting of the Young Men's society of Emmaus Lutheran church, to have been held last evening, was postponed until Thursday evening. The choir of the church has postponed its meeting from Thursday evening until next week.

ASSAULTED A LINEMAN.

Last evening Contractor Borkenstine, while driving his wagon south on Calhoun street, found his way blocked near the south depot by linemen engaged in placing the new trolley wire in position for the traction company. He demanded that the street be cleared for his passage and that demand not being complied with as soon as he thought it should be, he raised his whip and struck a man standing on the ground engaged in holding a guy rope. The man was Joseph Schreck, a lineman living on Hanna street, near Wallace, and the blow took effect on his eye, cutting and bruising the member badly. Schreck was taken to his home, where a physician was called. The latter said he could not predict the outcome until the swelling subsided and was not certain whether or not the eyesight would be affected.

Robison Park Theater—Vaudeville.

His sublime high jigs Abdul Hamid, sultan of Turkey and debtor to about all the powers in Christendom, has settled his bill with the United States. And this provokes the question frequently asked concerning the cash of another and equally great autocrat: "Where did he get it?"

A dispatch from New York says the Heath brothers—Fletcher, Perry S. and Fred—may reorganize the Seventh National bank in New York and build it up as a distinct family institution. It is said the Heath brothers can mass about $2,000,000 and that they have the promise of strong friends of all the assistance they need. It now appears that the Seventh bank will be able to realize sufficiently from the loans which swamped it to pay depositors in full and resume business.

A TEMPERATE PEOPLE.

We desire to say a word commendatory of the temper of the people of Wallen and vicinity. Under stress of great excitement and indignation over what seems to be one of the most atrocious crimes in the annals of this county they have preserved admirable order and coolness, content to permit the constituted authorities to unravel the solemn mystery of little Alice Cothrell's tragic death and to permit the law to take its course with the man charged with her murder.

In a community of people with less temperate judgment hasty anger might have burst the restraints of good order and respect for law and the processes of justice and summary vengeance have been wreaked upon the man accused of a crime so hellish. If the man now in jail under charge of this most shocking crime is guilty justice will find him out and the law will deal with him according to the deserts of guilt so foul.

In the self-restraint of the people of Wallen and vicinity the officers of justice have found and will find a valuable aid to the unraveling of the mystery of the crime. It is the duty of all who know anything that may aid the officers in solving the manner of Alice Cothrell's death to make it known promptly to County Prosecutor Emrick, Coroner Barnett and Sheriff Stout. What justice demands is the truth. None who knows aught that will aid the cause of justice should delay making it known to the officers or should conceal it from them.

DID NOT SEE THE BODY.

Prof. Frederick Barnhard, of this city, who went to Chicago on Monday to identify, if possible, the body of his son Gustave, reported and supposed to have been drowned in Lake Michigan on June 23, returned to the city last evening. He did not see the body he was in quest of, it having been buried several days before his arrival. He made a number of inquiries at police headquarters and at St. Joseph hospital, but was unable to satisfy himself on the question whether the dead man was his son or not. Sisters of Charity at the hospital told him that it would be useless to exhume the body, as it was much mutilated and that decomposition had made the features unreconizable long before burial. He was also told that the deceased had a deformed knee, evidently of long standing, and this convinced Professor Barnhard that there must have been some mistake and he did not prosecute his inquiry any farther.

NAMED SUCCESSOR TO ROMY

OFFICER TERRY NEW POLICE STATION MASTER.

The board of safety met last evening and after considering some minor matters took up the question of supplying the police department with a new stationmaster. Lieutenant Lapp made a formal presentment that Officer Romy had been absent for some days without leave, and he was dismissed. Officer Terry, until recently a day man on the Broadway beat, was then named as Romy's successor, and Patrolman Charles Spillner was transferred from the night to the day force and Richard Kelley was appointed to fill the vacancy. The new policeman had his application before the board for a long time. He was formerly a brakeman on the Wabash, and lives on Hoagland avenue. He presented himself at the city hall this morning to get his bond and will be prepared to report for duty tonight.

POLICE NOTES.

There was no police court this morning.

A large plate glass in the front of Stegner's dry goods store on Lafayette street was broken early this morning by unknown parties.

J. C. Zurbach, of 187 East Suttenfield street, reported to the police department that for several nights efforts have been made to get into his house and the houses of neighbors. He says that the burglar, prowler or whatever he may be is a young man, smoothfaced and he believes a person living in the vicinity. He gave the name of a suspect to the officers with a request that his movements be watched.

Boys entered the new building being erected on the corner of Wayne and Barr streets and smeared a lot of red paint over the woodwork and floors.

Kakeel Teen, living at 19 Lafayette street, reported that someone stole his bicycle from in front of a business house on Court street yesterday afternoon while he was inside transacting some business. He furnished a description of the wheel and the police will endeavor to locate it for him.

CHARLES WAYNE AT ROBISON PARK.

The management of Robison Park Theater will give to the theater-going public one of the strongest vaudeville bills ever offered a Fort Wayne audience. Mr. Chas. Wayne, Fort Wayne's most popular comedian, assisted by Anna Caldwell, will present that laugh-provoking sketch, "To Boston on Business," commencing Sunday, July 14, and continuing, until Thursday, July 18th, when he will offer the humorous skit entitled, "A Book Detective," for the balance of the week. For a number of years the people of this city have had a desire to see Fort Wayne's representative comedian, but on account of the high salary commanded by this meritorious artist it has been impossible to book him with any assurance of financial success. However, at the urgent request of Mr. Wayne's host of Fort Wayne friends, the management of Robison Park Theater have made arrangements whereby the people of Fort Wayne will have an opportunity of seeing this versatile comedian in their own city, but owing to the extra cost of this attraction (which amount in itself is as much as the general cost of one week's attraction at the Park Theater) it has been found necessary to make the price of seats during that week as follows: Box seats, 50c each; first ten rows, 25c each; next ten rows, 15c each; general admission, 10c. In addition to the above attraction the bill will include four other high-class acts. Reserved seats for the above week are now on sale at Al. Alter's cigar store, southwest corner Calhoun and Main streets.

GENERAL ORDINANCE NO. 173.

An ordinance authorizing the employment of certain officers, clerks, assistants and employes, fixing the compensations, salaries and wages of such officers, clerks, assistants and employes of the city of Fort Wayne, Ind., repealing conflicting ordinances, and fixing the time when this ordinance shall take effect.

APPROPRIATION ORDINANCE NO. 186.

An ordinance appropriating $720.00 to prevention of contagious diseases account.

Respectfully,
Mayor.

Received and spread upon record.

COMMUNICATION FROM THE BOARD OF PUBLIC WORKS.

To the Honorable Mayor and Common Council.

Gentlemen: We hereby wish to report to you that the renumbering of houses along all streets in the city of Fort Wayne is about complete, and that everything will be ready to furnish the new numbers to property owners in a few days. The cost of producing the necessary plats and drawings, as well as the arranging of numbers, etc., up to the present time, has been $604.80.

Respectfully submitted,
Board of Public Works,
Per A. M. SCHMIDT, Clerk.

Received and spread upon record.

COMMUNICATION FROM COMPTROLLER.

To the Honorable Mayor and Common Council.

Gentlemen: I herewith submit to your honorable body a communication from the board of public works asking that an additional appropriation of $6,000.00 be made to maintenance and repair of streets account and hereby request that the desired appropriation be made.

I believe that the facts set forth in the communication from the board of public works are sufficient evidence that the appropriation is needed to carry on the necessary work in this department.

JOSEPH V. FOX,
Comptroller.

Referred to committee on finance.

COMMUNICATION FROM BOARD OF PUBLIC WORKS TO COMPTROLLER.

FORT WAYNE, Ind., July 8, 1901.

Mr. Joseph V. Fox, Comptroller.

Dear Sir: In order to enable our street department to perform the most necessary work that our streets will require during the balance of this year it will be necessary to materially increase the appropriation for maintenance and repair of streets account, as the amount appropriated so far is inadequate and entirely too small. This condition of things is due to the repeal of the vehicle and bicycle tax, as the funds derived from this tax were applied to this fund. To show how small the amount appropriated for this year is in comparison to the amount available in former years we wish to call your attention to the following:

During the year 1895 there was appropriated $10,000, while the vehicle tax collected amounted to $6,430.81; total, $16,430.81. In 1896 the appropriation was $3,314.36, vehicle tax, $5,775.98; total, $9,090.36.

In 1897, appropriation, $3,017.65, vehicle tax, $6,163.61; total, $9,181.26.

In 1898, appropriation, $3,200, vehicle tax, $7,009.67; total, $10,209.67.

In 1899, appropriation, $5,314.30, vehicle tax, $5,788.05; total, $13,402.35.

In 1900, appropriation, $3,562.50, vehicle tax, $7,827.85; total, $11,390.35.

For 1901 we have no receipt from the vehicle tax and only $5,000.00 appropriated, or less than one-half of the amount required annually. It must also be borne in mind that with the growth of the city and the extension of the city limits the mileage of our streets has been increased very materially during the past two or three years, thereby adding a great deal of expense to our street department and warranting an increase rather than a decrease in the annual appropriations for the street department.

We would therefore respectfully ask you to arrange for an appropriation of $5,000.00 to the maintenance and repair of street account, as that amount will be required to permit the department to perform the most important work during the next six months. The amount asked for added to the amount already appropriated will still be considerably less than the amount required by the department during the past two years.

By order of the board of public works.
A. M. SCHMIDT, Clerk.

COMMUNICATION.

FORT WAYNE, Ind., June 21, 1901.

To the Common Council.

Gentlemen: Some time ago we were granted a franchise for a street railroad from the corporate limits on New Haven avenue in a northerly direction to the bridge across the Maumee river on Walton avenue, then along said avenue to Lake avenue, thence west to Columbia avenue, and thence along Columbia street to Calhoun street. This franchise we did not accept. We thought, and still think, it is not right that we should be compelled to go through Lakeside in order to get to and from New Haven. We respectfully ask your honorable body to grant us the franchise over the route designated by the board of public works. It is the nearest and we think one that will be acceptable to a large majority of citizens that would like to see the town of New Haven and the city of Fort Wayne connected by an electric road.

Respectfully yours,
H. F. SCHNELKER,

C. W. ORR,

COMMUNICATION.

FORT WAYNE, Ind., June 26 1901.

To the Mayor and Common Council.

Gentlemen: The undersigned respectfully states that on the 13th day of February, 1899, the county treasurer sold the following described real estate belonging to the city of Fort Wayne for delinquent taxes: Sub. four (4), space between river and Duck street, for the sum of $38.81. That said taxes was a lien upon the property prior to the time that it was purchased by the city of Fort Wayne and hence the said land is liable for said taxes. That said property was purchased by the undersigned and a certificate of purchase issued to it by the auditor of Allen county. That said certificate of purchase is now owned by the said undersigned. However, the undersigned is willing to have said amount refunded it with six per cent (6) interest, which would amount to $10.14.

Wherefore, your petitioner asks that said amount be refunded it.

REPORT OF COMMITTEE ON FINANCE.

To the Mayor and Common Council.

Gentlemen: Your committee on finance, to whom was referred the ordinance appropriating fifty ($50.00) dollars to public light account for the purpose of locating and operating an electric street light at the intersection of Baker and Harrison streets, respectfully wish to report that we believe it to be of great importance and necessity that a light be located at this point and would therefore respectfully report in favor of passing the ordinance.

REPORT OF COMMITTEE ON FINANCE.

To the Honorable Mayor and Common Council.

Your committee on finance to whom was referred a communication from the Western Gas Construction company praying for the paving of East Williams street and Buchanan street from Calhoun street to Winter street wish to make the following report:

The facts set forth in aforesaid communication regarding the necessity of having Buchanan street paved we find to be true, and [illegible] is of the utmost importance to this [illegible] establishment, as well as to a great many owners of residences and other buildings located in the southeastern portion of the city, that this street be paved in order to afford them the necessary fire protection and traffic communication with the city during wet seasons of the year. We have asked the city civil engineer to give us an approximately correct estimate of the cost to the city for street and alley intersections and wings, and he reports to us that it would be about $3,700. We believe that the city should be the last one that would object to the paving of a street, especially when a pavement is as badly needed as this one on Buchanan street, and we therefore would recommend that an appropriation of $3,700 be made to the new street intersection account for the purpose of paying the city's portion of the cost of a pavement on Buchanan street from Hanna street to Winter street, thereby enabling the board of public works to proceed with this work at once.

REPORT OF COMMITTEE ON STREETS AND ALLEYS.

To the Mayor and Common Council.

Gentlemen: Your committee on streets and alleys to whom was referred the ordinance ratifying a permit granted by the board of public works to the Wabash railroad company, whereby the latter are authorized to lay an additional track across Fairfield avenue, would respectfully report that in our opinion a limit should be placed upon the time during which the rights and privileges granted by this permit may be exercised.

We, therefore, recommend that the permit be amended by inserting the following: "And upon the further condition that the rights and privileges granted by this permit shall cease and become inoperative after a period of ten years from the date of the approval of the ordinance ratifying the granting of this permit," and that when the permit is so amended the ordinance be passed.

BUFFALO, N. Y., July 1, 1901.

My Dear Sir: The exposition has set aside August 26 as "Municipal Day," and the matter of a program for its observance has been placed in charge of B. F. Gilkison, secretary of the Municipal League of America. A very interesting and noteworthy program is being thus arranged for on that day, in Music Temple, including addresses by a number of the most prominent municipal officers of the western hemisphere. It is especially the wish of the Exposition that your honor be present upon that day and we hope you will be good enough as well to bring the subject to the attention of your city authorities in such manner as may be deemed best by you. It will be a courtesy to the Exposition if you will be good enough to submit such suggestions as may seem proper and desirable to you in connection with the day.

I have the honor to be,
Very respectfully yours,

Director General.

ABOUT THE CITY HALL.

At the July meeting of the council last night all the councilmen were present excepting Griebel. There was a rather respectable sized lobby present, but nothing came up to create any excitement. The market question was supposed to have been brought up, but Councilman Baker kept quiet as a clam, with two reports in his pocket. He explained after the council meeting that the reason that he did not bring up the matter was because he was afraid he might have been defeated, but by allowing it to go over to the next meeting he knew he could carry his point and have the market moved. No matters of importance were disposed of save the authorization of the paving of Buchanan street. Other business will be found in the official proceedings published elsewhere in this issue.

E. J. O'Connell has been granted a permit to erect a dwelling house on Woodland avenue, at a cost of $3,000.

WILL BUILD A STORE.

Flick, which will be built on the lot on West Berry street, adjoining the Wellman undertaking establishment. The structure will be of brick, 40x80 feet, and will be three stories in height. The lower floor will be handsomely fitted out for the occupation of Miss Flick, the florist, and the upper rooms will be used for offices, and a lodge room. In the rear of the building a greenhouse 40x40 feet will be built. A small brick house now occupying the lot will be torn down at once to make way for the new building.

Of course, "Smiling Pete" can't pitch all the games, but he can win most of them to a certainty. After that awful drubbing Fort Wayne got at Toledo, it did not look as though there would be much hope of winning any consolation prizes from the heavy hitters at Wheeling, but that is where the good guesers got fooled. The first game with the Nailmakers resulted in a victory for Fort Wayne, with Daniels in the box, off whom only four hits were made in eleven innings, and none during the last nine innings of the game. That comes pretty near pitching some. In addition to his low hit record, he struck out fourteen men, and when it is remembered that this was against the hardest hitting club in the league, it must be admitted that the old war horse was setting a pace for all of them. A perusal of the appended box score will show that the game throughout was one of the best played in the association this year:

NOTES OF THE GAME.

An article on "How a Ball Player Steals Bases" has appeared in the Chicago Record-Herald and Cincinnati Enquirer. The Chicago paper credits Frank Chance with the authorship and the Cincinnati paper says "Wahoo Sam" Crawford wrote it.

Toledo Times: "Fuller and Mullin, the Toledo players, who are with Fort Wayne, are developing into good players. Fuller is one of the best catchers in the league, as he is a good backstop, and is hitting a pretty good clip. Mullin leads the Fort Wayne team in batting, and is pitching steady, consistent ball. Nattress is playing short with all his old-time speed. He is one of the most accurate throwers in the business, and if he could hit he would be a star."

Indianapolis News: "Pete Daniels is keeping up his brilliant work with Fort Wayne. With a fielding team like Indianapolis behind him he would scarcely lose a game in a month, as he makes opposing batsmen hit the ball and expects the men behind him to do the rest. Indianapolis has no double-wrap on the Western association pennant."

Messrs. Watkins and Rauschaupt, owners of the Indianapolis base ball club and franchise, are discouraged over the base ball outlook in that city, and after a consultation have announced that unless the patronage improves the club will be either transferred or disbanded. The latter course is the more probable, as there is no other city convenient to the circuit that could support a team. The Indianapolis fans are taking the example of the Louisville fans and boycotting Western association ball because they think it is not fast enough. In the general shake-up of leagues next season Indianapolis and Louisville both hope to land in what they consider "fast" company.

THE MARKETS.

Chicago, July 10.—Strength in cables and also in northwestern markets caused a firmer opening in wheat today. Trading was light with commission houses the best buyers. September opened ½c to ½c higher at 64⅛c to 64⅜c and advanced to 64¾c. Northwest receipts were 199 cars, against 138 cars last week and 165 a year ago. Local receipts were 66 cars, with 27 of contract grade.

Corn opened excited and strong on the weather conditions. There was an enormous demand and a limited supply. Later the market quieted down and prices eased off on profit-taking. September opened ⅝@¾c to ⅛@1c higher at 49¾c to 50c, advanced to 50⅝c and reacted to 49⅞c. Receipts were 195 cars, 28 of contract grade.

In sympathy with corn and on poor crop prospects oats opened strong. September opened ¼@⅜c to ⅝@¾c higher at 30¾c to 31⅛c, advanced to 31⅜c and reacted to 30⅝c. Receipts were 48 cars.

Provisions opened higher on strength in corn and on higher prices for hogs. September pork started 10@25c higher at $14.10@14.15. Lard opened 12½c to 17½c higher at $8 65 to $8.70. Ribs were 5c higher at $7.92½@7.95.

THE DAY ON WALL STREET.

New York, July 10.—Opening prices of stocks were better than last night, being assisted by an active demand in London for St. Paul, Union Pacific and Atchison. The opening prices of these stocks here were not up to the London parity and the tendency was reactionary after the opening. St. Paul after opeing a point fell back 1¼. St. Louis and San Francisco second preferred showed a gain of 1½.

The relapse in prices was soon checked by good demand for Louisville, St. Paul, Union Pacific, Southern Pacific and Sugar, which sold 1@1⅝ above yesterday's close. Stocks of local corporations were also absorbed heavily and advanced from 1 to 3 points with Manhattan leading. Recoveries elsewhere were small and considerable United States Steel, Atchison, Erie and Amalgamated Copper were offered on the rise. Lackawanna jumped 5 points on a few transactions. The leading stocks yielded again to the extent of a point for Louisville, St. Paul, Missouri Pacific, Manhattan, New York Central and Baltimore and Ohio.

Heaviness developed all around on the announcement of a gold export engagement of $750,000. Professional traders argued that this withdrawal from the small reserves of the banks would produce a firmer market and they put out short lines of the active stocks, causing reactions running to 2⅛@3⅜ points. Manhattan, Atchison, St. Paul, Rock Island, Union Pacific and Baltimore and Ohio scored the largest declines. General Electric improved 5⅛.

Bonds were easier.

WHERE COFFEE CAME FROM

There is extant a tale of the discovery of coffee, a story which might have suggested to Charles Lamb the idea for his "Dissertation on Roast Pig." This is the legend, says the Chicago Chronicle:

Toward the middle of the fifteenth century a poor Arab was traveling in Abyssinia, and finding himself weak and weary from fatigue he stopped near a grove. Then, being in want of fuel to cook his rice, he cut down a tree, which happened to be full of dead berries. His meal being cooked and eaten, the traveler discovered that the half-burned berries were very fragrant. Collecting a number of these and crushing them with a stone, he found that their aroma had increased to a great extent. While wondering at this he accidentally let fall the substance into a can which contained his scant supply of water. Lo! what a miracle! The almost putrid liquid was instantly purified. He brought it to his lips; it was fresh, agreeable, and in a moment after the traveler had so far recovered his strength and energy as to be able to resume his journey.

The lucky Arab gathered as many berries as he could, and, having arrived at Arden, in Arabia, he informed the mufti of his discovery. This worthy divine was an inveterate opium smoker, who had been suffering for years from the effects of that poisonous drug. He tried an infusion of the roasted berries and was so delighted at the recovery of his own vigor that, in gratitude to the tree, he called it cahuah, which in Arabic signifies force.

Consul Mahin, of Reichenberg, says that, according to a report from Brussels, a Belgian engineer by the name of Tobiansky has discovered a method by which smoke can be turned into light. In operating his device the inventor collects the smoke from any kind of a fire and forces it into a receiver. It is then saturated with hydrocarburet, and a brilliant light results.

CONSTIPATION

"I have gone 14 days at a time without a movement of the bowels, not being able to move them except by using hot water injections. Chronic constipation for seven years placed me in this terrible condition, during that time I did everything in my power to better myself, but of such was my case until I began using CASCARETS. I now have from one to three passages a day and if I was able I would give CAS. for each movement, it is such a relief. SAMUEL HUNT,

SHOP AND RAIL

PITTSBURG SHOPMEN PUSHING FIELD DAY PROGRAM ALONG.

PROMISE MAGNIFICENT SPORT

EVENTS AND PRIZES WILL BE GREATER THAN LAST YEAR.

SENDING OUT BIG DYNAMOS

THE ELECTRIC COMPANY PREPARING TO INSTALL PLANTS.

The Pittsburg shopmen held another meeting yesterday to further discuss the proposed field day events to be given August 10. The men take much more interest in the event than was taken last year or any previous year and this interest does not appear to be confined to the shopmen Athletes generally are interesting themselves in the affair and there will be no lack of entries in all the contests which are open to the public. Tonight the men will complete their organization by electing John Dalman, jr., president of the temporary association. They will also take such other action for the advancement of the affair as they may deem necessary. It is understood that the prizes offered at the Decoration day bicycle contests and not awarded because of some dispute as to who should receive them, will be put up as prizes in the coming contest. These have a value of $112 and will well repay the winner for his trouble and expense in training and competing for them. At last night's meeting committees were appointed and the events crudely mapped out, though the following arrangement is subject to change at the will of the committees up to the date of the official announcement of the various contests:

220-yard dash, open.
220-yard relay, half mile run.
Putting 16 pound shot.
Throwing hammer.
Half mile run.
Half, one, two, five and ten mile bicycle races. The two and ten mile races will be open.
Hop, step and jump.
Standing broad and high jumps.
Running broad and high jumps.
Tug of war.

Refreshments—Frank Burns, chairman; E. Tierney, Pat Bresnahan, T. B. O'Connel, J. Nebelhaur, William Horstman, jr., F. Wefel, Cornelius Cooper, W. F. O'Conner and W. F. Jacobs.

Track Events—John Dalman, chairman; Charles Porter, E. S. Turner, Donald McDonald, Randolph Breese.

Reception Committee—To be named later.

The officials of the races are: Field marshal, W. J. Niezer; clerk of course, William S. Wells; time keepers, Larry Randall, Harry Meyer. Henry Koehlinger, John Kaiser. An experienced starter will be brought here.

SPECIAL TRAINS.

The western division of the Pittsburg will have two excursion parties to handle tomorrow. Both will be special trains. The Eighth Ohio National Guards, en route to the encampment at Toledo, will pass over the Pittsburg from Alliance to Bucyrus and a Wabash Sunday school will have an excursion to Winona.

INCREASING ELECTRIC PLANT.

The enterprising city of Bryan, Ohio, is about to make some important improvements to its already extensive electric light plant. This morning two dynamos, 100-light arc and 1,000-light incandescent respectively, left the electric works in this city for Bryan for that plant, and a construction man will go there tomorrow to install the machinery. Another shipment from the works today was a 100-light arc machine to New Philadelphia, Ohio, where a plant is being installed by the Fort Wayne Electric company.

AGAINST PRIVATE CARS.

At the meeting of the Central Passenger association today at Cambridge Springs some action was taken governing the hauling of special cars. The railroads dislike hauling private cars of higher officials around the country, and some of the privileged class are now learning to ride in Pullmans and to be less exclusive than they have been heretofore. The idea is to restrict the practice until it disappears entirely. Trains are now so heavy and run at so high speed that one or two private cars often makes it difficult to make fast schedules.

HAVE NEW MACHINERY.

The Perrine-Armstrong lumber mills in this city will be equipped with entirely new machinery. The company has disposed of its mill and machinery at Huntington to W. E. Bartlett, a former partner in the concern, and Mr. Bartlett will continue the business in Huntington. It had been the intention of the company to remove the machinery to the mills here, but Mr. Bartlett's offer was a good one and it was decided to accept it and equip the new mills here with entirely new machinery.

MURRAY MEN'S PICNIC.

The employes of the Kerr Murray works have selected Saturday as the date for their annual excursion and picnic and Rome City the place for holding the affair. The matter was settled at a meeting of the men yesterday, when the following committee of arrangements was appointed: Michael Huntine, William DeHart, Leonard Blue, William Weil, Louis Schwartzkopf and Frank J. Fink. They will have a special train, which will leave the south depot at 8 o'clock in the morning and the resort on the return trip at 9 o'clock at night. The sports at the resort, which have not yet been fully provided for, will include a ball game, tug of war and dancing, and for the latter purpose the Barner orchestra will furnish the music.

A new employe at the Bass machine shop is H. G. Harber, who went to work there this morning.

Conductor G. M. Sauer, of the Nickel Plate, is taking a lay off to attend to some private business.

Albert Hild, of Chicago, who has been visiting Henry Bandau for several days, has returned to his home.

The Cincinnati, Hamilton and Dayton company will soon place an order for 500 cars of 70,000 pounds per capacity.

J. B. Frye, passenger conductor on the Grand Rapids and Indiana road, has resumed his duties. He has been ill for six weeks.

Nickel Plate Engineer John Wells took his son to Chicago this morning to receive treatment from the specialist who is attending the lad.

Henry Auth, Michael Himbert and J. Reed left this morning over the Wabash for Mt. Clemens, where they will remain a week or two.

Ernest Rehling, machinist at the Pittsburg shops, is taking a lay off pending treatment for injured eyes. He got some brass fillings in the optics.

Adolph Sanders has taken a clerical position at the Kerr Murray offices and the following men have been added to the force in the shops: Charles Lamle, Bert Todd, George Carroll, Arthur Regel, Ernest Scott, M. S. Malcom, Lawrence Braun, W. C. Siemann, Harry Siemann and George Hoffman.

Miss Anna McDonald, of Warren, Ind., who had been visiting Yardmaster and Mrs. W. E. Rowe for two or three weeks, returned to her home today.

Nickel Plate Fireman C. H. Brown has taken a two weeks' lay off for the purpose of visiting Burkett, Ind., and attending to some private business there.

The San Francisco Chronicle says R. Koehler will on August 1 retire as manager of the Southern Pacific lines in Oregon and the position will be abolished.

Patrolman John Neufer, of the Pittsburg, is lame as a result of a misstep yesterday by which one of his ankles was sprained. He is on duty, however.

Boilermaker J. J. Crawford, of the Pittsburg shops, has joined a party of young men for a week's camping out at Rome City. They went up to the resort this morning.

H. Moore, who has been station agent of the Michigan Central road at Lake Station, Ind., for twenty years, has resigned and purchased a home near Riverside, Ill.

John Buckley, who resigned a position in the Bass blacksmith shops last Friday, as noted last week in The Sentinel, has taken a position as fireman on the Nickel Plate.

Some new machinery is about to be placed in the Pittsburg machine shop, one piece being a lathe much larger than any now in service in that department of the shops.

W. H. Ellis has returned from Fremont, where he spent five or six weeks with relatives and friends. He is a Nickel Plate fireman and has resumed his duties on that road.

J. S. Rogers, founder of the Rogers locomotive works in Paterson, N. J., who died on July 2, was reported to be worth $7,000,000. He sold his interest in the works ten years ago.

William Willesey and Otto Lescher, "pullers" for Thomas Quinlan, of the armature department of the electric works, have resigned. James Mulhearn has been assigned to one of the positions.

Walter Erickson, a Nickel Plate brakeman, was taken with acute indigestion yesterday afternoon just as he was about to leave upon his regular run out. Another brakeman had to take the place in the crew.

Yesterday Engineer Wills and Fireman Bates, with engine 127, went to Donalson to take part in the work of cutting down the hill at that point and thus eliminating a seventeen-foot grade on the Pittsburg road.

E. B. Champion, an operator who recently came here to work in the Nickel Plate offices, has brought his family to the city and yesterday they moved into a comfortable house on Howell street, in the western part of the city.

V. P. Kohlman, the Nickel Plate fireman who was married recently in Ohio, is taking a lay off for the purpose of getting ready for housekeeping. F. W. Delster, another Nickel Plate fireman, is taking a lay off for recreation.

Frank Schrantz, of Hartford City, is in the city visiting his mother on Melita street. This is the young man whose bravery saved the paper plant at that place from destruction by fire a short time ago. He was severely burned.

Oscar Collis, a son of the well-known machinist, Adam Collis, of the Pittsburg shops, has taken a position in the Pittsburg round house, where he was employed a few months ago, but was released when traffic on the road fell off for the spring.

W. R. Woodford, president of the Cleveland, Lorain and Wheeling, is authority for stating that it is the intention of the company to double the track of the road. This road has an enormous traffic and ranks third in earnings per mile operated among Ohio railways.

F. M. Chambaugh is sick and H. C. Kammeyer and S. Entrodacker are off duty for unknown reasons, probably sickness. L. Hartstein, A. Zollinger and A. Kruckenberg are off duty to look after private affairs. All are employed in the Pittsburg shops.

Indianapolis Journal: "In this era of railroad consolidation it need not be a surprise if the Hocking Valley and its subsidary companies are soon acquired by some one of the large systems. It would be valuable property for the Big Four, the Wabash or even the Pennsylvania."

News at the Pittsburg yards is to the effect that James Young, one of the switchmen there, was married yesterday at Upper Sandusky, Ohio, to Miss Fannie Boughton, who is a sister to Mrs. M. C. Cooper. Mr. and Mrs. Young have gone to Buffalo for a brief sojourn and upon their return here they will be at home to friends at No. 1 Reed street.

The Erie Railway company has shown a more liberal spirit in framing a basis of age limit than most roads that have adopted the "age lock-out" plan, and while its operation keeps many able-bodied men out of service whose experience and ability contributed much to the good of the company, it leaves the door open to a large number who may be considered in the prime of life. The company will not now employ any person over forty-five years of age. Most of the roads make thirty-five years the limit.

SIDE TRACKED!

Left With the Conviction that there is Not Power to go Ahead---It May be Mind Confusion or Muscle Weakness---Waning Strength or Prostration---How Fort Wayne People Right Themselves.

The business man who finds himself deprived of the usual business force. The working man or woman who finds ordinary labor prohibited—are side tracked—it may come by the way of sleepless nights, languor, flagging appetite, poor digestion, easily excited, trembling hands and limbs, loss of muscular power—numbness, fluttering, palpitating heart—all point to the one great cause—lack of nerve force. To restore it requires the influence of the great discovery, Dr. A. W. Chase's Nerve Pills, and that is the secret of their wonderful success—they win strength for depleted organs.

Mrs. J. Laemmle, of No. 52 Barr St., Fort Wayne, Ind., says: "From a faithful use of Dr. A. W. Chase's Nerve Pills in my house with a relative whose stomach was very weak and would hardly retain food when eaten, though hungry all the time and the results obtained in the making strong of the stomach and indigestion again, with an ability to retain food eaten, I can recommend the medicine to others affected in a like manner as reliable, safe, certain and easy of action. Meyer Bros. & Co., of No. 14 Calhoun St., are to be recommended for introducing them."

Slow Healing Sores

With rich, pure, strong blood one is never troubled with sores or ulcers. A cut or any injury to the flesh heals in a few days, nature supplying the healing balm in the form of healthy, new blood; but when the circulation is tainted with poisonous germs, humors or any effete matter, a slight scratch or abrasion of the skin becomes a festering sore, tiny pimples grow to be boils, swollen joints and inflamed glands often break out into offensive, slow healing sores. A polluted blood is always a menace to health; not only does it keep the skin in a chronic state of inflammation, but every organ and fibre of the body suffers from an impure and sluggish circulation. You never feel well, you are not and never can be well until the system is relieved of its terrible load of impurities. With the blood so contaminated, so deeply poisoned, ulcers, boils and sores of every kind are apt to become chronic and often develop into Cancer.

Sores and ulcers are most often caused by poverty of the blood and a weak and slow circulation, brought on by long continued sickness, malarial poisoning, torpid liver, the use of mercury, or whatever is calculated to destroy the vitality of the blood and break down the constitution. These old chronic sores last sometimes for years, eating into the flesh, muscles, tissues, and even down into the bones, and are such a tax upon the system that it is hard for the patient to recuperate, and a simple malady often proves fatal.

I became afflicted with a severe sore leg and from the knee to the foot was one solid sore, which was very offensive. I spent over $1,000 on two trips to Hot Springs, and local physicians treated me to no purpose. I had about decided to have my leg amputated, when a friend induced me to try S. S. S. I began to take your medicine, and in the short space of seven months it has completely and thoroughly cured me. My leg is a witness today as to what S. S. S. will do when taken regularly. The sore has healed entirely and my health has improved wonderfully. I have already gained 20 pounds.
J. B. TALBERT,
Box 245. Winona, Miss.

Nothing so quickly or surely restores lost strength and vitality to the blood as S. S. S. It is an antidote for the severest forms of Blood Poison, as well as the irritating humors that cause the eruptions and sores that sap your very life and so greatly disfigure you. S. S. S. is the only guaranteed purely vegetable blood purifier. It contains no mercury, potash, arsenic or other hurtful drug. It cleanses the blood and purifies the circulation, thus ridding the system of the impurities that keep the sores feverish and painful. At the same time your general health improves under the tonic effects of S. S. S., and the skin becomes soft, smooth and healthy. If you are troubled with boils, carbuncles, sores or eruptions of any sort, write our physicians all about your case; don't risk your own judgment when you can get medical advice from experienced doctors free. The democratic party pledges its efforts to relieve them of the burdens which class legislation has laid upon them." On the subject of republican responsibility, it is declared "the republican party always has upheld class interests, and cannot be trusted to deal with evils of its own creation." On "boss rule, etc.," the party pledges itself to "rescue our government from the grasp of selfishness and corruption and restore it to its former fairness, purity and simplicity."

"Widespread corruption," the article declares, "now threatens our free institutions and menaces the destruction of public virtues."

Under the caption, "The Boers," the platform says:

"The obvious sympathy of the national administration with the British government in its efforts to destroy the South African republics and the policy which has made the ports of the United States a basis of supplies for the British army, without which the war could not be successfully carried on, are condemned by the democracy of Ohio."

The reading of the Johnson planks on taxation were loudly applauded

BEAT BRYAN RESOLUTION.

W. L. Finley offered a substitute for the preamble, reaffirming the Kansas City platform and expressing continued confidence in W. J. Bryan. He said he wanted to ascertain whether this was a democratic convention and whether the Ohio democrats were looking backward. Finley's motion was overwhelmingly defeated. When the resolutions were adopted there were again three cheers for Tom Johnson.

Order of nominations was then reached. When Clark county was reached Judge F. M. Hogan, of Springfield, presented the name of John L. Zimmerman. M. A. Daugherty, of Lancaster, presented the name of Col. James Kilbourne, of Columbus.

BY ACCLAMATION.

Zimmerman then withdrew his name and moved the nomination of Kilbourne by acclamation. This carried with repeated cheers and a demonstration lasting several minutes ensued. John E. Zimmerman, L. G. Bernard and E. M. Heisley escorted Kilbourne to the hall. Then there was more cheering. The nominee accepted in an address of some length on pending issues. For lieutenant governor the names of John F. Cassady, mayor of Bellefontaine, and Anthony Howells, of Massillon, were presented. Just before the ballot was completed Cassady's name was withdrawn and Howells was nominated by acclamation.

HEAT RECORD FOR CHICAGO.

Chicago, July 10.—Today was the hottest day ever recorded in Chicago, the mercury in the weather tower showing 100½ degrees, while thermometers on the street were from 2 to 4 degrees hotter. Up to 2 o'clock there were no prostrations. A dry southwest wind kept the humidity at a low point.

SHOWS BETTER SPEED.

Rothesay, Firth of Clyde, July 10.—Another open water trial of the Shamrocks was started at about 11 o'clock this morning off Bogany Point, Island of Bute. The challenger allowed the older boat to get well away to windward, and several lengths ahead, thus permitting her to get the first of the fresher off-shore wind. The Shamrock I. maintained all her advantage to Kilcattan, but the challenger then picked up rapidly and passed the ex-challenger clear to leeward after a clever bit of sailing.

Relief trains were started from Slater at 10 a. m. and from Kansas City at 12:30 p. m., each carrying a corps of physicians.

GOING AT HIGH SPEED.

The trains collided while going at a rapid rate. Both engines were demolished and the forward cars telescoped.

Both engineers, the freight conductor and Baggagegman Racer were killed outright, as were three passengers. Most of the damage appears to have been done in the combination smoker following the baggage car, these cars being pushed into the space of one car by the terrific impact of the collision. Among the passengers was B. L. McClain, general agent of the passenger department in Kansas City of the Chicago and Alton railroad. Mr. McClain escaped unhurt and immediately after the crash set about organizing systematic relief.

In a message to the local office McClain recites simply the fact of the wreck, adding that the train took fire soon after the collision and that at the time his message was sent the cars were burning. Nothing has been received from him since, and at the office of the superintendent of the road it is stated that owing to the confusion at the scene it has been impossible to obtain details. The dead will be brought to Kansas City about 3 o'clock. The injured will be taken temporarily to Marshall, the next station west.

BARNS WERE AFIRE.

At 1:30 o'clock this afternoon the fire department was called to the north side, where a lively blaze had gotten a headway in the barn at the rear of the home of Henry Engelking, 82 North Harrison street. The structure burned furiously and sent great clouds of black smoke upward, leading many to fear that an extensive blaze was in progress. The Engelking barn was totally burned, as well as a similar structure across the alley and owned by Peter Case. A shed on the adjoining premises of Charles Figel was badly scorched, as were also several others in the vicinity—at least six suffering from the blaze. The origin of the fire is unknown. The loss will not exceed $300.

UNLAWFULLY TOOK REMAINS

GARRETT UNDERTAKER WHO WAS TOO FAST.

The death of Charles Campbell, of Garrett, yesterday afternoon, at the home of W. H. Arney, near the Driving park, brought about a disagreeable series of circumstances, which, however, were wholly due to the officiousness of an undertaker from Garrett. After the death, Schoene & Veith, Fort Wayne undertakers, were called and they took charge of the body and subjected it to the usual preliminary treatment for burial. This morning at 3 o'clock an undertaker from Garrett arrived with a hearse, having driven over, and took charge of the remains and proceeded to remove them to Garrett for burial, in spite of the remonstrations of the people of the house. The Garrett undertaker insisted that he knew what he was doing and went away with the body. Schoene & Veith had no selfish interest, but reported the fact the county health officer, and that official presented the matter to Sheriff Stout, insisting that the body be returned to this county, as it is clearly and plainly against the law to remove a body from the county without a death certificate, properly signed by the county health officer. Sheriff Stout telephoned Sheriff Hathaway, of Auburn, relating the circumstances, and this afternoon received a reply saying that the Garrett undertaker would return to this county with the body this evening.

The Hibernian Rifles will take an outing next Sunday, going into camp on Reilley's dairy farm. They will march out at 7 a. m. and will break camp at 6 p. m. to return to the city. They will have a morning and afternoon drill and dress parade in the evening, and if it is not too hot, the army regulations will be mixed up with a game of base ball.

James Lonergan, foreman of The Sentinel bindery, continues critically ill at his home on Erie street. A slight improvement noted in his condition in the early part of the week has disappeared and today his suffering is unusually acute.

KILBOURNE LEADS

NOMINATED BY ACCLAMATION

DOWLING MEN ARE UNSEATED

PLATFORM JOHNSONESQUE ON STATE ISSUES.

Columbus, Ohio, July 10.—Col. James Kilbourne, of Columbus, was today nominated for governor of Ohio by the democratic state convention here. A platform was adopted that on national issues embodies the conservatism of the McLean faction and state issues sets forth the taxation views of the Tom L. Johnson element. A resolution reaffirming the Kansas City platform and expressing renewed confidence in William J. Bryan was overwhelmingly voted down.

PECULIAR CIRCUMSTANCES.

The convention convened here today under peculiar circumstances. All the more conservative elements had combined in the preliminaries against the friends of Mayor Tom L. Johnson, of Cleveland, but the combination was not maintained after the committees were selected, and during the all-night session of the committee on resolutions it was claimed the McLean and Kilbourne men were no longer co-operating against the propositions of the Johnson men on the platform and organization. The contest was in the committee on resolutions and on both national and state issues.

Johnson men won on their favorite views on state matters and the others on national issues.

There is no re-affirmation of the Kansas City or any other platform. There is no mention of previous platforms or of Bryan. The sub-committee of seven that drafted the platform stood four to three in favor of the conservatives, but the full committee rejected both the majority and the minority reports and then picked out such parts of each as were voted in section by section. The full committee did not stand the same on all sections of the planks. The three planks of the Johnson men on franchises, steam and electric railways and corporation taxation were adopted as amendments.

The majority report of the sub-committee, and then the resolutions as amended, were adopted so the minority report of the sub-committee practically became the majority report of the full committee and things generally were reversed.

Previous to the assembling of the convention today there was unusual agitation among the delegates.

C. P. Salen, a member of Johnson's cabinet, had been continued as permanent chairman and other friends of Johnson had secured the taxation resolutions wanted. There was much talk about the Kilbourne and McLean men having differences, but it became evident later on that the Johnson men had won on the taxation issues without any other changes.

The convention was not called to order until nearly 11 o'clock by Chairman Brucker. Prayer was offered by Rev. John Hewitt.

Hon. Charles P. Salen was heartily cheered when he was introduced as temporary chairman.

A BITTER WRANGLE.

There was a long and bitter wrangle over a motion to seat the Dowling delegates from Montgomery county, the minority report of the credentials committee being adopted. Much surprise was evinced at the action of the Hamilton county delegation in voting almost solidly with the Johnson forces, as Dowling had been recognized as one of the McLean leaders.

Ex-Congressman J. F. Fillette reported in favor of making permanent the temporary organization. This was adopted. Chairman Salen acknowledged the honor with a bow.

Hon. M. A. Daugherty then reported the resolutions, which were adopted.

THE PLATFORM.

The report submitted by the committee on resolutions contained nearly two thousand words. It consists of a preamble and sixteen articles under the following heads:

Municipal governments, taxation, conduct of state affairs, etc., people's rights, tariff reform, monopolies, merchant marine, imperialism and expansion, the Boers, Monroe doctrine, the navy, civil service, election of senators, agriculture and labor, republican responsibility, and boss rule and political corruption. The preamble follows:

"The democrats of Ohio reaffirm their belief in the equality of taxation and other public burdens; their advocacy of the equal rights of all people with special privileges to none; their hostility to the monopolization of industry, with its tendency, on the one hand, to crush out individual enterprise, and, on the other, to promote a socialistic spirit among the people as the only refuge from oppression; and their faith in that theory and practice of constitutional government which brought the nation into existence and has preserved it to the present generation."

The subjects above mentioned are then taken up. It is declared that the municipalities of the state should be radically reformed. The denial of home rule is declared to have fostered special legislation and the imposition of burdensome taxes. It is demanded that no franchise, extension or renewal thereof shall hereafter be granted except upon vote of the people. On the subject of taxation the platform says:

"The acceptance of free passes or other favors from railroads by public officers or employes shall be made adequate grounds for vacating the offices held by them. All public service corporations shall be required by law to make sworn public reports, and the power and duty of visitation and public report shall be conferred upon the proper state and local auditing officers, to the end that the true value of the privileges held by these corporations shall be made plain to the people.

"Steamship, railroad and other corporations possessing public franchises shall be assessed in the same proportion to their saleable value as are farms and city real estate.

"The proceedings of the republican majority of the state board of equalization are a scandal. Property values, instead of being equalized, were increased or diminished at the dictation of political bosses, pursuant to corrupt combinations and conspiracies."

Regarding the conduct of state affairs the republican administration and the republican majority of the general assembly are denounced.

Centralization, "which would destroy the rights of the people," is condemned.

Tariff reform is demanded on the ground that the production of the country far exceeds its power of consumption.

The enactment and rigorous enforcement of measures to prevent monopolies and combinations in restraint of trade and commerce is demanded, as is also the suppression of all trusts and a return to "industrial freedom." As a means to that end the platform declares that all trust products should be placed on the free list and the government should exercise a more rigid supervision of transportation. Restoration of the merchant marine is favored, without subsidies, however.

On the subject of imperialism and expansion, the platform says:

"Powers granted the federal government were not meant to be used to conquer or hold in subjection the people of other countries.

"The democratic party opposes any extention of the national boundaries not meant to carry speedily to all inhabitants full, equal rights with ourselves. If these are unfitted by location, race or character, to be formed into self-governing territories, and then incorporated into the union of states, they should be permitted to work out their own destiny.

"Only territorial expansion demanded by the national welfare and the national safety is at any time to be favored—the objection which should have prevented certain of our recent accessions being that they imperil the national safety without promoting the national welfare; tend to embroil us with European powers, weaken our claim to supremacy on the American continent and furnish a dangerous opportunity and temptation for the disregard of the self-evident truth of universal application, that governments derive their just power from the consent of the governed."

Maintenance of the Monroe doctrine is demanded; a navy adequate to the protection of American citizens and property the world over; election of senators by direct vote, and the right of labor to combine for the assertion of its rights and the protection of its interests. It is declared that the burdens of the "unjust and discriminating laws for which the republican party is responsible, fall chiefly on those who till the soil or labor at other forms of production.

BOY AND GIRL HELD UNDER BOND

State Causes Detention of Del Reed and Marie Sampleton as Witnesses in Cothrell Murder---The Developments.

Marie Sampleton and Ira Reed, domestic and hired man, who were in the employ of Charles Dunn at Wallen, were locked up in the Allen county jail in default of bonds of $2,000 each, held as witnesses in the Cothrell murder case. Neither knows of the presence of the other behind the bars of the jail, nor does Dunn know that steps have been taken to insure the presence of the witnesses when wanted.

The young lady was found at 8 o'clock Tuesday evening at the home of Will Dunn, on East Third street, and the young man had driven to Wallen to feed the stock and was preparing to return to the city when the officers arrived. Both insisted that they knew nothing more than had been told at the coroner's inquest.

The determination to hold the witnesses was reached by Coroner Barnett and Prosecutor Emrick after a visit to Wallen Tuesday afternoon, where a number of discoveries were made which the prosecution deems of great importance in the case.

IN THE SWEAT-BOX.

Both witnesses were closely questioned for more than an hour each at the county jail this morning, and while the officials will not disclose all they learned, it is stated that both the boy and girl remembered considerably more than they were able to do at the inquest and the officers say admissions were made this morning of facts and circumstances that were absolutely denied at the coroner's examination on Tuesday. The officers believe they know still more and that they will eventually disclose more information of grave importance.

At Wallen Tuesday afternoon it was reported to the officers that Reed stated to a Mrs. Madden there that he hadn't told all he knew and didn't propose to; that the officers were trying to pump him, but could not. Today when the officers pinned him down to this statement Reed admitted having had a conversation with Mrs. Madden about the case, but claimed that he simply told her he "didn't tell all he thought." This explanation does not satisfy the officers and they are confident of bringing some new information to light before the date of the preliminary hearing.

Marie Sampleton appears to be much unnerved by her detention and the officers say she materially added this morning to her information as given at the inquest, though they declined to go into details concerning the new admissions. Coroner Barnett says she admitted, among other things, that Dunn had made improper advances toward her, but that she had repelled him and had struck him over the head with a dipper.

HELD UNDER BONDS.

The officers say they had reason to believe these two witnesses might not be present when they were needed and the determination to hold

MAY UNIONIZE TEACHERS.

Milwaukee, July 10. Proposed unionizing of the school teachers of the country into champions of the cause of labor formed the basis of the report which Mayor Agar, of Fairbury, Ill., made to the national convention of glass bottle blowers today. The report declared that the text books used in the public schools teach erroneous ideas regarding labor, and proposed three objects for the teachers' unions, as follows: To use only those text books bearing the union label; to endeavor to add text books which looked upon labor problems from the laboring standpoint; to increase the teachers' wages.

A TOWN WIPED OUT BY A CLOUDBURST

Helena, Mont., July 10.—A cloudburst is reported to have almost destroyed the town of Corbin, twenty miles south of Helena. No loss of life has yet been reported, but it is thought escape for the inhabitants was impossible. Corbin is situated close to a line of foothills of the Rockies. During the night a terrific storm prevailed. Water rushed down the hills in dense volumes and in a short time the large Peck concentrator was partially wrecked. Houses were torn from their foundations and reduced to debris. The water rose to eight feet in the principal streets and only the most substantial buildings remained in position. Traffic on the Northern Pacific and Great Northern was stopped by washouts and communication was cut off. It is estimated that the loss of the concentrator alone will run into the thousands. Residents of this city familiar with the surroundings at Corbin are of the opinion that a loss of life must have accompanied the flood.

CARNEGIE HAS $280,000,000 TO GIVE

New York, July 10.—A London dispatch to the Herald says:

Andrew Carnegie still has £56,000,000 ($280,000,000) to give away in public benefactions. Mr. Carnegie himself is authority for this statement, which he made recently at Skibo castle to a member of the New York chamber of commerce committee, who is now in this city, but wishes his name kept secret.

According to Mr. Carnegie, he is still undecided in what manner to dispose of his wealth for the public good. He wishes the public to obtain the best results from his future benefactions and for that reason has not yet formulated any philanthropic statements.

Mr. Carnegie admitted that free libraries and other educational institutions would undoubtedly obtain a portion of the millions in question, in order that the plans he had previously adopted should be fully developed. His hearers judged fro mwhat he said His hearers judged from what he said bility of directing I's wealth toward endowing and supporting art galleries, scientific museums and similar institutions.

THE SULTAN SETTLES HIS BILL

Abdul Hamid Gives up Cash in Discharge of the $95,000 Claims and the Checks are Now Safely in Washington.

Washington, July 10.—The state department has received the amount of the American indemnity claim against Turkey, $95,000, through the American legation at Constantinople.

The money was paid by the Turkish government to Mr. Leishman, our minister at Constantinople; was by him placed in the Ottoman Imperial bank and drafts remitted for the amount. These drafts have just reached Washington. As is always the case, the claims in the aggregate considerably exceed the amount of the indemnity actually paid, but our government has expressed itself satisfied with the payment. It assumes full responsibility for the distribution, the Turkish government paying down a lump sum of $95,000 and leaving it to the state department to distribute this among the claimants at its discretion and after its own fashion. It is stated that as soon as the department officials can prepare their list they will communicate directly with the claimants.

CLOSE OF GREAT CONVENTION

Cincinnati, July 10.—Today being the last day of the International Christian Endeavor convention events have been crowded in upon each other, making it really the busiest day of the meeting, which lasted five days. There was not an hour from sunrise until the time for the farewell meeting tonight but that was marked for meetings and services. The music hall auditoriums were the centers of most activity. The action of the local committee in dispensing with auditorium Ohio and consolidating the meetings scheduled to occur there today with the two meetings in auditoriums Endeavor and Williston, caused a revising of the entire program as far as speakers were concerned. The assignments to these halls were made before the convention, and as the speakers who were to have participated in auditorium Ohio are here they were included on the programs in the other two auditoriums.

The usual quiet hour meetings at the Second Presbyterian and Ninth Street Baptist churches ushered in the day's program. The Endeavorers then adjourned to the big auditoriums where the first two big meetings of the day were conducted. They were devoted to a discussion of the "Twentieth Anniversary Session."

Secretary John Willis Baer, of Boston, presided in Endeavor hall, and Bishop B. W. Arnett, of Wilberforce, Ohio, in Williston hall. After the devotional exercises six ministers were given five minutes each on Twenty Years of Christian Endeavor."

Rev. A. B. Curry, of Birmingham, Ala., then spoke on "The Element of Obligation," in the discussion of what made Christian Endeavor a success and why? Rev. John Shape, of Wilmington, Del., followed on "The Power of Testimony;" Tracy McGregor, of Detroit, "The Joy of Service;" Rev. Henry T. McEwen, of Amsterdam, N. Y., "The Spirit of Consecration," and General Secretary Willis Baer, of Boston, "The World's Christian Endeavor Union." "What Has Been Gained in Twenty Years of Christian Endeavor" was treated by Rev. George B. Stewart, of Auburn, N. Y., and Rev. J. G. Butler, of Washington, D. C.

The new field secretary, Clarence Eberman, of Lancaster, Pa., and Rev. W. S. Anent, of Pekin, China, spoke of Christian Endeavor fellowship. Rev. Harland E. Freeman, of Sheridanville, Pa., then followed in an address on the subject of "It is Interdenominational."

The farewell meetings to be held this evening will be the greatest of the day. Rev. J. Campbell Morgan, of Baltimore, and Rev. Floyd W. Thompson, of Philadelphia, are the only two speakers who will be heard. The Endeavorers will assemble in groups from each of their states, and as the roll is called, will reply with short addresses on the purposes they have in view for the extension of Christian Endeavor during the coming year.

IT IS A PITY SO FEW WOMEN

Are Entirely Free From Pelvic Catarrh.

Miss Anna Carsten, Clayton, Ill.

Miss Anna Carsten, Clayton, Ill., says: "Your Peruna did me so much good, I believe I should have been dead by this time had I not used it. I am feeling so well now. I have not taken any medicine for four or five months. I can cheerfully recommend Peruna to my friends."

Everywhere the people, especially the women, are praising Peruna as a remedy for all forms of catarrhal difficulties.

"During the past year I gradually lost flesh and strength until I was unable to perform my work properly. I tried different remedies, and finally Peruna was suggested to me. It gave me new life and strength. I cannot speak too highly of it."

The extreme sensitiveness of the mucous lining of every organ of a woman's body is well known to physicians. This explains why, in part at least, so few women are entirely free from catarrh. Peruna cures catarrh wherever it is located.

Send for free catarrh book. Address Dr. Hartman, Columbus, Ohio.

them was reached at Wallen Tuesday evening. After they had been thoroughly questioned this morning Prosecutor Emrick went into Justice France's court and asked that they be placed under bonds to appear as witnesses in the case. This was at 10:30 o'clock, and the boy and girl were brought into court separately by Deputy Sheriff Ryan. Justice France fixed the amount of bonds at $2,000 each, and as they were unable to give surety both were returned to jail.

SECOND POST MORTEM.

This afternoon, at the request of the defense, Dr. Maurice Rosenthal and Dr. G. L. Greenawalt went to Wallen to make a second post mortem examination of the remains of the dead child. The request was made to Coroner Barnett on Tuesday afternoon for permission to do so, and the coroner at once acquiesced in the right of the defense to make a complete examination. It is believed the question as to whether the lungs were filled with water or not is the principal one which the defense desires to investigate, as determining whether or not life was extinct before the body was placed in the water.

Dr. Greenwell and Dr. Barnett are both positive in their statement that there was no water in the lungs, which would indicate death previous to being placed in the water. A portion of each of the lungs was removed and placed in a sealed jar now in the possession of the coroner.

Coroner Barnett, Prosecutor Emrick and Dr. A. H. Macbeth also went to Wallen this afternoon to be present at the second post mortem at 2 o'clock.

This request of Mr. Dunn's attorney necessitated a postponement of the funeral services, which had been arranged for 10 o'clock this morning, and it is probable they will be held at the conclusion of the examination this afternoon. Among those who went to Wallen today to attend the funeral are four aunts of the dead girl—Mrs. Ellen Koontz, of Prospect avenue; Mrs. Lucinda Foust and Mrs. Jennie Richards, of 205 East Wayne street, and Mrs. Harriet Richards, of Highland and Harrison streets.

DEL REED TALKS.

Ira, familiarly known as "Del" Reed, the young man in Dunn's employ, was seen this morning at the turnkey's office in the county jail by a reporter for The Sentinel. Reed is 17 years of age and a bright-appearing young fellow, but inclined to be cutly positive in some of his statements, though he talked with apparent freedom, and stoutly maintained ignorance of any criminal circumstances in connection with the disappearance or death of Alice Cothrell.

Reed today stated that on Tuesday he was engaged at logging with Cothrell, father of the dead girl; they did not return until 9 o'clock in the evening, and unharnessed the horses and placed them in the stable; the feed was already in the boxes for them. Reaching the village Reed learnd of the disappearance of the Cothrell girl, and hurriedly eating his supper, he hitched up a rig and, together with the girl's father, drove to this city in search for her. Was not around the Dunn house five minutes after eating supper.

Edna Cothrell, an older sister, had heard somebody say Alice had said she was going to her grandmother's in the city. Cothrell and Reed drove to Fort Wayne, stopping at several farm houses along the way to make inquiries. Then notified the police and sheriff. Did not get back to Wallen until about 3 o'clock Wednesday morning. All were in bed at the Dunn home.

HUNTED FOR THE GIRL.

Reed insisted that he saw nothing about the house during the week that would tend to arouse his suspicions, and that he had himself joined several times in the search for the little girl, putting in perhaps a total of three days at this work. On Saturday evening he, with Miss Sampleton and Edna Cothrell, drove to Huntertown to see if anything had been learned there of her whereabouts. He had heard Dunn say on Saturday morning that he had searched all over the place, but had never heard him forbid anybody searching.

Reed stated that he had worked for Dunn a long time, and that they usually got along well together, though they had occasionally had a few words. Reed thought at times he was getting more than his share of the hard work, and would peremptorily refuse to do certain work ordered by Dunn. The boy had the best of the three teams and said when anything was to be done that was a snap for the team and hard on the driver, he usually got it.

When the reporter asked in regard to the conversation Reed is reported to have had with Mrs. Maddon, Reed replied:

"Ask the sheriff; he will tell you."

Reed stoutly maintained and reiterated in response to different statements of the question as put by the reporter that he had never held any conversation with Miss Sampleton concerning the disappearance of Alice Cothrell, and asserted that from the time of the disappearance of the little girl to the time of the finding of her body in Dunn's cistern he had never had any suspicion that she possibly might be found on Dunn's premises.

DENIED THE STORY.

Reed was most emphatic in his denial of the report that he had overheard any sort of plotting between Dunn and Miss Sampleton; he had never heard anything of the sort; had never heard the two in conversation regarding the little girl, and maintained that there had been so far as he could observe no suspicious actions about the Dunn home.

Dunn took excellent care of his unfortunate wife, said Reed, and the little girl was a favorite with Mrs. Dunn, who plays the organ a great deal, and Alice was in the habit of coming in and singing for her. Mrs. Dunn had not touched the organ since the finding of the little girl's body and seemed much affected at her death.

Sunday afternoon Reed says he with two or three other young men were loafing along the railroad track talking to a tramp who was bound for Michigan. Returning to the house he took a drink of water from a tin pail which Dunn had filled from the cistern just before dinner. Reed then saw a crowd of people around the grocery and went down to investigate the cause. It was the Huntertown people who came to aid in the search, and a short time later the body was recovered from the cistern. Half an hour before he had drank water drawn from the cistern. It was from a tin pail; that in which Dunn carried water from Huguenard's was a wooden bucket; did not see Dunn drink from the tin pail that day.

The efforts of the newspaper men to interview Miss Sampleton today were fruitless, as the officials declined to permit the reporters to question the young lady. She is confined in the woman's ward at the county jail.

SOME NEW DISCLOSURES.

The visit of Coroner Barnett and Prosecutor Emrick to Wallen Tuesday afternoon resulted in making a number of discoveries which the officers consider of great value in connection with the case. Sentiment in the little village is universally against Dunn and the feeling is running very high.

The officers went over the whole scene thoroughly, inspecting the Dunn house, barns and surroundings and questioning a large number of citizens of the village. The place had a deserted air at first, but so great was the interest in this remarkable case that within a short time there was a large number of people present and all willing to aid the officers in their search. It is plainly evident that people were loth to mention their suspicions for some days. Dunn was a prominent citizen and none of the people of the village cared to anger him until the fruitlessness of protracted search had made it evident that different tactics must be adopted.

The residence occupied by Dunn is owned by Mr. Grosjean and is the most imposing house in the village. It stands at the north edge of the town, facing eastward, and adjoining the sawmill operated by Dunn. On the first floor are the parlor, a small bedroom, a sitting room, dining room, kitchen and shed-like structure at the north side of this, where Marie Sampleton was engaged in washing on the day that Alice Cothrell disappeared.

REGULATORS WERE THERE.

Earlier in the day representatives of the Huntertown regulators had made a thorough search of the Dunn premises, for these sturdy men are determined to lend all the aid possible in sifting the terrible affair to the bottom.

The measurement of water in the cistern Tuesday showed a depth of about seven feet and two inches, and the coroner's measurement of the trap door in the floor above the cistern showed it to be 16x22 inches, while the opening in the top of the cistern proper is 13x22 inches, and the situation convinces the officers that it would be a very difficult matter for a child to fall accidentally into the cistern. The water is intensely cold and several dipperfuls of it brought to the surface showed a plentiful population of bugs and worms, so that the party present Tuesday was not prepared to indorse the water from this cistern for drinking purposes.

At the rear of the yard is a small barn used as a cow stable, and farther north and to the rear of the mill yard is the barn used as a stable for several of Dunn's teams.

IMPRESSION IN MANGER.

In the manger farthest to the west on the south side of this barn the officers noted a peculiar depression in the hay, which was packed quite solidly something after the impression which would have been left had a body lain there. The stall itself is about half filled with sawdust, and Mr. Cothrell, father of the little girl, could offer no explanation of the appearance of the manger. He stated that the stall had not been used for some time.

This stable is reached by way of the alley at the rear of the Dunn residence, and through which Miss Sampleton says the little one was walking after she saw her leave the house on Tuesday afternoon.

HEAR MANY REPORTS.

The fact that an arrest has been made in the case has undoubtedly made the people of Wallen feel that they can talk with more safety, and Coroner Barnett and the prosecutor are daily collecting more testimony in the case. One fact which took them to Wallen yesterday was the information that Del Reed had given information in addition to that adduced at the inquest, and the officers went to the home of Dennis Madden and took the testimony of Mrs. Madden on this point. "We were all talking about the disappearance of the child," said Mrs. Madden, "and when I met Del Reed I asked him if there was anything new. He said, 'No; they are trying to pump me, but they can't; I haven't told all I know, and I don't propose to.'"

There are, of course, an endless variety of stories flying about the village, and many of them the officers believe are somewhat overdrawn. One has it that Reed accidentally overheard a conversation between Dunn and the servant girl in which they were plotting to put the little girl out of the way; and that when Dunn saw Reed had overheard them he made threats to enjoin his secrecy. This is absolutely denied by Reed today.

ASKED THEM TO SPEAK.

Coroner Barnett, addressing a number of citizens who had gathered, told them that the only desire upon the part of the state was to get at the exact truth of the whole matter; that the citizens of Wallen should be as desirous of seeing equal justice done to all as were the officers of the law, and stated that if any person in the village could shed any light upon the case, it was his sacred duty to speak. Thomas Jetmore and a young man named Beitzell told of a rumor they had heard to the effect that Del Reed had stated that he had overheard a conversation between Dunn and the Sampleton girl which indicated that the Cothrell girl had been foully dealt with.

The coroner had the testimony of a number of witnesses taken in short hand by Stenographer Fonner, who accompanied the party.

GIRL IS AN ORPHAN.

Marie Sampleton, the domestic who is believed by the state to be a most important witness in the case, is seventeen years of age and an orphan. She was reared in a Chicago orphanage, and is quite prepossessing. About three years

CONTRACT IS LET.

A meeting of the school board was held last evening, and the contract for enlarging the Nebraska school was awarded to Conductor H. L. Mollett, who submitted the most satisfactory bid. One story will be added to the present structure, of four rooms, making eight rooms in all. The school contained 250 pupils during the last term, and the rooms would not accomodate them, making it necessary to fit up an additional room in the basement. The addition will cost about $7,000, and the work will commence at once in order that the school may be ready for occupation when the fall term opens.

SHOW ON THE WHITE FIELDS.

W. D. Henderson, the dealer in feed and hay, who has the contract for furnishing the hay and grain for the Buffalo Bill show, has been instructed to deliver the goods at the White fields, east of Glasgow avenue and at the foot of Washington and Wayne streets. This practically settles the location of the show, a question which has been of more or less interest to all citizens ever since it became known that the great exposition would hold forth in Fort Wayne. This arrangement will be satisfactory to a majority of the people, because the White fields are accessible by rail, street car and other modes of conveyance. The Nickel Plate has not yet arranged to put on a train service to the grounds, but it is believed that the company will do so. When the fireworks display was made on those grounds during the Fort Wayne centennial celebration the Nickel Plate ran a train every ten minutes between the depot and grounds and did a thriving business and one that was entirely satisfactory to the people. Of course, the street car company will give excellent service on that day, but so great will be the crowd that all the street cars in the city would be unable to handle the people within the limited time allotted for that purpose. Buffalo Bill shows in Auburn tomorrow, coming here Thursday over the Lake Shore; gives two exhibitions here Friday and leaves Friday night for Warsaw, where he will show Saturday. Next week he will exhibit in Chicago.

The meeting of the Young Men's society of Emmaus Lutheran church, to have been held last evening, was postponed until Thursday evening. The choir of the church has postponed its meeting from Thursday evening until next week.

ASSAULTED A LINEMAN.

Last evening Contractor Borkenstine, while driving his wagon south on Calhoun street, found his way blocked near the south depot by linemen engaged in placing the new trolley wire in position for the traction company. He demanded that the street be cleared for his passage and that demand not being complied with as soon as he thought it should be, he raised his whip and struck a man standing on the ground engaged in holding a guy rope. The man was Joseph Schreck, a lineman living on Hanna street, near Wallace, and the blow took effect on his eye, cutting and bruising the member badly. Schreck was taken to his home, where a physician was called. The latter said he could not predict the outcome until the swelling subsided and was not certain whether or not the eyesight would be affected.

A GOLF TOURNAMENT.

Robison Park Theater—Vaudeville.

His sublime high jigs Abdul Hamid, sultan of Turkey and debtor to about all the powers in Christendom, has settled his bill with the United States. And this provokes the question frequently asked concerning the cash of another and equally great autocrat: "Where did he get it?"

A dispatch from New York says the Heath brothers—Fletcher, Perry S. and Fred—may reorganize the Seventh National bank in New York and build it up as a distinct family institution. It is said the Heath brothers can mass about $2,000,000 and that they have the promise of strong friends of all the assistance they need. It now appears that the Seventh bank will be able to realize sufficiently from the loans which swamped it to pay depositors in full and resume business.

A TEMPERATE PEOPLE.

We desire to say a word commendatory of the temper of the people of Wallen and vicinity. Under stress of great excitement and indignation over what seems to be one of the most atrocious crimes in the annals of this county they have preserved admirable order and coolness, content to permit the constituted authorities to unravel the solemn mystery of little Alice Cothrell's tragic death and to permit the law to take its course with the man charged with her murder.

In a community of people with less temperate judgment hasty anger might have burst the restraints of good order and respect for law and the processes of justice and summary vengeance have been wreaked upon the man accused of a crime so hellish. If the man now in jail under charge of this most shocking crime is guilty justice will find him out and the law will deal with him according to the deserts of guilt so foul.

In the self-restraint of the people of Wallen and vicinity the officers of justice have found and will find a valuable aid to the unraveling of the mystery of the crime. It is the duty of all who know anything that may aid the officers in solving the manner of Alice Cothrell's death to make it known promptly to County Prosecutor Emrick, Coroner Barnett and Sheriff Stout. What justice demands is the truth. None who knows aught that will aid the cause of justice should delay making it known to the officers or should conceal it from them.

DID NOT SEE THE BODY.

Prof. Frederick Barnhard, of this city, who went to Chicago on Monday to identify, if possible, the body of his son Gustave, reported and supposed to have been drowned in Lake Michigan on June 23, returned to the city last evening. He did not see the body he was in quest of, it having been buried several days before his arrival. He made a number of inquiries at police headquarters and at St. Joseph hospital, but was unable to satisfy himself on the question whether the dead man was his son or not. Sisters of Charity at the hospital told him that it would be useless to exhume the body, as it was much mutilated and that decomposition had made the features unreconizable long before burial. He was also told that the deceased had a deformed knee, evidently of long standing, and this convinced Professor Barnhard that there must have been some mistake and he did not prosecute his inquiry any farther.

NAMED SUCCESSOR TO ROMY

OFFICER TERRY NEW POLICE STATION MASTER.

The board of safety met last evening and after considering some minor matters took up the question of supplying the police department with a new stationmaster. Lieutenant Lapp made a formal presentment that Officer Romy had been absent for some days without leave, and he was dismissed. Officer Terry, until recently a day man on the Broadway beat, was then named as Romy's successor, and Patrolman Charles Spillner was transferred from the night to the day force and Richard Kelley was appointed to fill the vacancy. The new policeman had his application before the board for a long time. He was formerly a brakeman on the Wabash, and lives on Hoagland avenue. He presented himself at the city hall this morning to get his bond and will be prepared to report for duty tonight.

POLICE NOTES.

There was no police court this morning.

A large plate glass in the front of Stegner's dry goods store on Lafayette street was broken early this morning by unknown parties.

J. C. Zurbach, of 187 East Suttenfield street, reported to the police department that for several nights efforts have been made to get into his house and the houses of neighbors. He says that the burglar, prowler or whatever he may be is a young man, smoothfaced and he believes a person living in the vicinity. He gave the name of a suspect to the officers with a request that his movements be watched.

Boys entered the new building being erected on the corner of Wayne and Barr streets and smeared a lot of red paint over the woodwork and floors.

Kaleel Teen, living at 19 Lafayette street, reported that someone stole his bicycle from in front of a business house on Court street yesterday afternoon while he was inside transacting some business. He furnished a description of the wheel and the police will endeavor to locate it for him.

CHARLES WAYNE AT ROBISON PARK.

The management of Robison Park Theater will give to the theater-going public one of the strongest vaudeville bills ever offered a Fort Wayne audience. Mr. Chas. Wayne, Fort Wayne's most popular comedian, assisted by Anna Caldwell, will present that laugh-provoking sketch, "To Boston on Business," commencing Sunday, July 14, and continuing, until Thursday, July 18th, when he will offer the humorous skit entitled, "A Book Detective," for the balance of the week. For a number of years the people of this city have had a desire to see Fort Wayne's representative comedian, but on account of the high salary commanded by this meritorious artist it has been impossible to book him with any assurance of financial success. However, at the urgent request of Mr. Wayne's host of Fort Wayne friends, the management of Robison Park Theater have made arrangements whereby the people of Fort Wayne will have an opportunity of seeing this versatile comedian in their own city, but owing to the extra cost of this attraction (which amount in itself is as much as the general cost of one week's attraction at the Park Theater) it has been found necessary to make the price of seats during that week as follows: Box seats, 50c each; first ten rows, 25c each; next ten rows, 15c each; general admission, 10c. In addition to the above attraction the bill will include four other high-class acts. Reserved seats for the above week are now on sale at Al. Alter's cigar store, southwest corner Calhoun and Main streets.

FORT WAYNE, Ind., July 8, 1901.

Mr. Joseph V. Fox, Comptroller.

Dear Sir: In order to enable our street department to perform the most necessary work that our streets will require during the balance of this year it will be necessary to materially increase the appropriation for maintenance and repair of streets account, as the amount appropriated so far is inadequate and entirely too small. This condition of things is due to the repeal of the vehicle and bicycle tax, as the funds derived from this tax were applied to this fund. To show how small the amount appropriated for this year is in comparison to the amount available in former years we wish to call your attention to the following:

During the year 1895 there was appropriated $10,000, while the vehicle tax collected amounted to $3,330.81; total, $16,650.81. In 1896 the appropriation was $3,314.38, vehicle tax, $5,775.09; total, $9,090.50.

In 1897, appropriation, $3,017.65, vehicle tax, $6,163.61; total, $9,181.26.

In 1898, appropriation, $3,200, vehicle tax, $7,000.67; total, $10,200.67.

In 1899, appropriation, $3,314.38, vehicle tax, $8,736.02; total, $12,402.45.

In 1900, appropriation, $3,562.50, vehicle tax, $7,827.85; total, $11,390.35.

For 1901 we have no receipt from the vehicle tax and only $5,000.00 appropriated, or less than one-half of the amount required annually. It must also be borne in mind that with the growth of the city and the extension of the city limits the mileage of our streets has been increased very materially during the past two or three years, thereby adding a great deal of expense to our street department and warranting an increase rather than a decrease in the annual appropriations for the street department.

We would therefore respectfully ask you to arrange for an appropriation of $5,000.00 to the maintenance and repair of street account, as that amount will be required to permit the department to perform the most important work during the next six months. The amount asked for added to the amount already appropriated will still be considerably less than the amount required by the department during the past two years.

By order of the board of public works.
A. M. SCHMIDT, Clerk.

COMMUNICATION.

FORT WAYNE, Ind., June 21, 1901.

To the Common Council.

Gentlemen: Some time ago we were granted a franchise for a street railroad from the corporate limits on New Haven avenue in a northerly direction to the bridge across the Maumee river on Walton avenue, then along said avenue to Lake avenue, thence west to Columbia avenue, and then along Columbia street to Calhoun street. This franchise we did not accept. We thought, and still think, it is not right that we should be compelled to go through Lakeside in order to get to and from New Haven. We respectfully ask your honorable body to grant us the franchise over the route designated by the board of public works. It is the nearest and we think one that will be acceptable to a large majority of citizens that would like to see the town of New Haven and the city of Fort Wayne connected by an electric road.

Respectfully yours,
H. T. SCHNELKER,

C. W. ORR,

COMMUNICATION.

FORT WAYNE, Ind., June 26 1901.

To the Mayor and Common Council.

Gentlemen: The undersigned respectfully states that on the 18th day of February, 1839, the county treasurer sold the following described real estate belonging to the city of Fort Wayne for delinquent taxes: Sub. four (4), square between river and Duck street, for the sum of $33.81. That said taxes was a lien upon the property prior to the time that it was purchased by the city of Fort Wayne and hence the said land is liable for said taxes. That said property was purchased by the undersigned and a certificate of purchase issued to it by the auditor of Allen county. That said certificate of purchase is now owned by the said undersigned. However, the undersigned is willing to have said amount refunded it with six per cent (6) interest, which would amount to $30.14.

Wherefore, your petitioner asks that said amount be refunded it.

REPORT OF COMMITTEE ON FINANCE.

To the Mayor and Common Council.

Gentlemen: Your committee on finance, to whom was referred the ordinance appropriating fifty ($50.00) dollars to public light account for the purpose of locating and operating an electric street light at the intersection of Baker and Harrison streets, respectfully wish to report that we believe it to be of great importance and necessity that a light be located at this point and would therefore respectfully report in favor of passing the ordinance.

REPORT OF COMMITTEE ON FINANCE.

To the Honorable Mayor and Common Council.

Your committee on finance to whom was referred a communication from the Western Gas Construction company praying for the paving of East Williams street and Buchanan street from Calhoun street to Winter street wish to make the following report:

The facts set forth in aforesaid communication regarding the necessity of having Buchanan street paved we find to be true, and ... it is of the utmost importance to this ... establishment, as well as to a great many owners of residences and other buildings located in the southeastern portion of the city, that this street be paved in order to afford them the necessary fire protection and traffic communication with the city during wet seasons of the year. We have asked the city civil engineer to give us an approximately correct estimate of the cost to the city for street and alley intersections and wings, and he reports to us that it would be about $3,700. We believe that the city should be the last one that would object to the paving of a street, especially when a pavement is as badly needed as this one on Buchanan street, and we therefore would recommend that an appropriation of $3,700 be made to the new street intersection account for the purpose of paying the city's portion of the cost of a pavement on Buchanan street from Manne street to Winter street, thereby enabling the board of public works to proceed with this work at once.

REPORT OF COMMITTEE ON STREETS AND ALLEYS.

To the Mayor and Common Council.

Gentlemen: Your committee on streets and alleys to whom was referred the ordinance ratifying a permit granted by the board of public works to the Wabash railroad company, whereby the latter are authorized to lay an additional track across Fairfield avenue, would respectfully report that in our opinion a limit should be placed upon the time during which the rights and privileges granted by this permit may be exercised.

We, therefore, recommend that the permit be amended by inserting the following: "And upon the further condition that the rights and privileges granted by this permit shall cease and become inoperative after a period of ten years from the date of the approval of the ordinance ratifying the granting of this permit," and that when the permit is so amended the ordinance be passed.

ABOUT THE CITY HALL.

At the July meeting of the council last night all the councilmen were present excepting Griebel. There was a rather respectable sized lobby present, but nothing came up to create any excitement. The market question was supposed to have been brought up, but Councilman Baker kept quiet as a clam, with two reports in his pocket. He explained after the council meeting that the reason that he did not bring on the matter was because he was afraid he might have been defeated, but by allowing it to go over to the next meeting he knew he could carry his point and have the market moved. No matters of importance were disposed of save the authorization of the paving of Buchanan street. Other business will be found in the official proceedings published elsewhere in this issue.

E. J. O'Connell has been granted a permit to erect a dwelling house on Woodland avenue, at a cost of $3,000.

WILL BUILD A STORE.

Architect Charles E. Kendrick is preparing drawings for a new store building for Mrs. G. W. Flick, which will be built on the lot on West Berry street, adjoining the Wellman undertaking establishment. The structure will be of brick, 40x80 feet, and will be three stories in height. The lower floor will be handsomely fitted out for the occupation of Miss Flick, the florist, and the upper rooms will be used for offices, and a lodge room. In the rear of the building a greenhouse 40x40 feet will be built. A small brick house now occupying the lot will be torn down at once to make way for the new building.

Charles Campbell, thirty-five years of age, died Tuesday afternoon at the residence of W. H. Arney, two miles east of the driving park. Death was due to rupture.

The home of the deceased was at Garrett, and the remains will be taken to that place, where the funeral and interment will occur.

Funeral announcement will be made later.

Of course, "Smiling Pete" can't pitch all the games, but he can win most of them to a certainty. After that awful drubbing Fort Wayne got at Toledo, it did not look as though there would be much hope of winning any consolation prizes from the heavy hitters at Wheeling, but that is where the good guessers got fooled. The first game with the Nailmakers resulted in a victory for Fort Wayne, with Daniels in the box, off whom only four hits were made in eleven innings, and none during the last nine innings of the game. That comes pretty near pitching some. In addition to his low hit record, he struck out fourteen men, and when it is remembered that this was against the hardest hitting club in the league, it must be admitted that the old war horse was setting a pace for all of them. A perusal of the appended box score will show that the game throughout was one of the best played in the association this year:

NOTES OF THE GAME.

An article on "How a Ball Player Steals Bases" has appeared in the Chicago Record-Herald and Cincinnati Enquirer. The Chicago paper credits Frank Chance with the authorship and the Cincinnati paper says "Wahoo Sam" Crawford wrote it.

Toledo Times: "Fuller and Mullin, the Toledo players, who are with Fort Wayne, are developing into good players. Fuller is one of the best catchers in the league, as he is a good backstop, and is hitting a pretty good clip. Mullin leads the Fort Wayne team in batting, and is pitching steady, consistent ball. * * * Nattress is playing short with all his old-time speed. He is one of the most accurate throwers in the business, and if he could hit he would be a star."

Indianapolis News: "Pete Daniels is keeping up his brilliant work with Fort Wayne. With a fielding team like Indianapolis behind him he would scarcely lose a game in a month, as he makes opposing batsman hit the ball and expects the men behind him to do the rest. * * * Indianapolis has no double-wrap on the Western association pennant."

Messrs. Watkins and Rauschaupt, owners of the Indianapolis base ball club and franchise, are discouraged over the base ball outlook in that city, and after a consultation have announced that unless the patronage improves the club will be either transferred or disbanded. The latter course is the more probable, as there is no other city convenient to the circuit that could support a team. The Indianapolis fans are taking the example of the Louisville fans and boycotting Western association ball because they think it is not fast enough. In the general shake-up of leagues next season Indianapolis and Louisville both hope to land in what they consider "fast" company.

THE MARKETS.

Chicago, July 10.—Strength in cables and also in northwestern markets caused a firmer opening in wheat today. Trading was light with commission houses the best buyers. September opened ¼c to ½c higher at 64⅛c to 64⅜c and advanced to 64½c. Northwest receipts were 199 cars, against 138 cars last week and 165 a year ago. Local receipts were 66 cars, with 27 of contract grade.

Corn opened excited and strong on the weather conditions. There was an enormous demand and a limited supply. Later the market quieted down and prices eased off on profit-taking. September opened ⅝@¾c to ⅝@1c higher at 49¾c to 50c, advanced to 50⅜c and reacted to 49¾c. Receipts were 195 cars, 28 of contract grade.

In sympathy with corn and on poor crop prospects oats opened strong. September opened ¼@⅜c to ½@¾c higher at 30¾c to 31⅛c, advanced to 31⅜c and reacted to 30¾c. Receipts were 48 cars.

THE DAY ON WALL STREET.

New York, July 10.—Opening prices of stocks were better than last night, being assisted by an active demand in London for St. Paul, Union Pacific and Atchison. The opening prices of these stocks here were not up to the London parity and the tendency was reactionary after the opening. St. Paul after opeing a point fell back 1¼. St. Louis and San Francisco second preferred showed a gain of 1½.

The relapse in prices was soon checked by good demand for Louisville, St. Paul, Union Pacific, Southern Pacific and Sugar, which sold 1@1½ above yesterday's close. Stocks of local corporations were also absorbed heavily and advanced from 1 to 3 points with Manhattan leading. Recoveries elsewhere were small and considerable United States Steel, Atchison, Erie and Amalgamated Copper were offered on the rise. Lackawanna jumped 5 points on a few transactions. The leading stocks yielded again to the extent of a point for Louisville, St. Paul, Missouri Pacific, Manhattan, New York Central and Baltimore and Ohio.

Heaviness developed all around on the announcement of a gold export engagement of $750,000. Professional traders argued that this withdrawal from the small reserves of the banks would produce a firmer market and they put out short lines of the active stocks, causing reactions running to 2⅛@3⅜ points. Manhattan, Atchison, St. Paul, Rock Island, Union Pacific and Baltimore and Ohio scored the largest declines. General Electric improved 5¼.

Bonds were easier.

WHERE COFFEE CAME FROM.

There is extant a tale of the discovery of coffee, a story which might have suggested to Charles Lamb the idea for his "Dissertation on Roast Pig." This is the legend, says the Chicago Chronicle:

Toward the middle of the fifteenth century a poor Arab was traveling in Abyssinia, and finding himself weak and weary from fatigue he stopped near a grove. Then, being in want of fuel to cook his rice, he cut down a tree which happened to be full of dead berries. His meal being cooked and eaten, the traveler discovered that the half-burned berries were very fragrant. Collecting a number of these and crushing them with a stone, he found that their aroma had increased to a great extent. While wondering at this he accidentally let fall the sustenance into a can which contained his scant supply of water. Lo! what a miracle! The almost putrid liquid was instantly purified. He brought it to his lips; it was fresh, agreeable, and in a moment after the traveler had so far recovered his strength and energy as to be able to resume his journey.

The lucky Arab gathered as many berries as he could, and, having arrived at Arden, in Arabia, he informed the mufti of his discovery. This worthy divine was an inveterate opium smoker, who had been suffering for years from the effects of that poisonous drug. He tried an infusion of the roasted berries and was so delighted at the recovery of his own vigor that, in gratitude to the tree, he called it cabuah, which in Arabic signifies force.

Consul Mahin, of Reichenberg, says that, according to a report from Brussels, a Belgian engineer by the name of Tobiansky has discovered a method by which smoke can be turned into light. In operating his device the inventor collects the smoke from any kind of a fire and forces it into a receiver. It is then saturated with hydrocarburet, and a brilliant light results.

SHOP AND RAIL

PROMISE MAGNIFICENT SPORT

EVENTS AND PRIZES WILL BE GREATER THAN LAST YEAR.

SENDING OUT BIG DYNAMOS

THE ELECTRIC COMPANY PREPARING TO INSTALL PLANTS.

The Pittsburg shopmen held another meeting yesterday to further discuss the proposed field day events to be given August 10. The men take much more interest in the event than was taken last year or any previous year and this interest does not appear to be confined to the shopmen Athletes generally are interesting themselves in the affair and there will be no lack of entries in all the contests which are open to the public. Tonight the men will complete their organization by electing John Dalman, jr., president of the temporary association. They will also take such other action for the advancement of the affair as they may deem necessary. It is understood that the prizes offered at the Decoration day bicycle contests and not awarded because of some dispute as to who should receive them, will be put up as prizes in the coming contest. These have a value of $112 and will well repay the winner for his trouble and expense in training and competing for them. At last night's meeting committees were appointed and the events crudely mapped out, though the following arrangement is subject to change at the will of the committees up to the date of the official announcement of the various contests:

220-yard dash, open.
220-yard relay, half mile run.
Putting 16 pound shot.
Throwing hammer.
Half mile run.
Half, one, two, five and ten mile bicycle races. The two and ten mile races will be open.
Hop, step and jump.
Standing broad and high jumps.
Running broad and high jumps.
Tug of war.

Refreshments—Frank Burns, chairman; E. Tierney, Pat Bresnahan, T. B. O'Connel, J. Nebelhuur, William Horstman, jr., F. Wefel, Cornelius Cooper, W. F. O'Conner and W. F. Jacobs.

Finance—Daniel Pelgen, chairman; B. F. Sarver, J. H. Holbrook.

Track Events—John Dalman, chairman; Charles Porter, E. S. Turner, Donald McDonald, Randolph Breese.

Reception Committee—To be named later.

The officials of the races are: Field marshal, W. J. Niezer; clerk of course, William S. Wells; time keepers, Larry Randall, Harry Meyer, Henry Koehlinger, John Kaiser. An experienced starter will be brought here.

SPECIAL TRAINS.

The western division of the Pittsburg will have two excursion parties to handle tomorrow. Both will be special trains. The Eighth Ohio National Guards, en route to the encampment at Toledo, will pass over the Pittsburg from Alliance to Bucyrus and a Wabash Sunday school will have an excursion to Winona.

INCREASING ELECTRIC PLANT.

The enterprising city of Bryan, Ohio, is about to make some important improvements to its already extensive electric light plant. This morning two dynamos, 100-light arc and 1,000-light incandescent respectively, left the electric works in this city for Bryan for that plant, and a construction man will go there tomorrow to install the machinery. Another shipment from the works today was a 100-light arc machine to New Philadelphia, Ohio, where a plant is being installed by the Fort Wayne Electric company.

AGAINST PRIVATE CARS.

At the meeting of the Central Passenger association today at Cambridge Springs some action was taken governing the hauling of special cars. The railroads dislike hauling private cars of higher officials around the country, and some of the privileged class are now learning to ride in Pullmans and to be less exclusive than they have been heretofore. The idea is to restrict the practice until it disappears entirely. Trains are now so heavy and run at so high speed that one or two private cars often makes it difficult to make fast schedules.

HAVE NEW MACHINERY.

The Perrine-Armstrong lumber mills in this city will be equipped with entirely new machinery. The company has disposed of its mill and machinery at Huntington to W. E. Bartlett, a former partner in the concern, and Mr. Bartlett will continue the business in Huntington. It had been the intention of the company to remove the machinery to the mills here, but Mr. Bartlett's offer was a good one and it was decided to accept it and equip the new mills here with entirely new machinery.

MURRAY MEN'S PICNIC.

The employes of the Kerr Murray works have selected Saturday as the date for their annual excursion and picnic and Rome City the place for holding the affair. The matter was settled at a meeting of the men yesterday, when the following committee of arrangements was appointed: Michael Huntine, William DeHart, Leonard Blue, William Weil, Louis Schwartzkopf and Frank J. Fink. They will have a special train, which will leave the south depot at 8 o'clock in the morning and the resort on the return trip at 9 o'clock at night. The sports at the resort, which have not yet been fully provided for, will include a ball game, tug of war and dancing, and for the latter purpose the Barner orchestra will furnish the music.

Adolph Sanders has taken a clerical position at the Kerr Murray offices and the following men have been added to the force in the shops: Charles Lamle, Bert Todd, George Carroll, Arthur Regel, Ernest Scott, M. S. Malcom, Lawrence Braun, W. C. Siemann, Harry Siemann and George Heffman.

Miss Anna McDonald, of Warren, Ind., who had been visiting Yardmaster and Mrs. W. E. Rowe for two or three weeks, returned to her home today.

Nickel Plate Fireman C. H. Brown has taken a two weeks' lay off for the purpose of visiting Burkett, Ind., and attending to some private business there.

The San Francisco Chronicle says R. Koehler will on August 1 retire as manager of the Southern Pacific lines in Oregon and the position will be abolished.

Patrolman John Neufer, of the Pittsburg, is lame as a result of a mishap yesterday by which one of his ankles was sprained. He is on duty, however.

Boilermaker J. J. Crawford, of the Pittsburg shops, has joined a party of young men for a week's camping out at Rome City. They went up to the resort this morning.

H. Meare, who has been station agent of the Michigan Central road at Lake Station, Ind., for twenty years, has resigned and purchased a home near Riverside, Ill.

John Buckley, who resigned a position in the Bass blacksmith shops last Friday, as noted last week in The Sentinel, has taken a position as fireman on the Nickel Plate.

Some new machinery is about to be placed in the Pittsburg machine shop, one piece being a lathe much larger than any now in service in that department of the shops.

W. H. Ellis has returned from Fremont, where he spent five or six weeks with relatives and friends. He is a Nickel Plate fireman and has resumed his duties on that road.

J. S. Rogers, founder of the Rogers locomotive works in Paterson, N. J., who died on July 2, was reported to be worth $7,000,000. He sold his interest in the works ten years ago.

William Willesey and Otto Lescher, "pullers" for Thomas Quinlan, of the armature department of the electric works, have resigned. James Mulhearn has been assigned to one of the positions.

Walter Erickson, a Nickel Plate brakeman, was taken with acute indigestion yesterday afternoon just as he was about to leave upon his regular run out. Another brakeman had to take the place in the crew.

Yesterday Engineer Wills and Fireman Bates, with engine 127, went to Doualson to take part in the work of cutting down the hill at that point and thus eliminating a seventeen-foot grade on the Pittsburg road.

E. B. Champion, an operator who recently came here to work in the Nickel Plate offices, has brought his family to the city and yesterday they moved into a comfortable house on Howell street, in the western part of the city.

V. P. Kohlman, the Nickel Plate fireman who was married recently in Ohio, is taking a lay off for the purpose of getting ready for housekeeping. F. W. Deister, another Nickel Plate fireman, is taking a lay off for recreation.

Frank Schrantz, of Hartford City, is in the city visiting his mother on Melita street. This is the young man whose bravery saved the paper plant at that place from destruction by fire a short time ago. He was severely burned.

Oscar Collis, a son of the well-known machinist, Adam Collis, of the Pittsburg shops, has taken a position in the Pittsburg round house, where he was employed a few months ago, but was released when traffic on the road fell off for the spring.

W. R. Woodford, president of the Cleveland, Lorain and Wheeling, is authority for stating that it is the intention of the company to double the track of the road. This road has an enormous traffic and ranks third in earnings per mile operated among Ohio railways.

F. M. Shambaugh is sick and H. C. Kemmeyer and S. Entradacher are off duty for unknown reasons, probably sickness. L. Hartstein, A. Zollinger and A. Kruckenberg are off duty to look after private affairs. All are employed in the Pittsburg shops.

Indianapolis Journal: "In this era of railroad consolidation it need not be a surprise if the Hocking Valley and its subsidiary companies are soon acquired by some one of the large systems. It would be valuable property for the Big Four, the Wabash or even the Pennsylvania."

News at the Pittsburg yards is to the effect that James Young, one of the switchmen there, was married yesterday at Upper Sandusky, Ohio, to Miss Fannie Boughton, who is a sister to Mrs. M. C. Cooper. Mr. and Mrs. Young have gone to Buffalo for a brief sojourn and upon their return here they will be at home to friends at No. 1 Reed street.

The Erie Railway company has shown a more liberal spirit in framing a basis of age limit than most roads that have adopted the "age lock-out" plan, and while its operation keeps many able-bodied men out of service whose experience and ability contributed much to the good of the company, it leaves the door open to a large number who may be considered in the prime of life. The company will not now employ any person over forty-five years of age. Most of the roads make thirty-five years the limit.

SIDE TRACKED!

Left With the Conviction that there is Not Power to go Ahead---It May be Mind Confusion or Muscle Weakness---Waning Strength or Prostration---How Fort Wayne People Right Themselves.

The business man who finds himself deprived of the usual business force. The working man or woman who finds ordinary labor prohibited ---are side tracked—it may come by the way of sleepless nights, languor, flagging appetite, poor digestion, easily excited, trembling hands and limbs, loss of muscular power—numbness, fluttering, palpitating heart—all point to the one great cause—lack of nerve force. To restore it requires the influence of the great discovery, Dr. A. W. Chase's Nerve Pills, and that is the secret of their wonderful success—they win strength for depleted organs.

Mrs. J. Laemmle, of No. 52 Barr St., Fort Wayne, Ind., says: "From a faithful use of Dr. A. W. Chase's Nerve Pills in my house with a relative whose stomach was very weak and would hardly retain food when eaten, though hungry all the time and the results obtained in the making strong of the stomach and indigestion again, with an ability to retain food eaten; I can recommend the medicine to others affected in a like manner as reliable, safe, certain and easy of action. Meyer Bros. & Co., of No. 14 Calhoun St., are to be recommended for introducing them."

Slow Healing Sores

With rich, pure, strong blood one is never troubled with sores or ulcers. A cut or any injury to the flesh heals in a few days, nature supplying the healing balm in the form of healthy, new blood; but when the circulation is tainted with poisonous germs, humors or any effete matter, a slight scratch or abrasion of the skin becomes a festering sore, tiny pimples grow to be boils, swollen joints and inflamed glands often break out into offensive, slow healing sores. A polluted blood is always a menace to health; not only does it keep the skin in a chronic state of inflammation, but every organ and fibre of the body suffers from an impure and sluggish circulation. You never feel well, you are not and never can be well until the system is relieved of its terrible load of impurities. With the blood so contaminated, so deeply poisoned, ulcers, boils and sores of every kind are apt to become chronic and often develop into Cancer.

Sores and ulcers are most often caused by poverty of the blood and a weak and slow circulation, brought on by long continued sickness, malarial poisoning, torpid liver, the use of mercury, or whatever is calculated to destroy the vitality of the blood and break down the constitution. These old chronic sores last sometimes for years, eating into the flesh, muscles, tissues, and even down into the bones, and are such a tax upon the system that it is hard for the patient to recuperate, and a simple malady often proves fatal.

I became afflicted with a severe sore leg and from the knee to the foot was one solid sore, which was very offensive. I spent over $1,000 on two trips to Hot Springs, and local physicians treated me to no purpose. I had about decided to have my leg amputated, when a friend induced me to try S. S. S. I began to take your medicine, and in the short space of seven months it has completely and thoroughly cured me. My leg is a witness today as to what S. S. S. will do when taken regularly. The sore has healed entirely and my health has improved wonderfully. I have already gained 20 pounds.
J. B. TALBERT,
Box 245. Winona, Miss.

Nothing so quickly or surely restores lost strength and vitality to the blood as S. S. S. It is an antidote for the severest forms of Blood Poison, as well as the irritating humors that cause the eruptions and sores that sap your very life and so greatly disfigure you. S. S. S. is the only guaranteed purely vegetable blood purifier. It contains no mercury, potash, arsenic or other hurtful drug. It cleanses the blood and purifies the circulation, thus ridding the system of the impurities that keep the sores feverish and painful. At the same time your general health improves under the tonic effects of S. S. S., and the skin becomes soft, smooth and healthy. If you are troubled with boils, carbuncles, sores or eruptions of any sort, write our physicians all about your case; don't risk your own judgment when you can get medical advice from experienced doctors free. KILBOURNE LEADS

The democratic party pledges its efforts to relieve them of the burdens which class legislation has laid upon them." On the subject of republican responsibility, it is declared "the republican party always has upheld class interests, and cannot be trusted to deal with evils of its own creation." On "boss rule, etc.," the party pledges itself to "rescue our government from the grasp of selfishness and corruption and restore it to its former fairness, purity and simplicity."

"Widespread corruption," the article declares, "now threatens our free institutions and menaces the destruction of public virtues."

Under the caption, "The Boers," the platform says:

"The obvious sympathy of the national administration with the British government in its efforts to destroy the South African republics and the policy which has made the ports of the United States a basis of supplies for the British army, without which the war could not be successfully carried on, are condemned by the democracy of Ohio."

The reading of the Johnson planks on taxation were loudly applauded

BEAT BRYAN RESOLUTION.

W. L. Finley offered a substitute for the preamble, reaffirming the Kansas City platform and expressing continued confidence in W. J. Bryan. He said he wanted to ascertain whether this was a democratic convention and whether the Ohio democrats were looking backward. Finley's motion was overwhelmingly defeated. When the resolutions were adopted there were again three cheers for Tom Johnson.

Order of nominations was then reached. When Clark county was reached Judge F. M. Hogan, of Springfield, presented the name of John L. Zimmerman. M. A. Daugherty, of Lancaster, presented the name of Col. James Kilbourne, of Columbus.

BY ACCLAMATION.

Zimmerman then withdrew his name and moved the nomination of Kilbourne by acclamation. This carried with repeated cheers and a demonstration lasting several minutes ensued. John E. Zimmerman, L. G. Bernard and E. M. Heisley escorted Kilbourne to the hall. Then there was more cheering. The nominee accepted in an address of some length on pending issues. For lieutenant governor the names of John F. Cassady, mayor of Bellefontaine, and Anthony Howells, of Massillon, were presented. Just before the ballot was completed Cassady's name was withdrawn and Howells was nominated by acclamation.

HEAT RECORD FOR CHICAGO.

Chicago, July 10.—Today was the hottest day ever recorded in Chicago, the mercury in the weather tower showing 100½ degrees, while thermometers on the street were from 2 to 4 degrees hotter. Up to 2 o'clock there were no prostrations. A dry southwest wind kept the humidity at a low point.

SHOWS BETTER SPEED.

Rothesay, Firth of Clyde, July 10.—Another open water trial of the Shamrocks was started at about 11 o'clock this morning off Bogany Point, Island of Bute. The challenger allowed the older boat to get well away to windward, and several lengths ahead, thus permitting her to get the first of the fresher off-shore wind. The Shamrock I. maintained all her advantage to Kilcattan, but the challenger then picked up rapidly and passed the ex-challenger clear to leeward after a clever bit of sailing.

ASSAULTS AND SLAYS WOMEN

Chris Jensen, at Denver, Confesses to Having Outraged and Butchered Young Girl--- Sends Officers to Other Victim.

Denver, Col., July 9.—Mrs. Armenia A. Bullis, sixty years of age, was stabbed to death last night on a highway in the outskirts of the city. Jessie Kinport, aged 14, was assaulted and terribly mutilated with a knife at her home while her mother was absent and may die.

Carl Jansen, alias Johnson, aged 25, who is in custody, has confessed both crimes. He is believed to be insane.

Jessie Kinport, the fourteen-year-old daughter of Mrs. Carrie D. Kinport, who resides at 119 West Ninth avenue, was assaulted and horribly mutilated in her room during the absence of her mother last night. Mrs. Kinport had been away during the evening and upon returning home found the doors open. Hastening to her daughter's room she found the bed clothes strewn about and blood spattered over the room. The girl was nowhere to be seen.

She aroused the neighbors, who began searching the neighborhood. About mid-night they found the girl in a vacant lot nearby, unconscious and with numerous cuts on her body. The authorities were notified, but not before Chris Jensen had been brought to the station by Policeman Lambert, who had arrested him on the outskirts of the city. As Lambert approached Jensen whipped out a knife and shouted to the officer that he would not be taken to jail. Lambert disarmed Jensen and brought him to the station. On the way he repeatedly spoke of having been compelled to defend himself from a woman, saying that he had cut her up pretty badly. The knife he had threatened the officer with was covered with blood. Shortly after Jensen was locked up the police department was notified of the assault upon the little Kinport girl. From his actions the police are convinced that Jensen is demented. The police believe that Jensen is the person who has committed the numerous assaults made upon women of late. The victim of last night's assault is still alive but in a critical condition.

Jensen confessed to the police that he assaulted Jessie Kinport and also said he stabbed another woman during the night, near the end of the University park line.

Search was at once begun and the body of Mrs. Bullis was found this morning at the place described by Jensen. She had been stabbed in the breast and the blade of the knife had penetrated her heart, causing instant death. The body lay in the roadway and there was no evidence of a struggle. Jensen said the woman "was after him" and for that reason he stabbed her.

Mrs. Bullis was about 60 years of age. She conducted a dairy near the place where she was killed.

K.P. SUPREME BODY PROBES FINANCES

Chicago, July 9.—Behind closed and carefully guarded doors the supreme lodge of the Knights of Pythias today met here in special session to consider alleged "injudicious handling of the funds of the endowment rank of the order."

Members of the fraternal organization, both in the United States and Canada, are said to be intensely interested in the outcome of the investigation, a report of which will be made during the present meeting by President C. F. S. Neal, of the board of control of the endowment rank. It is said $500,000, the entire surplus of the endowment rank, is unavailable for use, except at a great sacrifice.

A special assessment on insured members and an increase in the monthly payments on insurance are said to be probable.

As a result of the report of the officers and six members of the board of control of the endowment rank it was said late this afternoon that a former president of the board will lose his membership. It also is probable that proceedings on criminal charges will be instituted against three former members of the board of control.

When the forenoon session was concluded one of the members of the investigating body declared this action probably will be taken before night. It is said the report submitted today shows that, of the half million dollars missing, a considerable portion was unlawfully disposed of. The report was signed by members of the board of control and by officers of the order. The seventh member of the board, who was absent, is J. A. Hinsey. The report also shows the findings of the departments of Illinois, Kansas and Connecticut.

EFFORTS FOR RINKARD.

Wabash, Ind., July 8.—John Rinkard, the wife murderer who was convicted and sentenced to death in the Wabash circuit court, will probably not hang at the Michigan City prison on August 9, as ordered by Judge Shively. Rinkard's attorneys are making herculean efforts to have the supreme court interfere, and as the court has adjourned for the summer the proceedings of the trial can scarcely be reviewed by the supreme judges before October. The attorneys for the condemned man are daily expecting a stay of execution, and if Rinkard hangs at all it is not likely he will meet his doom until fall.

A new case of scarlet fever has been reported at 328 South Hanna street.

GOLD DEMOCRATS ARE IN FORCE

Many of Them Prominent in the Work of the Columbus Convention---Conservatives Will be in Full Control.

Columbus, Ohio, July 9.—An unusually large attendance of visitors was noticeable here today when the preliminary meetings were held for the democratic state convention. The 950 delegates are accompanied by large delegations supporting different candidates for the nominations for judge and clerk of the supreme court, attorney general, state treasurer and members of the board of public works.

The nominations for governor and lieutenant governor are the only ones in which there is not a free-for-all race with many entries. But the large attendance is due more to the reunion of democrats, who have not been together in Ohio since 1896.

Those who have been called "gold standard democrats" are largely represented, and many of them have not attended their convention in Ohio for years. Nearly all the old leaders of this class are here now, and they are given places of prominence on committees and organization generally. They are actively co-operating with those who are being denominated conservatives, in opposing so-called "isms," which they claim will handicap the party.

When the Kilbourne men secured the location of this convention at Columbus there was a strong effort to have it held at Cleveland. As a compromise Hon. Charles P. Salem, who is in the cabinet of Mayor Johnson, of Cleveland, was selected as temporary chairman. He is expected to speak tomorrow morning on the "Johnson policies," but he will be followed by a conservative as permanent chairman and by the adoption of what is known as the conservative platform.

At the conferences this morning it was evident the conservative will control the twenty-one congressional districts and, therefore, have all the committees which meet tonight to prepare their reports for the convention which assembles tomorrow morning. There was considerable hustling for members of the committee on credentials on account of local fights in some counties, notably Montgomery, Butler and Union. The state committee and the committee on resolutions were in the hands of the conservatives before the district meetings were held, but there was no friction. Every effort seemed to have been made for harmony by the conservatives, but they insisted on harmony being secured without any compromise with what they termed as "new ideas," or "experiments."

CHAS. DUNN HELD FOR MURDER

Wealthy Sawmill Owner of Wallen in Jail Charged With Brutal Murder of Ten-Year-Old Alice Cothrell--- Warrant Issued Today.

CORONER'S FINDING SAYS GIRL WAS CHOKED TO DEATH

(From Tuesday's Daily.)

As the result of Coroner Barnett's investigation into the death of little Alice Cothrell, whose lifeless body was dragged from a cistern at Wallen Sunday afternoon, Charles Dunn, owner of the premises and one of the best known citizens of that village, is locked up in the Allen county jail facing a charge of murder.

Dunn was taken into custody at 10 o'clock Monday evening upon the orders of Coroner Barnett and Prosecutor Emrick. Today the coroner filed in Justice France's court a formal charge of murder against Dunn. Justice France issued a warrant, which was served upon the prisoner in his cell at the jail.

FIXED FOR SATURDAY.

At 2 o'clock this afternoon Dunn was brought into Justice France's court by Deputy Sheriff Huguenard, for the purpose of arranging a date for the preliminary hearing.

Attorney Henry Colerick, representing the defendant, was not present, and after waiting some time the preliminary hearing was fixed for Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock. Mr. Dunn was unwilling to agree upon a time for the hearing until his attorney was present, and Prosecutor Emrick then stated that in case the date was not satisfactory to the defense another would be arranged.

There were but few spectators in the court room, and no excitement. Dunn held some conversation with his farm hand with reference to the farm work, and was then led back to jail. The accused man was perfectly cool and self-possessed while in court.

THE CHARGE OF MURDER.

The coroner's affidavit which charges Dunn with a most atrocious crime was prepared by Prosecuting Attorney Emrick this morning and reads as follows:

"State of Indiana, Allen county, ss.: Walter W. Barnett swears that Chares Dunn, on the 2d day of July, A. D. 1901, at the county of Allen and state of Indiana, did feloniously and purposely and with premeditated malice kill and murder Alice Cothrell, by then and there unlawfully, feloniously, purposely and with premeditated malice with his hands then and there upon the throat and neck of sad Alice Cothrell, and then and there and thereby inflicting upon the neck of Alice Cothrell a mortal pressure, choking and strangling her with intent then and there and thereby to unlawfully, feloniously, purposely and with premeditated malice to kill and murder said Alice Cothrell, of which choking pressure and strangling Alice Cothrell then and there died.

"Walter W. Barnett.

"Subscribed and sworn to before me this 9th day of July, 1901.

"E. V. Emrick,

A SENSATIONAL OUTCOME.

A more sensational outcome could have hardly been imagined, for evidence adduced at the inquest leads the officers to believe that a criminal assault upon the person of the little girl had first been attempted; that the assailant in attempting to prevent his victim from crying out had strangled her to death, and that life was extinct when the body was placed in the water.

The sensational denouement came after a day of intense excitement among the population of the village of Wallen, nearly half of whom were in the city Monday, either subpoenaed as witnesses or present from their desire to ascertain the outcome of the inquest. It was evident, also, that there was nearly universal expectation of something of a sensational nature in the outcome of the mysterious case, and public interest was keyed up to the highest tension. All day long the men stood in groups in the corridors of the court house, discussing the case in subdued tones, and there was evidence of much feeling in the matter.

It was 10 o'clock Monday night before the last of seventeen witnesses had been examined. The original intention had been to take an adjournment until today, but in consideration of the busy season for the farmers whose presence was required at home, Coroner Barnett continued the taking of testimony during the evening.

Long before the conclusion of the evidence, however, Coroner Barnett and Prosecutor Emrick had determined that testimony had been adduced sufficient to warrant holding Dunn upon a very serious charge, and they quietly instructed Sheriff Stout to keep him under surveillance.

TAKEN INTO CUSTODY.

Mr. Dunn was apparently little expecting the shock in store for him, and he spent the time quietly walking up and down the corridors of the court house, occasionally speaking to a friend, but for the most part alone.

At the conclusion of the inquest Dr. Barnett and Prosecutor Emrick stepped across the hall to the sheriff's office, instructing Sheriff Stout to take Dunn into custody. The prosecutor and the coroner returned to their office, and Mr. Stout quietly accosted Dunn, who was pacing up and down the hall. Calling him to one side the sheriff informed Dunn that he had been directed to take him in charge to be held until morning.

Dunn took the arrest very quietly, though asserting his innocence, and asked:

"But can't I give bond?"

"You will have to see the officers about that," replied the sheriff. Together they entered the coroner's office, where Dunn propounded a similar inquiry, and was informed that only a court could admit him to bond. The prisoner spoke but little more, and without further ado accompanied Sheriff Stout to the jail, where he was locked up for the night, reiterating his innocence of any crime.

Previous to going Dunn informed the coroner that he had some witnesses he wished to have examined by that official, and was told that the officer would hear anyone he desired to have offer testimony.

Earlier in the evening Dunn expressed the fear that the result of the inquest would be the holding of the domestic, Marie Sampleton, and he went to Sheriff Stout and remarked that the girl was surely innocent of any wrong doing, but asked that in case she had to be locked up the sheriff provide her as comfortable a room as possible.

OFFICERS ARE CONFIDENT.

Both Coroner Barnett and Prosecutor Emrick are convinced by their investigations that a crime of most henious character has been committed, and state that the evidence thus far makes it look extremely dark for the prisoner, though it is, of course, of a circumstantial character. The officers will continue at work upon the case, and seem confident that the weight of evidence will be overwhelming. The evidence shows also that there is a tremendous sentiment in the vicinity of Wallen against the prisoner, and whether this is well-founded or not the courts of justice will have to determine when the case comes up for formal trial.

After the recovery of the remains of the little girl Sunday evening a post mortem examination was held, but the discoveries were carefully guarded until after the inquest, when it became known that evidences of an attempt at criminal assault were found, together with indications that the child had been choked, and that death had ensued before the body had been placed in the water. The examination of witnesses by Coroner Barnett and Prosecutor Emrick was most searching, and no inquest in recent years has aroused public interest so completely.

SOME OF THE EVIDENCE.

Seventeen witnesses examined by the coroner on Monday covered the whole story of the mystery from the disappearance of little Alice Cothrell on Tuesday afternoon, July 2; detailed the anxious and persistent search for the body; the tramping over miles of territory; the searching of every nook and corner of the village and vicinity down to the final determination to search the cistern upon the premises of Dunn, near where the girl was last seen alive. Perhaps the most important of these seventeen witnesses were Marie Sampleton, Dunn's servant girl; Mr. and Mrs. Cothrell, parents of the victim; J. A. Noonan, J. E. Ballou, George Warcup, Dr. Greenwell and that of Dunn himself.

Marie Sampleton, the domestic in the Dunn household, a girl of 17, testified that she was washing and baking on the Tuesday in question; that in the morning Mr. Dunn drew the water for her from the cistern beneath the kitchen, and later had gone to his work hauling logs. He came back about 2 o'clock. Alice Cothrell, who was a frequent visitor at the home, came in about 1 o'clock and left about fifteen or twenty minutes later. About 1 o'clock Mrs. Dunn asked who was screaming, and witness told her it must be the Hare boys, living next door. Witness was not away from the house on Tuesday except for a few minutes at a time. She thought the cistern was open when the Cothrell girl was in the house, and said the Dunn family used the cistern water for drinking purposes.

Alex Hueguenard, who appears to have been the last to see the little girl alive, testified that he saw her enter the Dunn home a little before 1 o'clock on Tuesday. He also testified that for the past week or more Dunn had been getting four or five pails of water daily from his Hueguenard's) well. There are four in Dunn's family—Mr. and Mrs. Dunn, the domestic and the hired man.

DUNN ON THE STAND.

Dunn was on the witness stand longer than any other person examined, and in the opinion of the officers his testimony did him most harm. He made the claim that he had not returned home until about 2 o'clock on July 2; ate his lunch, and that later he went out into the garden and the weeds to hunt for the missing child. His statement that he had been informed while eating that the child was missing was denied by another witness. Dunn asserts that he searched during the afternoon for the child until a man came along with a load of hay and asked for help to unload it. Dunn assisted and then resumed his search for the child; hunting through the weeds till supper time; thought the girl might have been sunstruck and fallen there. The officers assert that none of the Cothrell family were alarmed about the girl's disappearance or inquired after her until after 7 o'clock that evening. Dunn stated that he did not join any of the searching parties during the week, but did hunting on his own account, working away from the house a distance of perhaps half a mile. He denied any knowledge of anything criminal, and was positive in the belief that the child must have fallen into the cistern accidentally.

Ira Reed, who is employed by Dunn, testified that two or three times during the week while at meals Mrs. Dunn had told her husband that she feared the little girl was in the cistern. Dunn would say she wasn't, but, "in order to satisfy you, I will rake it out." Each time, however, he left the house without paying any further attention to it. Marie Sampleton corroborated this portion of the testimony so far as the statement of Mrs. Dunn was concerned, but could not tell why he had not raked it. Dunn's excuse for the fact that the cistern had not been raked was that he did not think it possible for anybody to get in there and did not think it worth while.

SAID HE HAD SEARCHED.

F. Grosjean testified that Dunn had told him that he had thoroughly raked that cistern and examined every foot of ground in Wallen; that if they found the child they would have to hunt fifteen or twenty miles away. He also told Andrew Fair that he had raked every well and cistern in the town; that it was no use to examine that cistern, because she was not there. Dunn did not remember of seeing Alice at all on the day she disappeared.

The evidence of George Warcup, James E. Ballou and James A. Noonan was to the effect that Dunn had objected to anyone making an

MAY PREVENT A SETTLEMENT

Discharge of Amalgamated Steel Workers' Members at Wellsville, Ohio, Likely to Cause a General Steel Strike.

Pittsburg, Pa., July 8.—The peremptory dismissal on Saturday of twelve members of the Amalgamated association at Wellsville plant of the American Steel Sheet Co., may seriously affect the expected settlement this week of the iron and steel strike. When seen this morning, President Shaffer, of the Amalgamated association, was very much exercised over the turn affairs had taken.

"I cannot say when or where the conference will take place," said he, "but one thing is certain, there will be no conference until the men discharged at Wellsville are reinstated. These men come to us. They violated no law of the land and we shall protect them. If they are not reinstated and the conference postponed, the general strike will come on. This is a repetition of what the manufacturers did last year. They signed the scale for Saltsburg and Old Meadows and then stole these mills from us. The men at Wellsville have been organized for months. I sent word for them not to come out, as I wanted a peaceable settlement. I do not blame the chief officials. As usual the trouble comes from some middleman, who cannot realize that he may be undoing the conservative work of thoughtful men on both sides, or that his action may involve the commercial world."

Although as yet no word has been received officially by the officers of Pittsburg district have now signed the scale but A. M. Byers & Co., and their signature is expected as soon as the repairs to the plant are completed.

CONFERENCE IN PITTSBURG.

New York, July 8.—There will be no conference here today to deal with the points of conflict in the sheet steel strike, but there will be a meeting at Pittsburg. The directors of the United States Steel corporation and the companies forming it who are in New York are watching the situation closely, but have taken no direct part in the dispute. One of the directors of the general corporation made this statement to the Associated Press today:

"President Shaffer, of the Amalgamated association, requested a conference with representatives of the sheet and hoop interests and our answer was a favorable one. That conference is to be held today at Pittsburg. The outcome is problematical. The statement that there would be a meeting here today with J. Pierpont Morgan in attendance is erroneous. There will be no meeting, and as far as I know, Mr. Morgan has taken no part in the matter. We here in New York are watching the situation, but we have taken no part in the alleged differences. I know nothing of any future meetings here and don't believe there will be any."

All the independent companies in the Amalgamated association from the American Sheet Steel company and the American Steel Hoop company, requesting that the wage conference be reopened, it is expected that such a note will be received during the day. If the Wellsville matter can be settled, the conference will then, it is believed, be quickly arranged, an agreement reached and the strike declared off before the end of the week.

There was a resumption of work in many iron and steel mills today. The mills have been idle for two weeks for repairs. It is supposed that fully twelve thousand men returned to work today.

The following concerns signed the Amalgamated scale today: Standard Chain Co., Columbus, O.; Niles Iron and Sheet Co., Niles, O.; Lake Erie Iron Co., Cleveland; Empire Rolling Mill Co., Empire, O., and the Pittsburg Forge and Iron Co., of this citiy.

RUMOR OF SETTLEMENT.

New York, July 8.—The World says:

A plan has been agreed upon which will settle the great steel strike within the next five days. As matters stand all that remains to be done is to hold a final meeting to formally ratify the plan and announce its terms. The program now is to hold that meeting and make that announcement on Wednesday or Thursday of this week in New York or Pittsburg.

The main points at issue have been settled and there will be no great steel strike, such as was contemplated a week ago. It may be stated that this early settlement is the direct result of J. P. Morgan's efforts. If the conference which is to formally end the strike is held here it will be at the office of Mr. Morgan; if in Pittsburg, at the office of the American Tin Plate company. Representatives of the general board of the United States Steel corporation, all the subsidiary companies whose interests are affected, as well as the leaders of the various labor bodies in the Amalgamated association were notified on Saturday night of the coming conference and were invited to send representatives.

Charles M. Schwab, president of the United States Steel company, who is at Manhattan Beach, declines to discuss the strike. He was asked:

"Will you see Mr. Morgan tomorrow to discuss the terms for ending the strike?"

"Oh, I don't know about that. I see Mr. Morgan every day and we discuss many things."

AN HEIR TO MILLIONS.

Wabash, Ind., July 8.—A probable heir to part of the vast property left by Leonard Case, of Cleveland, Ohio, lives at South Whitley. He is Valentine Wagner and has passed the three-score and ten limit. Mr. Wagner expects, if his claim is allowed in the courts, to have from $4,000,000 to $5,000,000 as his share of the estate. Mr. Case, it is claimed, died intestate and possessing a fortune of $20,000,000. He had neither wife nor children and his nearest relatives are eight cousins. Mr. Wagner is a great-nephew, on the side of his mother, and has employed lawyers to prosecute his case. The estate, it is said, has almost doubled in value since the death of Mr. Case.

DEDICATE CATHOLIC CHURCH.

Richmond, Ind., July 8.—The new St. Andrew's Catholic church was dedicated yesterday with elaborate ceremonies. Bishop O'Donoghue officiated at the celebration of pontifical high mass, assisted by a dozen or more prominent Catholic clergymen of the state. Rev. Father Bosche, of St. Louis, delivered the dedicatory sermon. There were 5,000 visitors in the city and one feature of the day was a parade, in which many Catholic organizations took part. The new church cost $75,000 and was built upon the site of the edifice destroyed by fire in August of last year.

HUNDREDS OF LIVES LOST.

Tacoma, Wash., July 8.—Canton advices by the steamer Braemer give details of the loss of 300 lives by landslide and flood, occurring at Lung Keng in June. The landslide was caused by a tremendous earthquake. There were many crashes resembling thunder. Native accounts state that a great flood of water poured out of the mountains, carrying everything before it. Two hundred houses were swept away and the fields swept bare of crops. Several great landslides occurred, carrying a large portion of Lung Keng into the bay. What appeared like a tidal wave followed, making it impossible for any who were carried into the water to escape. Robbers in Wang Tung provinces are kidnaping people to realize money. Dozens of women and children have been abducted. A Buddhist nun, convicted of harboring kidnapers, is being publicly exhibited in a cage at Canton. Six kidnaped women were found in a convent.

SENSATIONAL TRAGEDY.

New York, July 8.—Edward Luthy, forty-three years of age, a bookmaker on the eastern race tracks, who lived here with his wife, Abbie L. Luthy, and four of her children by a former husband, killed his wife by shooting her in the head last evening, after she had taken refuge on a fire escape. Then he shot himself. Dozens of pedestrians on Park avenue, opposite the house where the Luthys lived, saw the woman killed and saw her body fall from one landing of the fire escape to the one below. Jealousy and a quarrel, growing out of a delayed dinner, is supposed to have been the cause of the shooting. Luthy is in a hospital, and though the wound is serious, it may not prove fatal. He says his wife tried to shoot him first.

Leonard Walker, a merchant tailor of Butler, Ind., spent a few days in the city last week, combining business with pleasure. He returned home Saturday afternoon.

examination of his property, and particularly of the cistern; that he became very angry about it and at first refused to allow anything of the kind and only yielded when it was made clear to him that they had come for that purpose and intended to do it whether they had his consent or not. Then Dunn said that one or two might come, but they would find nothing there. The testimony of other witnesses for the most part corroborated that of Messrs. Warcup, Ballou, Nooman and Fair.

SOME CONTRADICTIONS.

Dunn testified that the hired girl had been instructed to keep track of Alice whenever she was in the house; that she was meddlesome; also to keep her out of the garden, because Mrs. Dunn, who is an invalid, was jealous of some strawberries and a few cherries on a tree, and was afraid Alice would get them. Miss Sampleton says she was never instructed to watch Alice in regard to those things; did not hear strawberries or cherries mentioned.

Dunn admitted having told people, including two deputy sheriffs, that he had searched his premises, giving as his reason that he feared the result of the excitement of a search upon Mrs. Dunn, who has been mentally afflicted for some time.

DR. GREENWELL'S TESTIMONY.

Dr. Greenwell, of Huntertown, who was called into the case Sunday evening by Coroner Barnett, testified that he had examined the body of Alice Cothrell externally and found no lacerations or cuts about the body made prior to death; there was one contusion on the right limb below the knee that had existed long enough to become bluish in color, and was consequently not received by falling into the cistern.

Further examination revealed the thyroid region of the neck engorged and distended with the left thyroid gland slightly enlarged, indicating compression of the neck by pressure on either side of the thyroid cartilage. The doctor then told of the discoveries which indicate an attempt at criminal assault shortly before death.

LUNGS FILLED WITH AIR.

Examination of the lungs showed them to be completely filled with air throughout, and no water either in the throat, trachea or lung tissue. It was impossible to expel any water from the thoracic cavity, though the child had been lifted out of the cistern head first, laid upon her back and never turned over, and there was no opportunity for accidental drainage. For that reason Dr. Greenwell expressed the opinion that the child had been asphyxiated by pressure of the hand, and that life had been extinct prior to introduction to the water.

There is said to have been considerable additional testimony by these and other witnesses which will be brought out when the case comes to trial.

THE DEATH CERTIFICATE.

The certificate and record of death as prepared by Coroner Barnett for the board of health is as follows:

"I hereby certify that she (Alice Cothrell) died on July 2, 1901, about 1:15 o'clock p. m., and that to the best of my knowledge and belief the cause of death was as hereunder written:

"Disease causing death—asphyxiation.

"Immediate cause of death—choked with a hand.

"Post mortem—yes; thyroid region indurated and engorged; lungs crepetus and free of any water.

"W. Wynn Barnett, Coroner.

COVERED THE CASE.

The coroner's examination was most exhaustive, and those familiar with the situation believe it almost impossible that the child could have fallen into the cistern accidentally. The cistern, a large one, is located beneath the kitchen at the Dunn home, and is covered with a board top with sliding lid fourteen inches under the floor. The opening in the floor itself is the space between the joists, which are sixteen inches apart, and the opening is twenty and one-half inches long. The opening in the cistern top seems to extend longest north and south, while in the floor it is directly opposite, the longer opening being east and west. The space between the floor and the top of the cistern is about eighteen inches. It is pointed out that there would be small chance for a child falling in one opening without being able to catch herself upon the second platform. And in the event of such a fall some bruises would almost certainly have been present upon the body, which was not the case.

DUNN WELL KNOWN.

Charles Dunn, the accused man, is perhaps sixty-five years of age, and is widely known all over the county, where he has spent almost his entire life. He formerly resided in Lake township, and has been engaged in the sawmill business for many years. He owned the old Dunn sawmill on the Goshen road, later moved to Fort Wayne, and for several years owned the mill along the old feeder canal near the electric power station, and resided on Spy Run avenue. Some months ago he removed to Wallen and has been operating a mill there. He is a man of considerable means, and owns among other property a fine farm in Lake township. His wife has been mentally afflicted for several years. There is one son, William Dunn, who resides in this city.

The officers say that Dunn has before been connected with some unsavory suspicions regarding young girls, and that upon one occasion he was up before the grand jury, but no incriminating evidence could be found, and nothing ever came of the case.

RETAINED AN ATTORNEY.

Through the ordeal of the past two days Dunn has retained a marked composure, and at the jail he had very little to say beyond asserting his innocence. Early this morning he sent for Attorney Henry Colerick, and the two were in conference in Dunn's cell at the jail during the greater part of the forenoon.

A reporter for The Sentinel who called at the jail today was very pleasantly greeted by the prisoner, but he declined to discuss the case, merely remarking:

"I have nothing to say except that I am innocent. I do not know what I could say, for I know absolutely nothing about the disappearance of that girl."

Dunn says he is 61 years of age, though he has the appearance of being somewhat older, and while it is evident he realizes the seriousness of the charges against him, he is perfectly composed.

AFTER NEW EVIDENCE.

It is stated today that Coroner Barnett learned of some additional circumstances in the case which are regarded as important, though the officials decline to disclose the nature of the discoveries. Coroner Barnett, Prosecutor Emrick and Stenographer Fonner went to Wallen at 4 o'clock this afternoon to look up additional testimony.

A DEMAND OF THE DEFENSE.

At 3:15 this afternoon Henry Colerick, counsel for Dunn, served notice on Coroner Barnett and States Attorney Emrick, demanding that two physicians, naming G. L. Greenawalt and Maurice Rosenthal, be allowed to make an examination of the lungs of the dead girl, to determine whether or not death occurred before or after submersion in the cistern. The state offered no objection to the demand.

ARE HELD AS WITNESSES.

Shortly before 8 o'clock Tuesday evening Sheriff Stout took Marie Sampleton into custody, and an hour later Del Reed, the hired man at the Dunn place was locked up. They are held as witnesses in the case, and their detention is the result of a visit to Wallen Tuesday afternoon by Coroner Barnett and Prosecutor Emrick. It is the very general opinion at the village that both the girl and the boy know more than they have yet told concerning the case, and testimony given by Mrs. Madden at Wallen Tuesday evening is to the effect that Reed told her he did not tell all he knew at the inquest.

WILL BE POSTPONED.

The post mortem examination of the body of little Alice Cothrell by Dr. Maurice Rosenthal and Dr. G. L. Greenawalt, for the defense, will be held this afternoon, and this will necessitate a postponement of the funeral of the little girl, which was to have been held this morning at 10 o'clock.

BAD WRECK ON LAKE SHORE TRACK

Cleveland, Ohio, July 9.—One of the worst wrecks on the Lake Shore road in years occurred at 2:30 o'clock this morning in the center of the village of Nottingham, ten miles east of Cleveland. The Southwestern limited on the Big Four, from St. Louis, Cincinnati and other western cities, and which goes onto the Lake Shore tracks in this city, was ditched through collision with a portion of a freight train. Just what caused the wreck is not definitely known, but it is thought a portion of a freight train that had broken in two had rolled onto the passenger tracks. No passengers were killed.

The dead are:

Frank Anderson, engineer of the passenger train, of Buffalo.

O. G. McCullen, of Cincinnati, mail clerk.

The injured:

W. M. Baker, of Columbus, mail clerk, injured on head and body; not serious.

E. F. Loveless, Cincinnati, mail clerk; slight.

Two unknown tramps badly hurt.

The shock to the passenger coaches was terrific, and though the occupants were badly shaken up, no passengers were hurt.

When the front end of the engine plowed into the ground of the gulley it became disconnected from the other coaches that went over the embankment and swirled sideways so that it pointed in the other direction. The mail car crashed into the tender, surrounding it completely. The engineer met his death by being pinioned under his engine. McCullen, the mail clerk, was crushed between the side of the car and coal tender. He was found with his head forced down between his knees. Two mail clerks, when they awoke to their condition, were able to extricate themselves from the wreck without assistance. At least one person is believed to be buried under the wreck.

The Lake Shore track is blocked east and all trains are being sent over the Nickel Plate.

QUIET IS RESTORED TO WALL STREET

New York, July 9.—The nervous feeling caused on the stock market by yesterday's violent slump in prices was relieved by the prompt recovery after the opening dip this morning. The recovery was due to powerful support in the shape of buying orders from bankers and syndicates whose great projects would be endangered if liquidation were forced. As a result of eagerness to sell and strenuous efforts from other quarters to buy, there were wide openings in stocks of the grangers, Pacific and southwestern railroads. Louisville lost 3⅜, Southern Pacific 2¾, Baltimore and Ohio 3¼ and others a point or more. The opening prices were generally lowest and the determined buying lifted prices steadily to well above last night, where they were held quite firmly, in the front of railroad men of the sorbed.

BUILD KNITTING MILL.

Michael Baltes and J. A. Reichelt, of this city, together with Messrs. Peter Parnin, George J. Bippus, A. L. Beck, Charles Arnold, Heber Harter and Jacob Dick, all of Huntington, are interested in a new enterprise for the Lime City, the Huntington Knitting Mills company, and an organization will be effected as soon as the incorporation papers are returned. The capital stock is $30,000, and a factory 50x150 feet will be erected at once. About 150 operatives will be employed. Mr. Reichelt was foreman of the United Knitting mills of this city, and he will probably be made superintendent of the new factory. Machinery will be imported from Germany and the work of erecting the factory will begin soon.

WANTS TO KNOW.

Chicago and other metropolitan papers on the 4th inst. detailed how a certain Harry E. Fitzpatrick was standing in the entrance of the Maryland hotel in Chicago, with a huge cannon firecracker under his arm, when a mischievous lad touched a match to the hanging fuse. An explosion followed which blew some lungs, ribs and side walls, together with a lot of digestive apparatus out of the said Fitzpatrick. Mrs. Harry Fitzpatrick, of Cincinnati, read the account and wrote to Engineer Fitzpatrick, of 63 East Third street, to inquire whether the victim of the explosion was his son and her husband, from whom she had been separated for some time.

Engineer Fitzpatrick called at the police station this afternoon to ask the department to make some inquiries at Chicago, and Detective Coling this afternoon wrote a letter to Superintendent Gorsline, now in Chicago, asking him to make an investigation. Harry Fitzpatrick is well known in this city and has been living in Chicago and stopping at the Hotel Maryland for over a year.

LINEMAN KILLED AT AUBURN.

Auburn, Ind., July 9.—Special.—George Tomlison, a lineman employed by the Central Union Telephone company in this city, was instantly killed by a fall at 2:30 o'clock this afternoon. Tomlison was making some repairs to a telephone line and had placed a ladder from a building across to the cable pole. He walked out upon this ladder, and when midway across it the ladder broke, precipitating him a distance of twenty-five feet. The unfortunate man struck upon his head, literally splitting the skull open and scattering his brains about upon the ground. Death was instantaneous.

Spann, of Indianapolis, member of the board of trustees of the Indiana school for feeble minded, and now in this city, was a passenger aboard the Big Four train that was wrecked this morning at Nottingham, near Cleveland. Mrs. Spann telegraphed her husband this morning as follows: "Not hurt; am safe. Crew killed in collision." Mr. Spann called at The Sentinel office this morning for particulars of the wreck. Mrs. Spann left Indianapolis with him last evening, going on to Cleveland by the Big Four train which was wrecked.

PRINCE VON HOHENLOHE IS DEAD

Berlin, July 6.—Prince Von Hohenlohe, formerly German imperial chancellor, died at Ragatz, Switzerland, last evening.

Prince Von Hohenlohe's death was generally unexpected here, as he left Berlin, several weeks ago, apparently in good health, although his increasing weakness was evident. The prince arrived at Ragatz extremely exhausted. His death is attributed to the weakness of old age. The arrangements for the transportation of the body to Germany nor the obsequies are not definitely determined upon, but it is expected that the remains will be conveyed to the Hohenlohe ancestral home, at Schillingsfuerst, Batavia, where the family vault is situated and where the body of Prince Von Hohenlohe's wife is interred. It is also expected that Chancellor Von Buelow will break his seaside rest and attend the funeral.

Although Emperor William has fixed his departure on his trip to Norway for Monday next, it is deemed likely that his majesty will once more postpone the date of his starting on his trip in order to enable him to attend the obsequies. Owing to Emperor William's relationship to Prince Von Hohenlohe his majesty always called the prince "Uncle Chlodwig."

It is not believed here that the body of Prince Von Hohenlohe will be brought to Berlin before being taken to Schillingsfuerst.

The officials of the United States embassy informed the correspondent of the Associated Press that the death of the former chancellor was much regretted, because of his uniform kindliness towards Americans and American interests.

Prince Von Hohenlohe's attitude through his chancellorship was always fair and conciliatory in regard to German-American relations. Although he was an extensive estate owner, he did not share the agrarian hostility towards the United States. It was owing, in a large measure, to Prince Von Hohenlohe's friendly spirit during several trying years that Germany's relations with the United States never departed from cordiality. He received many Americans and was always friendly to them. At the time of the death of United States Ambassador Theodore B. Runyon, in 1896, which occurred in the middle of the night, Secretary Jackson went, early in the morning, to inform the cabinet ministers of the ambassador's demise, but only found Pince Von Hohenlohe ready to receive him.

THE SALOONKEEPERS ARE FINED

New Warrants Issued for Liquor Dealers Whose Cases Were Dismissed Friday and the Judge Fixes the Penalties.

(From Saturday's Daily.)

At yesterday afternoon's session of police court the court officers, the attorneys and the persons interested were holding a caucus to determine the disposition of certain liquor cases as The Sentinel went to press. Later the cases were summarily dismissed by Judge Louttit for want of prosecution, as the entry on the police court docket shows. The persons against whom charges were made were Ed Kleindinst, Ed O'Meara, William Christen, L. Singleton and John Condon, and they and their attorneys thought the matter was permanently disposed of by the dismissal. William Hollenbeck and Dan Hurley had previously pleaded guilty to the same charge as that standing against the above named men, and had been fined. Immediately there was a howl; just where it started nobody knows, but there was a loud and troublesome kick made right away, and it was charged that there was collusion between the liquor men and the court, or between the liquor men and the prosecutor, and the rumor would not down. Judge Louttit said he was indignant at the way the cases were being prosecuted and the prosecutor was mad because the cases were dismissed. A morning paper interviewed Mr. Louttit and Mr. Emrick and from the expression of the gentlemen as printed there would appear to be a friction in their official relations, which, however, is not the case, as subsequent investigation shows. The dismissal of the cases in the first place was the result of a misunderstanding all around. P. B. Colerick represented the liquor dealers and he intimated that his clients would enter a plea of guilty, but he afterwards stipulated that the charge would have to be changed from violation of the screen law to Sabbath desecration. He insisted on this as a matter of protection only and not as a matter of economy. The screen law is a part of the Nicholson bill, and the Nicholson bill provides that for the third violation of any of its sections a license may be revoked. The prosecutor would not agree to the change and the trial of the cases hung fire for an hour. Meantime the officers who had made the affidavits and who were in court to testify were given to understand that pleas of guilty would be entered and were told that their presence was no longer required and they went away. Presently there was no one left but the attorneys, the liquor dealers' representatives and the court, and then it was that Judge Louttit said he was tired of dilly-dallying any longer and that unless the state proceeded at once he would dismiss the cases. This he proceeded to do and when the prosecutor returned to the room he found that two cases had been dismissed and so he let them all go by the board, although, as Mr. Louttit admits, he did protest against the dismissal of the case against O'Meara, who had not yet been in court and had entered no plea. This morning Detective Coling, acting under instructions from the prosecutor, filed new affidavits against the same five men, identical with the original affidavits, charging violation of the Nicholson law, and the cases were tried this morning at the regular session of police court. The liquor dealers were represented by H. A. Wiebke and Otto Strobel, officers of the league, and there was a long and painful holdup pending the arrival of the prosecuting officers who had been sent for. The dealers showed fight, but finally near 10 o'clock Mr. Wiebke threw about two pounds and a half of paper money on the judge's desk and told him to "take it out of that." He entered a plea of guilty for Kleindinst, O'Meara, Christen and Singleton, and the judge fined them $20 each. This left Mr. Condon still out in the cold, he being a member of the other liquor association. He was sent for, but was in no hurry to respond, as he suavely told the messenger that he would be down in "an hour or two." Presently Mr. Colerick, Mr. Lassus and Mr. Condon put in an appearance and after learning what disposition had been made of the other cases, they also pleaded guilty and Mr. Condon's $20 dropped into the slot. This disposed of all the cases on top at this time.

CLAIMED TO BE OF ROYALTY.

New York, July 6.—A woman, who, with almost her last breath, held to the story that she was the eldest daughter of Queen Victoria and the prince consort, is dead in this city, having expired in the German hospital, a victim of the heat and of insufficient nutriment. Through the charity of a doctor, who believed her story implicitly and who learned of her demise, her body will not be buried in Potter's field, but it will be buried this afternoon in Calvary cemetery.

The woman, who was known as Sophie Adelaide and Mrs. Kent, always insisted that as an infant she was taken from her royal mother and in her place was substituted the daughter of Prince Albert, by his morganatic wife, the Countess De Reuss. Up to the time, it is said, of her coming to America, which was shortly after the death of John Brown, the queen's highland attendant, Sophia Adelaide received remittances in Paris or wherever she might be through Rev. Ward Bouvie, of Cole's Hill, England.

Then these remittances stopped and she inquired into the cause, she found that Mr. Bouvie was dead and thence further remittances were paid to her by John Brown himself, it is said.

At his death they ceased altogether. She made several ineffectual attempts to obtain a settlement and when these failed she came to this country and brought out a book, which, it is said, had been suppressed in England and Germany. It contained her contentions.

DESPERADO FOUND IN PRISON.

Wabash, Ind., July 5.—Sheriff Stewart and Marshal Lines, who have been scouring the United States for Henry Simmons, who attempted to murder William Cox on September 15, shooting him in the back with a shotgun, have their man where he can't get away. He is a convict in the southern Illinois penitentiary, having been sent up from a little town down in Egypt for burglary. He was caught with his set of burglar's tools in his possession. He will serve out his sentence at Chester and will then be brought to Wabash. Simmons served one term of four years in the Columbus, Ohio, penitentiary for attempted murder and afterward served two years at Michigan City for burglary. Cox, into whose back he pumped a big charge of shot, lay for weeks at the point of death and is now a hopeless physical wreck. The shooting was the result of a flogging Cox gave Simmons for annoying his wife.

LIFE IS BLOWN OUT.

Frankfort, July 6.—Shreds of human flesh, a few fragments of bone and tatters of clothing scattered around the barn lot near a deep hole in the ground, all that was left of William Conrad, greeted his mother's gaze on her homecoming at their farm near Colfax, ten miles west of here last evening. Conrad, who was thirty years old and unmarried, went to Colfax to purchase dynamite with which to blast stumps yesterday afternoon. Securing about thirty pounds of the explosive he returned to his home in a buggy. No one was present when Conrad reached home, but shortly after his arrival a terrific explosion, which shook the country for miles around, took place. Neighbors, attracted by the sound of the explosion, hastened to the scene, just after the unfortunate young man's mother, who had been absent on a visit, drove into the barn yard. The aged mother is prostrated over the shock of the ghastly sight. No one witnessed the accident, but it is believed that Conrad, after taking his horse into the barn, returned to remove the dynamite from the buggy when in some manner the stuff was exploded. The buggy was torn to pieces and a hole three feet deep was made in the ground. Conrad's body was literally blown to atoms. The Conrads are prominently connected and the victim of the explosion was one of the most popular young men of the neighborhood. The coroner is holding an inquest tonight.

BEGIN A NEW LINE.

Next Monday morning the National Telephone and Telegraph company, of this city, will begin the construction of a new toll line from Auburn to Corunna, a distance of twelve miles, and will also construct a new farmers' line with ten connections. This will give the National company service out of Auburn in every direction.

LIGHTNING KILLS COW.

Lightning Thursday night struck the barn of Herman Wertman, in which was stabled there, but the building was not set on fire. The residence of Mrs. Mary Garman, in Perry township, was partially burned a few days ago. The Allen County Farmers' Mutual Insurance company carried policies on both buildings.

Miss Anna Philley and her niece, Miss Anna Virginia, gave a reading at Ossian on the evening of July 4.

AT HER OLD HOME

MRS. M'KINLEY HAS REACHED CANTON SAFELY.

TRIP MADE WITHOUT MISHAP

OLD NEIGHBORS GREET HER AT THE TRAIN.

NO DEMONSTRATION MADE

PEOPLE COULD NOT REPRESS A CHEER.

Canton, Ohio, July 6.—The train bearing the presidential party arrived here at 10:15 this morning. Mrs. McKinley stood the journey well.

Owing to Mrs. McKinley's illness there was no formal demonstration at the station upon the arrival of the train, it being feared that the noise and confusion incident upon such a reception would have an unfavorable effect upon the patient.

There was, however, a very large crowd present that completely filled the station platform. When the president and Mrs. McKinley stepped from the train a hearty cheer of welcome went up. In accordance with the wishes of the president to make the home-coming as quiet as possible, none of the reception committees that have heretofore welcomed the president were present as organizations, but were there as individuals.

The president's carriage arrived from Washington several days ago and in it the chief executive and Mrs. McKinley were driven to their old home.

For several days past servants have been busily engaged in preparing the house for the comfort of the president and Mrs. McKinley. It was said by members of the president's party that Mrs. McKinley had stood the trip exceedingly well and that her condition continued favorable.

MR. ELLISON'S PAPER.

(Indianapolis News.)

T. E. Ellison, of the board of state charities, has contributed to the report of the international prison commission a comprehensive article on Indiana's prison system. After picturing the life of the inmates of each instituton within this system, Mr. Ellison expreses the belief that the outlook, generally speaking, is more encouraging now than ever before. He finds the moral tone of the institutions improved, a brighter feeling among the prisoners, and an increased willingness in the public mind to give the discharged convict a second chance. If this is true, and coming from an authority like Mr. Ellison, we may assume that it is, it means that we are approaching that enlightened and ameliorated attitude toward the criminal class, which a Christian nation should take. Mr. Ellison believes that this attitude would be made more complete and more effectual if instead of having a single board of each penal institution as at present, there were established a single board with jurisdiction over all and if all sentences were made indeterminate. He is confident that only a short time will elapse before the benefits of the parole law will be extended to all life prisoners after they have served a term of fifteen or twenty years. The publication of his views in this connection indicates the high esteem in which he is held by those who know where to look for an authoritative opinion. Indiana, in this respect, has taken high rank.

DIED AT DANVILLE.

Word has just been received in the city of the death of Mrs. Bert Graham, which occurred at her home, 1320 McKinley avenue, Danville, Ill. The deceased was a sister of Mrs. Wormcastle, of this city, who was at her bedside when death came. Mrs. Graham had many acquaintances in Fort Wayne, who will regret to learn of her death.

ANTWERP TO WOODBURN.

It has been learned in this city that the Antwerp Telephone company is figuring on the construction of a telephone line from Antwerp to Woodburn, this county. The Antwerp company is controlled by the United States company.

MAKING FACTORY SITES.

S. M. Foster is preparing to make some important improvements upon his property at the foot of Columbia and Clay streets, on the Nickel Plate road. One of the large frame buildings is to be moved over to the north and attached to the building now occupied as a waist factory by Mr. Foster. The present quarters of the factory are too small and the new building will be added to the factory. Another building on the same grounds is being prepared for occupancy by the Hanna & Brackenridge company. This building was formerly a part of the furniture factory and later occupied by the Miller Manufacturing company. On the ground just west of the bridge Mr. Foster will erect a building for the Dayton Fan and Motor company, if that firm decides to remove its headquarters and shops from Dayton to this city.

SUICIDE RESULTS FROM JOKE.

Cambridge City, Ind., July 6.—George W. Shaw, aged thirty-eight years, a farmer, committed suicide yesterday at his home, five miles southwest of here, by shooting. The cause was a practical joke. About two weeks ago Mr. Shaw and another man had a fight, and Shaw gave his man a terrible drubbing. To scare Shaw, some boys told him that his victim would die before morning, and he went home and shot himself. The man with whom Shaw had the fight is not seriously hurt.

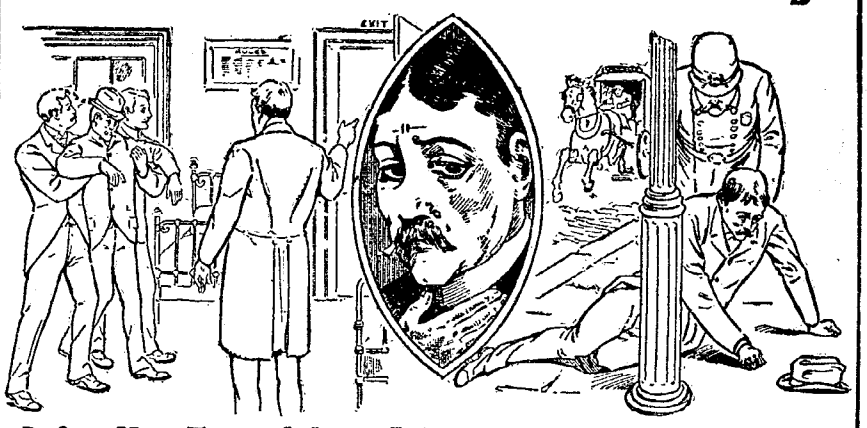
HAGGARD IS NAMED.

Indianapolis, Ind., July 6.—(Special.)—Governor Durbin today appointed W. S. Haggard, former lieutenant governor, as trustee of the state soldiers' home at Lafayette.

Little progress was made last week in building railway at New Haven. The Fourth and bad weather are responsible in part for the delay. Teams and men are still badly needed and in this no relief is promised until after the harvest. Another week will see wheat, rye and hay harvested, when the farmers will be in condition to do some work on the new railway.

William Boerger continues very ill at his home at the corner of Monroe and Washington streets. Mr. Boerger is 88 years of age and has been a resident of Fort Wayne sixty-four years.

"The Destruction That Wasteth at Noonday."



Dying Man Turned Away!

THERE WAS NO ROOM IN A HOSPITAL FOR DENNIS KENNY, A CONSUMPTIVE.

NEW YORK.—Dennis Kenny, homeless, was found unconscious on the sidewalk at 44th Street and 1st Avenue on Thursday night. An ambulance surgeon from Flower Hospital said that the man was dying of consumption. He was taken to Bellevue and on Friday was sent to the Metropolitan Hospital on Blackwell's Island.

Last night Kenny was found unconscious in the street again. When he was revived in the police station he said that the people on The Island had told him that they had no room for him in the hospital and had brought him back to the city. Dr. Stewart, of Flower Hospital said it was a shame that Kenny had been turned out of the hospital as death was only a matter of a few days in his case. Kenny was taken to Bellevue again.

Dr. Bickley, the acting superintendent of the Metropolitan Hospital, when asked about Kenny's case over the telephone, said:

"Kenny was placed in the consumption ward, which is terribly overcrowded. They are sleeping on the floor there and we can only keep those who are unable to walk or move about. Kenny was a very sick man and it was a shame to let him go; but he was stronger than some of the others and so we had to leave him out. We couldn't put him in another ward, as it would be a crime to put a consumptive in a regular ward. The whole city seems to be full of consumption and we are so overcrowded here that a terrible condition of affairs exists."

Figures are strangely inadequate to convey to the mind some of the most appalling facts of civilization. We are told that 60,000 people die annually of consumption. But the statement hardly touches us. It is too great. It covers too much territory. But when we read a story like the above, cramped into a few lines, dealing with only one man's case, and yet revealing a "whole city full of consumption," we see as under the glare of a search-light the appalling ravages of the "destruction that wasteth at noonday." Almost every hamlet and village has its victims of this scourge of civilization and towns and cities number their consumptives by scores and by hundreds.

HOW TO AVOID CONSUMPTION.

The one sure way to avoid consumption is to instantly arrest the conditions which tend toward it. If you have a cough cure it. If your lungs are weak make them strong. You can do this by the use of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery.

"For one year I was troubled with a cough," writes Mr. H. E. Curtis, of Sumner, Bremer Co., Iowa. "As I continued to cough during the summer, my wife became anxious, and wrote to Dr. R. V. Pierce, for medical advice. It seemed to us that we could not go to a better source for advice, and so it proved, as the 'Golden Medical Discovery' which was recommended proved just the medicine to effect a cure. Dr. Pierce and his medicines are 'As good as the wheat,' as the farmers used to say."

"Your medicine is the best I have ever taken," writes Mrs. Jennie Dingman, of Rapid City, Kalkaska Co., Mich. "Last spring I had a cough; got so bad I had to be in bed all the time. My husband thought I had consumption. He wanted me to get a doctor, but thought we would try Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery and before I had taken one bottle the cough stopped and I have since had no signs of its returning."

"BETTER LATE THAN NEVER."

Better use Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery late than not at all. It may be too late to cure. It can't be too late to try, and the evidence of the people who have been cured shows that no man dare shut the door of hope in the face of any one with the words "too late." Why not? Because people given up by doctors have been cured by "Golden Medical Discovery." Because people emaciated, weak with tearing coughs and bleeding lungs, have been perfectly and permanently cured by the use of "Golden Medical Discovery."

"Last spring I was taken with severe pains in my chest, and was so weak I could hardly walk about the house," says Mrs. G. E. Kerr, of Fort Dodge, Webster Co., Iowa. "I tried several physicians and they told me I had consumption. I heard of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery and thought I would try some of it. Before I had taken the first bottle I was very much better; I took five bottles of it and have not yet had any return of the trouble."

"My wife had hemorrhage of the lungs," writes W. A. Sanders, of Hern, Mason Co., W. Va. "She had ten hemorrhages, and the people all around here said she would never be well again. But she began to take Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery and she soon began to gain strength and flesh. After taking ten bottles she was entirely well. Should you think this will do any good to publish, just use it, and if anyone disputes the merits of this almost omnipotent medicine they may enclose self-addressed envelope with stamp, and I will answer, the same as written in this letter."

IT IS WONDERFUL

To read of such cures. But it is just as true as it is wonderful that such cures have been effected in hundreds of cases by the use of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. Like many of other wonderful things these cures are achieved by getting into line with nature and assisting her. What is the chief cause of physical weakness? Lack of nutrition. You know that a starving man is weak. He can't work, or only in a feeble way. You know if the body is not fed it falls away and grows weak. But when you speak of the body you include all the organs which compose it—heart, liver, lungs, kidneys, etc., for these make the body. A body weakened by starvation then, means lungs weakened, heart weakened, liver weakened, etc. How would you restore the strength of a man, weak from starvation? Why feed him. There's no other way. How would you restore the strength to "weak" lungs? By food. The doctor will say, "Eat plenty of nutritious food," and he'll add a tonic to stimulate the appetite. But suppose the stomach is "weak" and can't convert the food into nutrition? Then the doctor counsels Cod Liver Oil or its emulsions to humor the weak stomach. The point is that he knows the one need is food. He knows that food doesn't nourish unless properly digested and assimilated. Yet he does nothing to cure the weak stomach.

Behind weak lungs is a weak stomach, and the first step to a cure is to make the stomach and its allied organs of digestion and nutrition strong, so that the food eaten can be perfectly digested and its nutrition assimilated. When this is done flesh is gained instead of lost, and the man or woman who is gaining in flesh has no fear of dying of consumption, the very sign of which is wasting of the flesh and weakening of the body.

Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery cures diseases of the stomach and other organs of digestion and nutrition. In this way the body is enabled to receive its proper nutrition and to be made strong in the only way possible—by the perfect digestion and assimilation of food.

There is no alcohol in "Golden Medical Discovery," and it is entirely free from opium, cocaine and all other narcotics.

WEDNESDAY, JULY 10, 1901.

Republican sentiment in Ohio gives a gasp at the lurking thought of the electrical storm that would occur if Mr. Foraker and Mr. Hanna should each discover a presidential bee in his bonnet at the same time.

This is the glorious time of the year when the patriotic boy and the toy cannon and cap pistol get in their joint work of destruction. The toy cannon and the cap pistol always come out ahead because they never get reckless. The patriotic boy is different.

Judge Allen Zollars, of this city, and the late Judge William A. Woods served together upon the bench of the Indiana supreme court. Of the supreme bench as constituted at that time but two members are now living—Judge Zollars and Judge Byron K. Elliott, of Indianapolis.

Tests made in Boston prove that wood pavements radiate more heat than any other kind. The time of the experiments was the early afternoon, with the thermometer at 98 in the shade. The average temperature was 124½ for the wood pavement, 115 for granite blocks, 113 for asphalt, and 102½ for macadam.

Good wages mean almost everything. Lord Roberts declared that it is this fact which makes the United States army remain the finest of its size in the world. Of course, we are under the impression that there is something more than the monthly pay in the superiority of our troops, but we are willing to accept the compliment of the distinguished English soldier. One thing about our army that generally escapes attention is the fact that it contains thousands of men who never saved a penny in their lives until after they enlisted. Uncle Sam is a good man to serve and he helps his men all he can to acquire good habits and to follow good methods in the care of the money which he pays them.

The powers are able to do a good many things in China, but they are not able to control the empress dowager. That remarkable old lady suspects that her invitation to return to Pekin is a trap for her arrest and punishment—which she thoroughly deserves—so she has issued a decree constituting a new capital, where she proposes to transact business as of old.

With a trade of a billion and a half per annum the United States stands today at the head of the commercial nations, and is altogether likely to maintain that position unless a European coalition should come to punish us for our foolish and selfish policy. But possibly our statesmen and voters may gain a little sense in the course of time and undo the mischief of Dingleyism. Then, indeed, would America rule the world of trade.

The sultan of Morocco has just had two photographic cameras made for him at a cost of $15,000, notwithstanding that his treasury is usually in so depleted a condition that his creditors find it extremely difficult to make collections. But there is many an amateur photographer who, with a five-dollar outfit, can probably take better pictures than the sultan can with his most expensive apparatus. Gold, silver and ivory mountings do not prevent the amateur operator from exposing the same plate twice or from indulging in any of the other numerous mistakes which all amateurs make at one time or another.

The Havana Diaria de La Marina discusses the Maine claims, and asserts that the United States will have to face the alternative of either admitting the legality of the claims and paying them "or confessing before the world that the accusation made against Spain was false and bungling, and that it was made in order to justify a war for which Spain was not prepared." That may be the way it looks to a pronounced pro-Spanish paper, but it should not be forgotten that the war with Spain was waged, not because the Maine was blown up, but because Spain had abused her trust in Cuba. The Maine incident served, of course, to greatly heighten the war spirit in this country, but if it had not been for the American belief that the Cubans were entitled to freedom there would have been no war.

Celebration of the Fourth of July by Americans in European cities has come to be no trifling affair. It attracts attention and has enlisted the interest and participation of high officials and other prominent personages in foreign cities. Perhaps they may adopt the day themselves when they have become better acquainted with it and what it stands for.

The Fourth was generally celebrated in the good old way and the small boy has sacrificed his fingers and thumbs and contributed his eyes to the glorious cause of independence in the same fashion and with the usual degree of cheerfulness that have been the precedent since Chinese crackers and the toy pistol became the only recognized method of making the proper kind of noise. However, it appears from the earlier reports that fewer lives were lost than usual.

Hon. Samuel M. Ralston, of Lebanon, has been suggestd as a most capable and dsirable man for chairman of he state democratic committee. He would make an excellent chairman, but we hope it will not be urged upon him and that he will not accept it. Mr. Ralston is one of the great big democrats of the state and there is higher service for the party as well as for the people of Indiana in store for him and it would be poor political judgment to wear so goood a man out in the thankless position of chairman. Mr. Ralston will in good time have opportunity to perform better and greater things than running a political campaign.

June beat the record in many particulars. One record that was surpassed was the creation of new corporations. In the eastern states during June forty-seven new companies with capital ranging from $1,000,000 to $50,000,000 each and aggregating $303,000,000 were formed. The six months ended with June were remarkable for the additions to corporate enterprises. The total for each month of 1900 compare as follows:

Jan.	$ 105,250,000	$ 203,750,000
Feb.	79,500,000	124,350,000
Mch.	190,500,000	502,900,000
April	1,314,150,000	325,250,000
May.	177,980,000	261,600,000
June	303,450,000	166,200,000
Total	$2,170,880,000	$1,584,050,000

The exceptionally big figures for April were due to the forming of the United States Steel corporation. If to the stock capitalization of the past six months the bond issues of corporations be added the whole amount will reach more than $500,000,000 more, or over $2,670,000,000. These figures give some idea of the progress of consolidation in this country. With a billion dollar coal trust in prospect the record for the entire year promises to be something rather more stupendous than the average mind can readily grasp.

Austria at last has recovered from the Maximilian business so far as to send an ambassador to Mexico, after having been without a representative there for nearly forty years. This is bearing a grudge a long time, especially as Mexico was right and Austria was wrong. The conspiracy on the part of Louis Napoleon and his Austrian coadjutors to seize Mexico and make it an empire, of which the ill-fated and kindly Maximilian was the dupe and victim, is a chapter of about as disreputable history as has been recorded. The less the European powers concerned in it do to stir the matter up the better for the credit. To hold spite against Mexico for overthrowing an empire saddled on her by force is puerile, and hurts only those who show it.

Here is a jeer from Mexico. The Mexican Herald says: "The corrupt city government of Philadelphia gave away street car franchises the other day to a group of powerful people in league with the municipal boodlers, although Mr. John Wanamaker had offered to pay into the city treasury $2,500,000 for the concessions. If Philadelphia were a Latin American city, this fact might be adduced as a proof that it was unfit to govern itself."

THE AMERICAN INVASION.

London writers of pronounced humor are still having their sport over the American invasion of Great Britain, says the New York World. One of them recommends these questions, among others, for would-be students at the Scotch universities favored by Mr. Carnegie:

Geography—Draw a map of the United States, marking London, Glasgow and Birmingham.

Travel—You are an American millionaire traveling for recreation. Which would you take back with you as souvenirs, London or Paris? State your reasons for preferring one of these trinkets.

History—Write a note on the invasions of Great Britain and the rebellion and subsequent subjugation of the Angles. Gives dates of accessions of Yerkes I., Sloan, Morgan, the Contractor, and other conquerors also of the beatification of St. Carnegie. Say who you know of any of these.

This is funny, beyond even a Yankee doubt. Does it intensify the humor of the situation to read in another section of the cable news the serious program for an unusually elaborate celebration in London of the Fourth of July.

The New Orleans Picayune sounds this note of good sense: "If the democrats are wise, in the next three years they will endeavor to formulate a policy upon which all branches of the now divided and demoralized party can unite, and they will seek from among their rank and file a real democrat, who is a broad statesman, a sagacious political leader, and one whose high character for integrity will command absolute and universal confidence. That is the sort of man who is wanted as a standard-bearer for the democracy in 1904, and it will be wise, also, to choose him from some great northern state which the democracy will probably be able to carry."

June is generally one of the worst months in the year in Havana for yellow fever, but this year the city was free from the disease which in the past has caused such a frightful mortality. This is attributed to the destruction of mosquitoes by pouring coal oil on pools of standing water. Those persons who were skeptical of the medical theory that mosquitoes are responsible for the spread of yellow fever may have to admit their error, in view of the results that have been accomplished in Havana. But the mosquito is responsible for the spread of other diseases. He should be suppressed wherever he may be found.

For the student of social science there is, perhaps, no more interesting study to be found than that of the population figures of France. The united kingdom, Germany, Austria, the United States and Russia all showed a steady gain of population during the past fifty years. France alone of all the great nations has remained practically stationary. The population of the country is only about 3 per cent. larger than it was in the middle of the last century. Those who hastily jump to the conclusion that France is retrograding because she does not produce the surplus hordes of Italy and Austria, reckon too lightly. France has the promise and potency of being a great staying nation and of outliving many who predict her decay.

A QUEER PROCEEDING.

Neither Municipal Judge Louttit nor Prosecutor Emrick can prove to the people of this city that obedience to law or respect for the city court is promoted by any such queer proceedings as occurred Friday afternoon at police court. We do not even believe these two dignitaries together working in the utmost harmony to the same end can make the people of Fort Wayne believe there was not something uncommonly out of place in the Friday afternoon incident. Saloonkeepers arrested for violation of the liquor laws were arraigned for trial. A confab between the court, the prosecutor, counsel for defense and officers of the liquor dealers' association to determine what should be done with the cases was held. Meanwhile the prosecuting witnesses—policemen—had disappeared and, marvel of mysteries, could not be located, not even by telephone. So the court dismissed the cases. The judge did not postpone the cases, or employ a court's usual means to compel presence of witnesses. He threw the cases out of his court. The court says it was the prosecutor's fault; the prosecutor lays blame on the court. Meantime, the public is eyeing the two of them with something more than interest.

That new affidavits were filed today and the saloonkeepers fined does not put a new face on what occured Friday afernoon.

Congressman Dalzell is opposed to any revision of the tariff. But it should be remembered that Mr. Dalzell is from Pennsylvania.

WAS ONCE A CAPITAL.

If the empress dowager makes Kaifung the capital of China because she is afraid to return to Pekin she will not confer an unprecedented dignity upon the former city. The province of Human, to which it belongs, was once the political center of the empire, the middle kingdom, whose designation overspread the whole, and Kaifung itself was the empire's capital between the years 960 and 1129.

It lies at a little distance from the Yellow river, which is a constant menace to it in times of high water. The expedient of building dikes to protect it was adopted many centuries ago, and a Chinese general who was beleaguered there opened the flood-gates, like the Dutch, to destroy the enemy and thus doomed to death, it is said, some 300,000 of Kaifung's inhabitants.

Probably the number was exaggerated or perhaps the city was so hurt by the disaster that it was unable to recover its former state. At any rate, it is credited now with a population of only 100,000, though it has remained a provincial capital.

It has a unique interest in that it has been the home of the remnant of the Jewish colonies in China for the last three centuries. These people had a temple there, but it had disappeared when visited in 1866. All that remained of it on the spot was a tablet which recorded the building of the synagogue in 1183 and its rebuilding in 1488. An entrance tablet marked in gilt with the words "Israel's Possession" had been removed to a mosque and thither some of the colonists had followed it as worshippers.

The Jews at that time numbered between 300 and 400, but stubborn as is the race, it had succumbed to a greater stubbornness. Hebrew was absolutely unknown to them. Regarding the disappearance of the temple it was explained that the people were all very poor and that they had sold it piecemeal to supply them with food.

The British have found another cause for worry. The United States has until recently been one of their best customers in buying cement, but of late Americans have been using the home-made article more and the British industries have suffered accordingly. But really the time for anxiety has not yet arrived. Wait until the Americans begin shipping their cement to England and selling it in the English market.

The Chicago Tribune's annual figures on the Fourth of July casualties shows that while there were fewer fatalities the actual number of accidents was about 300 in excess of the number last year throughout the country. It comes at high price to some, but it must nevertheless be had.

It is refreshing, encouraging and an augury of better things to behold signs that the democrats of Ohio are going to recognize the death of the sixteen to one issue. There is decent respect due to the memory of the loved and lost, but there is no profit in loitering forever in the graveyard. It is time to write the epitaph of free silver and have it engraven on the headstone. The democratic party ought to and can be an aggressive and victorious force in the nation's affairs, and so it will be whenever it is conceived that its mission is that of a fighting army and not a funeral procession.

Official returns published in London show twenty-six citizens of the United States who have forsworn their allegiance to their native country and become subjects of Great Britain during the last year. All are rich men and are supposed to have been inspired by their desire for social advancement. The United States is better off without citizens who think a monarchy and aristocracy necessary to the attainment of their social ambitions.

There is interest in Senator Mason's opinion of a man who will desert a public position where he has served with distinction as well as great usefulness to the public in order to get another man's job. Also, there is interest in Mr. Dawes' opinion of a man who will not properly nurse a United States senatorship when he has it.

An epidemic of smallpox, cholera, yellow fever or the like, that has slain a thousand persons in the brief space of a week, in New York or some other city of its class, would throw the people into uncontrollable panic. Yet in Greater New York during the week from June 29 to July 6 a thousand persons died of causes directly attributable to the intense and unremitting heat. Fair weather may be very fatal at times.

The official statement of shipbuilding in the United States for the year includes vessels aggregating 401,285 gross tons. This is the largest output from American yards for any one year except 1854-55, when a total of 548,340 gross tons was registered. When it is noted that more than 207,000 tons of last year's shipping is represented in fast steel steamers it is apparent their annual carrying capacity is much greater than that of the vessels built in 1855, a majority of which were slow sailing ships. While 401,000 gross tons looks small when compared with the shipbuilding in Great Britain, it is larger than that of any other nation. Germany is third in actual tonnage, though its greater proportion of steam craft makes its carrying capacity slightly greater than that of ships built here during the year. The significance of the figures, however, is in showing the tide has turned—that American shipbuilding is not only increasing in volume, but is gaining upon that of other leading maritime nations.

Again the country is in the throes of a discussion as to the identity of the officer of the navy department who wrote the famous order to Admiral (then commodore) Dewey to find and destroy the Spanish fleet in the Philippines. Secretary Long declares that God alone knows the man who wrote the order. Admiral Crowninshield modestly asserts that he wrote it. Doubtless there are others who did. But what does it all amount to? It was no very difficult matter for a naval bureau officer snugly ensconced in a comfortable office in Washington to write and dispatch such an order. It was the thing to do and an easy thing to do. Let us not in the stress of this mighty controversy forget some facts more important and historic. The order was written and sent, by whom it makes no difference. It was received and gloriously executed by Admiral George Dewey, who pursuant to the command from Washington found the Spanish fleet, defeated and sunk it and won one of the most stupendous and exigent victories recorded in the annals of warfare on the seas, and that, too, without the loss of a man or a ship. What Dewey did is worth remembering. Who penned the order telling him to do it is an issue best settled by dropping it.

There is considerable speculation concerning the successor of Officer Romy as stationmaster. The aspirants are supposed to be Officers Terry, Collins and Spillner, with chances largely favoring the first named. If a night man is appointed it will leave a vacancy on the force which will be supplied from the list of several hundred or so applicants on file in the superintendent's office. If a day officer should be appointed, then a night man will be advanced to the day force, but the vacancy will remain just the same.

AMBASSADOR WHITE TO QUIT

WILL RESIGN POST AT GERMAN CAPITAL.

Off Denied Report is Reiterated—Son of the Diplomat Takes His Own Life.

Berlin, July 9.—Although the United States ambassador, Andrew D. White, quite recently denied to the correspondent of the Associated Press here that he intends to resign, the correspondent now learns from a close personal friend of Mr. White that he will resign next year, upon reaching his seventieth year.

Mr. White's decision to resign was taken before the news of his son's suicide yesterday reached him, but it is believed that the son's death renders Mr. White's decision irrevocable.

Mr. White is at present staying at Sassnitz, Island of Ruegen, in the Baltic. Therefore he was personally inaccessible to the correspondent of the Associated Press.

SON COMMITS SUICIDE.

Syracuse, N. Y., July 9.—Frederick D. White, son of Andrew D. White, United States ambassador to Germany, committed suicide at 5:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon at his home in this city. Prolonged ill health and a persistent and exhausting nervous disease is given as the only possible explanation of his act. Mr. White had appeared to be in usual health during the day and had attended to matters of business in the management of the White estate. He was alone in the house with the servants during part of the afternoon. Mrs. White returned shortly after 5 o'clock and found Mr. White dead in the bath room. A bullet from a rifle had passed through his brain and death had been instantaneous. No one heard the shot.

Some eighteen years ago, on completing his course at Columbia law college, Mr. White had a severe attack of typhoid fever from which he never recovered.

NEW BATTERY OFFICERS.

A meeting of Battery B was held in Saengerbund hall last night to elect a successor to Lieutenant Fred Meyers, resigned. The election resulted as follows: Second Lieutenant O. S. Jones was elected first lieutenant to succeed Fred Meyers; Sergeant W. F. Meyers was elected second lieutenant to succeed Mr. Jones. The following appointments were made: Corporals Clark, Sullivan and Gross raised to sergeants; Privates Farmer, Schraum and Newman raised to corporals; Private Farmer made bugler.

SHIP A TOTAL WRECK.

St. John's, N. F., July 9.—The British steamer Delmar, from Dundee, June 29, which struck on a reef in Blackhead Cove yesterday, during a dense fog and then went ashore at Renews, on the east coast of Newfoundland, is a total wreck today. She listed and sank during the night and is now full of water. The crew left here at midnight. The captain and chief officers remained after the others, but were forced to abandon the vessel later. The crew will be taken on board the Steamer Glencoe, due to arrive here this evening.

SHAMROCK II. WINS.

Rothesay, Firth of Clyde, July 9.—In the first five miles of the racing trial between the Shamrocks this morning, both yachts apparently sailing for all they were worth, the challenger beat the Shamrock I. quite a half mile. The yachts beat out, past Cumbrae, in long tacks, the Shamrock II. still opening out until her lead was increased to nearly a mile. The wind then softened and the cup challenger squared away and ran back to her opponent. Reaching up the Firth, the yachts were both helplessly becalmed and a trial was abandoned.

HARRY BERMAN ASKS COURT FOR DISSOLUTION.

Also Would Like a Receiver—Had a Disagreement and a Fight—About the Court House.

Harry Berman has commenced suit against George G. Mines, asking for the appointment of a receiver and dissolution of partnership. The parties to the suit were engaged in the retail shoe business with a store at 150 Calhoun street. The prayer of the petitioner was granted and Guy Colerick was appointed receiver and will take possession of the stock as soon as he can prepare and execute his bond. The stock is valued at $1,400.

According to the allegations made in the complaint the partners did not have much ready capital when they embarked in business and so in order that they might meet their bills promptly they made an agreement not to draw over $5 per week each out of the business until after all the debts of the firm were paid. The defendant has frequently violated this agreement and last week he wanted to draw an amount greatly in excess of the stipulated five-spot. Plaintiff objected and hot words ensued. Finally Mines, who is a big man, swooped down on Berman and commenced wiping up the floor with him and besides subjecting him to many other indignities; he broke his nose and left him lying on the floor of the store. He says he is badly injured, and as Himes is a man of violent temper as well as powerful physique he is in danger of his life if he ever goes back to the store. The store, however, is now locked up, but the firm has about $25 on deposit in one of the banks and the plaintiff is afraid that he will get possession of that sum and still farther embarrass the plaintiff.

Andrew Schwartz, of Cedar Creek township, came to the city to get John Amstutz, who has been detained at the jail for over a week. Amstutz is demented and was locked up by the sheriff some days ago simply for safe keeping.

The superior court adjourned on Wednesday and will not be in session again until next Thursday, July 11.

Several days ago the fifteen-year-old daughter of Edward Castle ran away from home, in fear of chastisement for some trivial act of hers. Thursday the little girl was located by the sheriff at the home of friends in DeKalb county, just across the Allen county line. Neighbors went north Friday to bring the little girl home.

Deputy Sheriff Eicks went to Payne this morning to remain over Sunday.

Herman and Isadore Pottlitzer have filed their final report as executors of the will of the late Selig Pottlitzer and ask to be discharged.

The county commissioners Friday engaged in considering road and ditch matters. In the matter of deepening and widening a joint ditch between Allen and Paulding counties, Henry Hoevel, Frank Gladieux and Barney Tibbett were appointed viewers. For the Harber ditch, in Pleasant township, Alphonse Corbat, Jacob Shaffer and John Rapp were appointed viewers; for the DeLagrange ditch, in Perry township, Oscar Reams, Madison Gump and William Hagen; ditch matters. In the matter of deepship, George Goeglein, Barney Kamp and Deitrich Rodenbeck. The Brick ditch, in Milan and Jefferson townships, was also established. In the matter of roads, a petition for a short road in Perry township was heard and J. F. Werts, Martin Blume, jr., and Thomas Carrol were appointed viewers.

"Bob" Young, for nearly three years deputy sheriff and turnkey at the jail, tendered his resignation to Sheriff Stout this morning and it was accepted. Mr. Young stated to the sheriff that he had an opportunity to engage in a business enterprise which he believed to be to his better advantage, and Sheriff Stout reluctantly told him to go on his way rejoicing and wished him all manner of good luck and fortune. "Bob" entered the sheriff's office at the beginning of ex-Sheriff Melching's second term and was so competent a deputy that Sheriff Stout retained him when he assumed the duties and management of the office. During the three years of his service he served as turnkey, but also performed many other duties connected with a general deputyship. The sheriff said that he parted with his services with genuine regret and was absolutely astounded when the resignation was placed in his hands this morning. To the newspaper fraternity "Bob" was always courteous and frequently went considerably out of his way to accommodate them. The best wishes of all his friends accompany him in his new venture, whatever it may be.

Florence McNish has commenced divorce proceedings against Ozeus McNish and asks for alimony.

The county commissioners were in session this morning, and besides transacting miscellaneous business approved of the plans and specifications for the installment of a water supply system for the power station. The system can be put in at an expense of not over a thousand dollars and it will supply all the water for the jail and power station, direct from the St. Mary's river, at a nominal cost per annum. They also approved specifications for a cement floor at the poor asylum, some painting at the orphans' home and some roof repairs for both the latter institutions.

IN THE JUSTICES' COURTS.

Lydell Pattee was arrested Friday morning at his place of business at 188 Calhoun street by Deputies Reichelderfer and Ryan. Pattee is charged with the larceny of $100 by Melville Dennie, the local agent of the Keely Brewing company, of Chicago. Pattee had his saloon closed several days this week and it was surmised that he had skipped the town. He has been in frequent trouble on account of his license and more trouble was threatened. Some days ago Mr. Dennie gave him $100 to take out his license with, and instead of doing with the money what it was given for, it is alleged he went on a spree and closed the place. Dennie filed an affidavit against him for larceny and that morning he was bound over by Justice France in the sum of $500. Failing to give bond he was remanded to jail.

The troubles of Harry Berman and George Mines, earstwhile partners in the shoe business on Calhoun street, are not yet over. Warrants are out from Bullermann's court for the arrest of both of them for assault and battery on each other. The affidavits were filed by the prosecutor.

Allen ("Doc") Hursh, a saloonkeeper at Hurshtown, was fined in Huser's court last Friday for running a slot machine. The fine was paid.

Justice L. P. Huser has made his quarterly settlement with the township trustee for township fees, turning over $32.

A warrant was issued from Taney's court for the arrest of Sarah Breeze for provoking Maud Pierson. The suit is part of the aftermath of the troubles of Philip B. Smith.

In France's court George Archibald was fined $1 and costs for provoking James Mitchel. The defendant gave bond and appealed the case to the circuit court.

After holding the matter under advisement for two days, Justice France on Monday rendered his decision in the Rabel riot cases. He found William Rabel guilty and fixed his fine at $10; Mary Rabel guilty, and fixed the fine at $1; Christian Rabel guilty, was acquitted and Henry was not tried because he skipped the country before the officers got him. The defendants appealed the case to the circuit court.

A. J. Dittoe, the grocer, was called into Huser's court on Monday to explain why he sold beer by the pint and quart without having the necessary state license. Mr. Dittoe said that if all grocers took out a license he is willing to do likewise, but he objects to being singled out to pay while several dozen others are not molested. The matter will probably be settled without a trial.

The cases of the retail grocers, against whom affidavits were filed for selling bottled beer without licenses, have not yet been adjudicated, owing to the press of business on the prosecutor's hands, resulting from the Cothrell investigation. There is, however, no doubt, but that an amicable and satisfactory adjustment will be made.

TAX REVIEWERS NEAR FINISH

ADJOURNMENT LIKELY TO BE REACHED TODAY.

The board of tax review adjourned Saturday evening, after a twenty-day session, during which they did some real effective work. The Fort Wayne Gas company, the traction company and telephone and telegraph companies were all left to the mercies of the state board and were not reassessed. Since the last publication the following increases were made: Allen County Building and Loan association, from $20,000 to $22,500; Adam Neumeier, from $840 to $1,000; Tri-State Building and Loan association, from $50,000 to $55,000; J. C. Peltier, from $2,520 to $3,520; Benjamin Rothschilds (diamonds), from $460 to $860. The banks were assessed for 75 per cent. of the capital stock, surplus and undivided profits, which makes the assessment of each bank as follows: Old National, $508,255; Hamilton National, $465,635; White National, $284,480; First National, $479,975; Citizens' bank of Monroeville, $23,240. The total increase of assessments made by the board during the session is $148,640.

PLANNING TO EXTEND LINES.

There will be a meeting of street car magnates on Monday evening at which time papers will be drawn up for the extension of the Fort Wayne and Southwestern electric line north and south, says the Huntington Democrat. A committee of representatives of the company has called on the farmers north and south of the city along whose properties the interurban will run and they have donated $1,500 in work for grading, etc. Brick for the power house has arrived, but the work of laying brick will not be pushed until after the Monday evening meeting, as the power house will probably be made a half larger than the contract and present plans call for.

FRANCHISE IS GRANTED.

Bluffton, Ind., July 6.—A. L. Johnson, the Muncie millionaire, is behind the electric trolley line from Muncie to Fort Wayne. Last night the council granted him a fifty year franchise. By the terms of the franchise the road must be in operation by December, 1902, or all rights forfeited.

THERE ARE MANY ROADS

THE FINGER POSTS MARKING THE MANY BY-PATHS OF PRESENT DAY TROUBLES ALL SEEM TO POINT THE SAME WAY—LACK OF NERVE FORCE.

Day by day the columns of this paper bring new evidence from Fort Wayne people of the great work being done by Dr. A. W. Chase's Nerve Pills. Why they accomplish so much is easily explained—they are prepared with an eye single to restoring nerve force—they accomplish this object which no other medicine in the world has ever been able to do—that's why hundreds of Fort Wayne people offer their testimony.

Mrs. A. McBride, of 374 Calhoun St., Fort Wayne, Ind., says: "Dr. A. W. Chase's Nerve Pills are a fine medicine—my liver was out of order. I was bilious, nervous and weak—appetite poor and rest at night broken. The Nerve Pills I got at Meyer Bros. & Co.'s drug store, No. 14 Calhoun St., gave me a fine appetite and digestion—settled the nerves, gave me sleep, strength and regulated the liver. For a person of my age I feel uncommonly fine."

Dr. A. W. Chase's Nerve Pills are sold at 50c a box at dealers or Dr. A. W. Chase Medicine Co., Buffalo, N. Y. See that portrait and signature of A. W. Chase, M. D., are on every package.

SURRENDER OF INSURGENTS

GENERAL DELARMINO GIVES MEN AND ARMS.

Manila, July 6.—The forces of the insurgent leader, Delarmino, which has recently been operating around Donsol, province of Sorogon, were driven across the mountains by the Second infantry and finally captured by the Sixth cavalry. Bellarmino, with 1,000 men and 214 guns, surrendered to Colonel Wint at Albay, capital of the province of that name. One hundred more rifles will be surrendered tomorrow.

Later in the day the official announcement of the surrender of Delarmino was made. According to this account, Delarmino, who has been operating in the province of Sorsogon, surrendered Thursday last at Lagashi, on Albay bay, with 32 officers, 211 guns and 3,000 rounds of ammunition. The insurgent presidents of that section of the country and many Filipinos accompanied Delarmino, who gave himself up to Col. Theo. J. Wint, of the Sixth cavalry. In all, since June, 1,081 insurgents have surrendered in that district. Colonel Wint's regiment came from China with General Chaffee. Before disembarking at Leagshi, Colonel Wint went to General Chaffee and asked the latter if he desired him to clean up that part of the country. General Chaffee replied "Yes, but I do not command until July 4."

In three weeks Delarmino was conquered, in spite of the theories of many officers that cavalry could not be used in effective operations in such a country.

The insurgent General Cailles, who surrendered at Santa Cruz, Laguna province, June 24, and his friends have offered to negotiate with Malvar, the insurgent leader in southern Luzon, for the latter's surrender.

Former Filipino officers who belonged to Malvar's command report that fifty insurgents were killed and that many were wounded by the command of Lieutenant Manaci during a recent two days' fight in the province of Batangas.

The Twentieth infantry has been ordered from northern Luzon to Batangas.

Civil Governor Taft and Military Governor Chaffee are working agreeably together. They are holding informal conferences and are arriving at mutual understandings, a state of affairs hitherto almost unknown here.

COMPTROLLER DAWES RESIGNS.

Washington, July 6.—Mr. Charles G. Dawes, comptroller of the currency, has tendered his resignation to the president, to take effect October 1 next. In answer to an inquiry Mr. Dawes said:

"I have resigned because of my intention to be a candidate before the people of Illinois for the United States senate. It would not be possible for me, during the next year, to make a canvass for the senate and at the same time continue to my own satisfaction in the important and responsible office I now hold. I am influenced solely in this action by what seems to me the plain proprieties of the situations."

Mr. Dawes' term of office would not have expired until January 1, 1903. His letter to the president is as follows:

"Washington, D. C., July 3, 1901.—William McKinley, Executive Mansion, Washington, D. C.—Sir: In view of the fact that I will be a candidate for the United States senate from Illinois I hereby tender my resignation as comptroller of the currency, to take effect October 1 next. Respectfully, Charles G. Dawes."

Mr. Dawes entered the office of comptroller of the currency January 1, 1898, succeeding James H. Eckels.

The drug was taken late Thursday night at the home of Mrs. Amanda Faidley and Miss Anderson's condition was not noticed until it was too late to save her. A son of Mrs. Faidley found part of a package of morphine in the hall and on investigation found the girl suffering severely. She denied to the last that she had poisoned herself.

ALLEN O. MYERS BRINGS SUIT.

Columbus, Ohio, July 6.—Allen O. Myers, of this city, filed in the circuit court of the United States late last night a suit to recover $50,000 from the Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks of the United States of America for alleged wrongful and illegal expulsion from the order by the grand lodge in July, 1897, and for the appropriation without compensation to him of the ritual now in use by the order, of which he was the author. Myers was at one time editor of the Elks, the official organ of the order, and published parts of the testimony offered in the trial, the general charge against him being that of violation of his oath and obligations as an Elk. There was a trial by the Cincinnati lodge, of which Myers was a member, and he was expelled. Another charge against Myers was that he referred to a brother Elk as a "horse thief."

CHILD FALLS TO ITS DEATH

VERY SAD ACCIDENT AT NO. 8 ENGINE HOUSE.

Little Son of Samuel Speece Sustains Fractured Skull and Dies a Few Hours Later.

Saturday evening at 7 o'clock Louis Speece, the three-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Speece, of 134 West DeWald street, fell from the second to the first floor of engine house No. 8, on Fairfield avenue, sustaining injuries from which the little sufferer died about four hours later.

The accident was an extremely sad one, was a severe shock, not only to the stricken parents, but to the firemen, among whom the little fellow was a great favorite. Early in the evening Mr. and Mrs. Speece, together with the little child and a lady relative, who is visiting them, called at the engine house to inspect it. Engineer Donlan escorted the party about the building, and as they reached the second floor the boy darted away from his parents.

Before anyone in the party could realize what had happened the lad had fallen a distance of fifteen feet through the hole down which the firemen slide in answering an alarm of fire. The hole was covered by a piece of canvas to keep flies out of the sleeping apartments, and beneath it a gas jet was burning. It is presumed that the light shining through the canvas attracted the child's attention, and he unwittingly stepped into the opening.

There was a scream as the little form struck the floor below, and Hoseman Keep hurriedly picked up the child, which was now unconscious. The ambulance was called and the little sufferer was removed to St. Joseph's hospital, where Drs. Nieschang, White and English were called. Their efforts were powerless, and the little one passed away a few hours later.

The little boy was an only child, and the parents are nearly prostrated with grief. The father is a well-known engineer on the Pittsburg.

The past year he has been in Germany, studying under Professor Roentgen at Munich. They report for duty next September.

SENT IN HIS BADGE.

Officer Charles Romy took a sick leave last Tuesday morning and has not been seen near the police station since. Monday a messenger brought in his badge without any explanation further than that he had been instructed to deliver it at the police station. On the Fourth Romy operated a beer stand north of Robison park and is supposed to have taken in about $150, which, with his monthly pay, which he received on Monday, gave him a capital of over $200. His associates do not believe that he will return and his whereabouts are a matter of pure speculation that some of his creditors would like to have solved. His domestic affairs have been in a state of considerable turmoil for years, and the general supposition is that he has gone away for good. A woman with whom he is alleged to have been intimate has also left the city, but the disappearance of the two can not be directly connected and not much effort is being made to locate either party.

THE NEWS OF THE POLICE

ONE SALOONKEEPER PAYS A MODEST FINE.

Gay Young Man and Two Gay Females Arrested and Go to Jail for Associating.

Judge Louttit was called to Chicago on Monday on an errand pertaining to the publication of a book in which he is interested and J. R. Bittenger sat as police judge in his stead.

Hugh P. O'Reilly was up for selling liquor after midnight on Saturday, the charge against him being Sabbath desecration. He entered a plea of guilty and was fined $3 and costs, amounting to $13 all together, which amount he paid.

James Stuart Mead, of Grand Rapids, and two girls giving their names as Eva Hays and Georgia Brooks, were the next to face the music. The girls came here from Grand Rapids a week ago and took board with Fanny Joy, on the flats. Mead, who is a young fellow apparently in his teens, came to town from Grand Rapids on Saturday and proceeded to give the girls a time. He hired a rig at Momper's stable and flashed a large roll made up principally of dollar bills and stage money. He flew high and made the girls all sorts of propositions, agreeing to take them back to Grand Rapids. Yesterday he hired the rig again and with the girls was having a high old time, not in accordance with the observance of the Sabbath day, and becoming too boisterous, Deputy Sheriff Young took the whole outfit into camp and locked them up at the station. Although there were other charges which might have been made to stick against the trio, the girls were slated for prostitution and young Mead was booked for association and intoxication. The whole party, after trying to explain some matters not relevant to the charge, pleaded guilty and were fined, the girls drawing $16 each and Mead $11. The good money disappeared and the whole batch was sent to jail. Meade still had a trifle over $2, which he drew and commenced telegraphing home for coin. The wires were kept warm all morning, but at this writing nothing in the shape of collateral has showed up to help them out of their predicament. Mead will be brought up on the charge of association as soon as his term for intoxication expires.

Dan Ball, a colored man boarding at 35 Grand street, is reported as having mysteriously disappeared Sunday. He is supposed to have had considerable money on his person and his friends are speculating as to whether he has been foully dealt with or whether he is simply out for a good time.

Jacob Bill, the Creighton avenue druggist, reports that while he was sitting in his store Sunday afternoon a bullet from a 22-calibre fire-arm of some kind came through the window glass and narrowly missed hitting him. The police are investigating, but it is believed that the shot was a stray bullet from a target rifle being used in the vicinity.

WANTS AMERICAN YACHT.

New York, July 8.—The report that the German emperor had ordered an American yacht was confirmed today by Mr. Barbey, of the firm of Cary, Smith & Barbey, naval architects, this city, in an interview with a representative of the Associated Press. Mr. Barbey said: "We have received orders for plans and specifications of a schooner yacht 120 feet long on the water line for the German emperor. The design and other dimensions have been left to our own ideas, and nothing has been said about the cost. We expect to have the plans and specifications ready in about six weeks. Then they will be submitted to the naval attache of the German embassy at Washington and after his approval tenders will be advertised for in the regular way. Which yacht builders having the construction of the yacht will depend upon whose bid is accepted, but the yacht will be entirely of American design and build. We expect to have the yacht ready for sea about April next."

KEENE'S HORSE WINS.

BOERS BURN TOWN.

London, July 8.—A special dispatch from Cape Town, dated today, says Scheeper's Boer commando has entered Murraysburg, Cape Colony, and burned the public buildings and residences. The town was not garrisoned.

FOREIGN CROP OUTLOOK.

London, July 8.—The Mark Lane Express, in its weekly crop review, says it is doubtful if the recent rains will effect greater "transformation scenes" in the wheat crop of England. It thinks the yield may reach an average of 28¼ bushels per acre.

The Express considers that the enhanced price and big weekly market in Paris furnish evidence that the French farmers consider the government estimate as being quite 10 per cent too high. The agricultural press puts the yield at 35,000,000 quarters, 4,000,000 quarters below the government estimate.

The Italian harvest promises to reach the full average and the Roumanian harvest is estimated at 9,000,000 quarters, leaving 3,000,000 available for export.

The spring wheat in Russia is less promising. In several provinces the winter wheat crop, however, is splendid, according to the moderate standard prevailing. Their rye will make an excellent harvest. The other autumn-sown crops are all above the average, but the spring barley and oats are below par.

CHANEY—MARTIN.

BELIEVES MAN WAS HIS SON

PROF. FRED HARNHARD GOES TO CHICAGO.

Man Drowned in Lake Michigan June 23 May Have Been Gustave Barnhard, of This City.

Prof. Frederick Barnhard, of Force street, has good reason to believe that his son, Gustave, was drowned in Lake Michigan, near Lincoln park, about the 23rd of June. The body was found by some boys who were fishing on the 26th and was taken to the morgue to await identification. A day or two later a patient in St. Joseph's hospital reading a description of the body went to the morgue and identified it as that of Gustave Barnhard, who was his companion and who left the hospital on the 23rd. The matter was published in the Chicago papers and on Friday last a neighbor of Mr. Barnhard showed him the publication. Miss Bertha Barnhard immediately wrote to the police department at Chicago, giving a description of her brother Gustave, and this morning received a letter from the chief of detectives, saying that the description tallied with the exception that the deceased did not have a front tooth missing, as Miss Bernhard described her brother. Professor Barnhard left at noon today for Chicago to identify the body if possible and if it is that of his son will bring it back with him for burial.

Young Bernhard has not been heard from by his father or relatives for over two years, and they had no idea that he was in this country. He enlisted in this city in '98 as a member in Company B, One-hundred-and-fifty-seventh regiment, and remained in the service until the regiment was mustered out. He did not come home, but immediately re-enlisted in a Pennsylvania regiment, bound for the Philippines, and that was the last heard of him by his father. It is supposed that he went to the Philippines and returned with one of the regiments recently mustered out of service and that he was on his way home when taken sick. His companion in the hospital did not say how long he had been there, but said that he left the hospital on the 23rd of June. He also said that the young man's name was Gustave Barnhard and that he originally enlisted at Fort Wayne.

In order to make room for the young men a number of changes will be made in the diocese. One of the new priests will be appointed assistant at the Cathedral to succeed Rev. John Durham.

ROYAL SCIONS FIGHT A DUEL.

New York, July 8.—According to a Rome dispatch in the World, the duke of Aosta, cousin of the king of Italy and heir presumptive to the throne, fought a duel last week with a Russian prince, believed to be Duke Eugene of Leutchenberg, grandson of Czar Nicholas I. The Russian received a severe sword thrust through the stomach. Duke Eugene is known to be suffering from peritonitis and from this it is concluded that he was the duke of Aosta's antagonist. The duel has excited the widest interest, because of the rank of the principals, and there is much speculation as to its cause. It is reported that the Russian affronted the king of Italy recently by making in his presence a slighting remark about the queen while on a visit to Naples.

WRENCHED HIS NECK.

Johnnie Meyer, a 5-year-old lad residing on the south side, met with a peculiar accident Sunday. Some one spoke to the lad, who turned quickly and wrenched the muscles of his neck so that he has been unable to change the position of his head since the accident. It is thought that the injury is not serious.

THE DEATH OF LORILLARD

MILLIONAIRE EXPIRES IN FIFTH AVENUE HOTEL.

New York, July 8—Pierre Lorillard died at 2:10 o'clock yesterday afternoon. The death of Mr. Lorillard took place at the Fifth Avenue hotel, where he was taken from the Deutschland when that steamer arrived from Europe July 4. The members of the family present at the bedside when the end came were Mr. Lorillard's daughters, Mrs. T. Suffern Tailer and Mrs. William Kent and their husbands, and Pierre Lorillard III.

The funeral will be at 11 o'clock Wednesday from Grace church. The interment will be at Greenwood.

SKETCH OF PIERRE LORILLARD.

Pierre Lorillard was the eldest son of Peter Lorillard, founder of the fortune which made the family name famous. He inherited much of the business ability of his father, and marked success attended the commercial enterprises which he planned and executed. At the death of his father he received about $1,000,000, and an interest jointly with his brothers and sisters in the great tobacco house of which his father had been the head. He at once purchased from his brothers a control of the house, and by shrewd management greatly increased his fortune. He built a handsome residence at Fifth avenue and Fifty-sixth street, and entertained in a princely manner.

In 1874 he became interested in the turf. His first great horse was Parole. With Iroquois in 1881 he was the first American to win the classic English derby. He was also an enthusiastic yachtsman, and once raced his Vesta across the Atlantic. He found and controlled at the time of his death the fashionable resort at Tuxedo. He was nearly sixty-eight years old. He is survived by his widow, son, Pierre Lorillard, jr., and daughters, Mrs. William Kent and Mrs. T. Suffern Tailer. He leaves a large fortune.

ESTATE OF $25,000,000.

Various estimates have been made of the value of Mr. Lorillard's estate, and, while its exact value at the present time is not known, it is believed that it is more than $25,000,000. As long ago as 1884 it was said to be from $15,000,000 to $25,000,000.

FAMOUS ORDER TO DEWEY.

Washington, July 6.—In naval circles here the speech of Secretary Long before the Massachusetts club at Nantasket Beach, in which he said he did not know the author of the dispatch signed by his name, telling Dewey to capture or destroy the Spanish fleet at Manila, is being talked of. The secretary said he had been trying to learn who the author was. Rear Admiral Crowninshield, of the bureau of navigation, denied writing it, he said, and the famous dispatch shows nothing on its face to indicate the authorship. Some one in the navy department wrote it, but the man has not been found. Dewey was then at Hong Kong and it was not for him to question the authenticity of the order; in fact, he was too anxious to go ahead, and history will be compelled to record that the Spanish fleet in Manila bay was destroyed on orders from Washington embodied in an unsigned dispatch.

The new council begins its career with excellent prospects. Its meetings will be held at the school hall on the afternoons of the first and third Sundays of each month.

GARGOYLES UNPOPULAR.

The gargoyles that decorate the main tower of the new Third Presbyterian church are strongly objected to by certain members of the church, and so decided have been some of the expressions of disapproval that a special meeting of the building committee and other church officers has been called for Tuesday evening at the home of Rev. J. A. P. McGaw to vote on whether the ornaments shall be removed or not. The images cost $400, and it will cost $65 to remove them, so that they are likely to stay, because the building committee is unwilling to incur any further expense. The structural work has been completed, and the inside of the building is now being finished. It will be dedicated on Thanksgiving day.

RESUMES HIS TRIPS.

W. S. McLeod has resumed his position as traveling salesman for G. E. Bursley & Co., making his first trip Monday since last January. On January 26 Lieutenant McLeod fell while skating in Princess rink, fracturing his skull. Two weeks later he sustained a rupture of a blood vessel in his head, and was for months ill with meningitis of the brain as a result.

Messrs. Wolf & Dessauer have had their automobile delivery wagon remodeled, and it is again in service on the streets. The vehicle has solid rubber tires, and it is painted red.

CRUSHED BENEATH LUMBER

CHARLES SEABOLD MEETS WITH A BAD ACCIDENT.

His Leg and Body and Head Cut— Charles A. Hans Has Foot Injured.

Charles Seabold received severe injuries at the Fort Wayne Electric works on Monday afternoon and is now in the hands of Dr. Rosenthal at the St. Joseph hospital. With three companions, Mr. Seabold was engaged in removing lumber from a car and stacking it in the sheds back of the large storehouse just east of the main factory buildings. Just as Mr. Seabold was in the act of throwing a board upon a tall pile of lumber, he slipped and fell against the pile. This caused it to sway and finally fall upon him, burying him beneath the boards. He was carried to the store room office and thence conveyed to the hospital in the ambulance. There Dr. Rosenthal examined him and pronounced his injuries quite serious. His left leg is broken below the knee, his right arm is wrenched and cut badly, there is an ugly gash on the back of his neck and another one on the back of the head, near the crown. His right shoulder is also badly bruised and cut. The latter injury and the sprain rendered his right arm helpless, and for awhile it was feared that the bones of that limb were fractured also, but later investigations proved that they were not broken. The unfortunate man is twenty-two years old, unmarried and resides with his father, Christian Seabold, foreman of Rastetter's factory, at 34 Pritchard street.

Charles A. Hans, a blacksmith employed in the Pittsburg shops, had his right foot badly bruised by a sledge falling upon it. The tool slipped from the handle while the man wielding it had it up four or five feet from the ground. Mr. Hans was taken to his home, on Broadway, where his injured foot was attended by the railway company's surgeon. He will be unable to work for several days.

LOCATED HIS SON.

DR. TALMAGE'S SERMON.

HE THINKS THE MILLENNIUM NEAR AT HAND—A DISCOURSE FOR THE Y.P. S. C. E. CONVENTION.

Washington, D. C., July 8.—Although Dr. Talmage was hindered from attending the great annual meeting of the Christian Endeavor society at Cincinnati his sermon shows him to be in sympathy with the great movement. Text, Amos ix., 13: "Behold the days come, saith the Lord, that the plowman shall overtake the reaper."

Unable because of other important duties to accept the invitation to take part in the great convention of Christian Endeavorers at Cincinnati, begun last week, I preach a sermon of congratulation for all the members of that magnificent association, whether now gathered in vast assemblage or busy in their places of usefulness, transatlantic and cisatlantic. And as it is now harvest time in the fields, and sickles are flashing in the gathering of a great crop, I find mighty suggestiveness in my text.

It is a picture of tropical clime, with a season so prosperous that the harvest reaches clear over to the planting time, and the swarthy husbandman, busy cutting the grain, almost feels the breath of the horses on his shoulders, the horses hitched to the plow, preparing for a new crop. "Behold the days come, saith the Lord, that the plowman shall overtake the reaper." When it that? That is this day, when hardly have you done reaping one harvest of religious result than the plowman is getting ready for another.

In phraseology, charged with all venom and abuse and caricature, I know that infidels and Agnostics have declared that Christianity has collapsed, that the Bible is an obsolete book, that the Christian church is on the retreat. I shall answer that wholesale charge today.

Between 3,000,000 and 4,000,000 Endeavorers sworn before high heaven that they will do all they can to take America for God, Europe for God, Asia and Africa for God—are not the signs most cheering? Or to return to the agricultural figure of my text, more than 1,000,000 reapers are overtaken by more than 1,000,000 plowmen. Besides this, there are more people who believe in the Bible than at any time in the world's existence. An Arab guide was leading a French infidel across the desert, and ever and anon the Arab guide would get down in the sand and pray to the Lord. It disgusted the French infidel, and after awhile, as the Arab got up from one of his prayers, the infidel said: "How do you know there is any God?" And the Arab guide said: "How do I know that a man and a camel passed by our tent last night? I know it by the footprint in the sand. And you want to know how I know whether there is any God? Look at the sunset. Is that the footstep of a man?" And by the same process you and I have come to understand that this book is the footstep of God.

But now let us see whether the book is a last year's almanac. Let us see whether the Church of God is a Bull Run retreat, muskets, canteens and haversacks strewing all the way. The great English historian, Sharon Turner, a man of vast learning and great accuracy, not a clergyman, but an attorney as well as a historian, gives this overwhelming statistic in regard to the number of Christians in the different centuries. In the first century, 500,000 Christians; in the second century, 2,000,000 Christians; in the third century, 5,000,000 Christians; in the fourth century, 10,000,000 Christians; in the fifth century, 15,000,000 Christians; in the sixth century, 20,000,000 Christians; in the seventh century, 24,000,000 Christians; in the eighth century, 30,000,000 Christians; in the ninth century, 40,000,000 Christians; in the tenth century, 50,000,000 Christians; in the eleventh century, 70,000,000 Christians; in the twelfth century, 80,000,000 Christians; in the thirteenth century, 75,000,000 Christians; in the fourteenth century, 80,000,000 Christians; in the fifteenth century, 100,000,000 Christians; in the sixteenth century, 125,000,000 Christians; in the seventeenth century, 155,000,000; in the eighteenth century, 200,000,000 Christians—a decadence, you observe in only one century, and more than made up in the following centuries, while it is the usual computation that there were at the close of the nineteenth century 470,000,000 Christians, making us to believe that before this century is closed the millenium will have started its boom and lifted its hosanna.

EARTH LIKE A CASTLE.

Poor Christianity! what a pity it has no friends. How lonesome it must be. Who will take it out of the poorhouse? Poor Christianity! Four hundred millions in one century. In a few weeks of this year 2,500,000 copies of the New Testament distributed. Why, the earth is like an old castle with twenty gates and a park of artillery ready to thunder down every gate. See how heathedom is being surrounded, and honeycombed, and attacked by this all-conquering Gospel. At the beginning of the nineteenth century, 150 missionaries; at the close of that century, 84,000 missionaries, and native helpers, and evangelists. At the beginning of the nineteenth century there were only 50,000 converts; now there are over one million converts from heathendom.

You all know that an important work of an army is to plant the batteries. It may take many days to plant the batteries and they may do all the work in ten minutes. These Gospel batteries are being planted all along the seacoasts and in all nations. It may take a good while to plant them and they may do all their work in one day. They will. Nations are to be born in a day. But just come back to Christendom and recognize the fact that during the last ten years as many people have connected themselves with the evangelical churches as connected themselves with the churches in the first fifty years of last century. So Christianity is falling back and the Bible, they say, is becoming an obsolete book. I go into court and wherever I find a judge's bench or a clerk's desk I find a Bible. Upon what book could be uttered the solemnity of an oath? What book is apt to be put in the trunk of the young man as he leaves for city life? The Bible. What shall I find in nine out of every ten homes in this city? The Bible. In nine out of every ten homes in Christendom? The Bible. Voltaire wrote the prophecy that the Bible in the nineteenth century would become extinct. The nineteenth century is gone, and I have to tell you that the room in which Voltaire wrote that prophecy not long ago was crowded from floor to ceiling with Bibles from Switzerland.

Suppose the congress of the United States should pass a law that there should be no more Bibles printed in America and no Bibles read. If there are 60,000,000 grown people in the United States there would be 60,000,000 people in an army to put down such a law and defend their right to read the Bible. But suppose the congress of the United States should make a law against the reading or the publication of any other book, how many people would go out in such a crusade? Could you get 60,000,000 people to go out and risk their lives in the defense of Shakespeare's tragedies, or Gladstone's tracts, or Macaulley's "History of England?" You know that there are 1,000 men who would die in the defense of the book where there is not more than one man who would die in the defense of any other book. You try to insult my common sense by telling me the Bible is fading out from the world. It is the most popular book of the centuries.

How do I know it? I know it just as I know in regard to other books. How many volumes of that history are published? Well, you say, 5,000. How many copies of another book are published? A hundred thousand. Which is the more popular? Why, of course, the one that has 100,000 circulation. And if this book has more copies abroad in the world, if there are five times as many Bibles abroad as any other book among civilized nations, does not that show you that the most popular book on earth today is the word of God?

"Oh!" say people, "the church is a collection of hypocrites, and it is losing its power and it is fading out from the world." Is it? A bishop of the Methodist church told me that that denomination averages two new churches every day. In other words, they build 730 churches in that denomination in a year, and there are at least 1,500 new Christian churches built in America every year. Does that look as though the Christian church were fading out, as though it were a defunct institution? What stands nearest to the hearts of the American people today? I do not care in what village, or what city, or what neighborhood you go. What is it? Is it the postoffice? Is it the hotel? Is it the lecturing hall? Ah, you know it is not. You know that that which stands nearest to the hearts of the American people is the Christian church.

RELIGION RULES THE LAND.

You may talk about the church being a collection of hypocrites, but when the diphtheria sweeps your children off, whom do you send for? The postmaster, the attorney general, the hotel keeper, alderman? No. You send for a minister of this Bible religion. And if you have not a room in your house for the obsequies, what building do you solicit? Do you say: "Give me the finest room in the hotel?" Do you say: "Give me that public building where I can lay my dead for a little while until we say a prayer over it?" No. You say, "Give us the house of God." And if there is a song to be sung at the obsequies, what do you want? What does anybody want? The "Marseillaise Hymn?" "God Save the Queen?" Our own grand national air?

No. They want the hymn with which they sang their old Christian mother into her last sleep, or they want sung the Sabbath school hymn which their little girl sang the last Sabbath afternoon she was out before she got that awful sickness which broke your heart. I appeal to your common sense. You know the most endearing institution on earth, the most popular institution on earth today, is the church of the Lord Jesus Christ. A man is a fool that does not recognize it.

The infidels say, "There is great liberty now for infidels; freedom of platform; infidelity shows its power from the fact that it is everywhere tolerated, and it can say what it will." Why, my friends, infidelity is not half so blatant in our day as it was in the days of our fathers. Do you know that in the days of our fathers there were pronounced infidels in public authority, and they could get any political position? Let a man today declare himself antagonistic to the Christian religion, and what city wants him for mayor, what state wants him for governor, what nation wants him for president or for king? Let a man openly proclaim himself the enemy of our glorious Christianity and he cannot get a majority of votes in any state, in any county, in any ward of America.

A distinguished infidel, years ago, riding in a rail car in Illinois, said: "What has Christianity ever done?" An old Christian woman said: "It has done one good thing anyhow, it has kept an infidel from being governor of Illinois." As I stood in the side room of the opera house of Peoria, Ill., a prominent gentleman of that city said: "I can tell you the secret of that tremendous bitterness against Christianity." Said I: "What is it?" "Why," said he, "in this very house there was a great convention to nominate a governor, and there were three or four candidates. At the same time there was in a church in this city a Sabbath school convention, and it happened that one of the men who was in the Sabbath school convention was also a member of the political convention. At the political convention the name highest on the roll at that time and about to be nominated was the name of the great champion infidel. There was an adjournment between ballots, and in the afternoon, when the nominations were being made, a plain farmer got up and said: "Mr. Chairman, that nomination must not be made; the Sunday schools of Illinois will defeat him." That ended all prospect of his nomination. The Christian religion is mightier today than it ever was. Do you think that such a scene could be enacted now as was enacted in the days of Robespierre, when a shameless woman was elevated to the dignity of a goddess and carried in a golden chair to a cathedral, where incense was burned to her, and people bowed down before her as a divine being, she taking the place of the Bible and God, while in the corridor of that cathedral were enacted such scenes of drunkenness and debauchery as had never before been witnessed? No. The police of Washington, or of New York, or of Paris would swoop upon it. I know infidelity makes a good deal of talk in our day. One infidel can make a great excitement, but I can tell you on what principle it is. It is on the principle that if a man jumps overboard from an ocean liner he makes more excitement than all the 500 who stay on board. But the fact that he jumps overboard does not stop the ship. Does that wreck the 500 passengers? It makes a great excitement when a man jumps from the lecturing platform or from the pulpit into infidelity; but does that keep the Bible or the church from carrying millions of passengers to the shores of eternal safety?

SCIENCE NOT SO POWERFUL.

These opponents says that science is overcoming religion in our day. They look through the spectacles of the infidel scientists, and they say: "It is impossible that this book be true; people are finding it out; the Bible has got to go overboard." Do you believe that the Bible account of the origin of life will be overthrown by infidel scientists who have fifty different theories about the origin of life? If they should all come up in solid phalanx, all agreeing on one sentiment and one theory, perhaps Christianity might be damaged; but there are not so many differences of opinion inside the church as outside the church. Oh, it makes me sick to see these literary fops going along with a copy of Darwin under one arm and a case of transfixed grasshoppers and butterflies under the other, telling about the "survival of the fittest" and Huxley's protoplasm, and the nebular hypothesis. The fact is that some naturalists, just as soon as they find out the difference between the feelers of a wasp and the horns of a beetle, begin to patronize the Almighty; while Agassiz, glorious Agassiz, who never made any pretension to being a Christian, puts both his feet on the doctrine of evolution and says: "I see that many of the naturalists of our day are adopting facts which do not bear observation, or have not passed under observation. These men warring with each other, Darwin warring against Lamarch, Wallace warring against Cope, even Herschel denouncing Ferguson. They do not agree about anything. They do not agree on embroyology, do not agree on the gradation of the species."

What do they agree on? Herschel writes a whole chapter on the errors of astronomy. La Place declares that the moon was not put in the right place. He says if it had been put four times farther from the earth than it is now there would be more harmony in the universe, but Lionville comes up just in time to prove that the moon was put in the right place. How many colors woven into the light? Seven, says Isaac Newton. Three, says David Brewster. How high is the aurora borealis? Two and a half miles, says Lias. Ninety miles, say other scientists. How far is the sun from the earth? Seventy-six million miles, says Lacalle. Ninety-nine million miles, says Henderson. One hundred and four million miles, says Mayer. Only a little difference of 28,000,000 miles! All split up among themselves—not agreeing on anything.

Here these infidel scientists have impaneled themselves as a jury to decide this trial between Infidelity, the plaintiff, and Christianity, the defendant, and after being out for centuries, they come in to render their verdict. Gentlemen of the jury, have you agreed on a verdict? No, no. Then go back for another 500 years and deliberate and agree on something. There is not a poor, miserable wretch in the city prison tomorrow that could be condemned by a jury that did not agree on the verdict, and yet you expect us to give up our glorious Christianity to please these men who cannot agree on anything. Ah! my friends, the church of Jesus Christ, instead of falling back, is on the advance. I see the glittering of the swords, I hear the tramping of the troops, I hear the thundering parks of artillery. O! God, I thank thee that I have been permitted to see this day of thy triumph, this day of the confusion of thine enemies. O! Lord God, take thy sword from thy thigh and ride forth to the victory.

I am mightily encouraged because I find among other things that while this Christianity has been bombarded for centuries, infidelity has not destroyed one church, or crippled one minister, or uprooted one verse of one chapter of all the Bible. If that has been their magnificent record for the centuries of the past, what may we expect for the future? The church all the time getting the victory, and their shot and shell all gone.

SECULAR PRESS IN LINE.

And then I find another most encouraging thought in the fact that the secular printing press and the pulpit seem harnessed in the same team for the proclamation of the Gospel. Every banker in this capital tomorrow, every Wall street banker tomorrow in New York, every State street banker tomorrow in Boston, every Third street banker tomorrow in Philadelphia, every banker in the United States and every merchant will have in his pocket a treatise on Christianity, ten, twenty or thirty passages of Scripture in the reports of sermons preached throughout the land today. It will be so in Chicago, so in New Orleans, so in Charleston, so in Boston, so in Philadelphia, so in Cincinnati, so everywhere. I know the tract societies are doing a grand and glorious work, but I tell you there is no power on earth today equal to the fact that the American printing press is taking up the sermons which are preached to a few hundred or a few thousand people, and on Monday morning and Monday evening scattering that truth to the millions. What an encouragement for every Christian man.

Then you have noticed a more significant fact if you have talked with people on the subject, that they are getting dissatisfied with worldly philosophy as a matter of comfort. They say it does not amount to anything when you have a dead child in the house. They tell you when they were sick and the door of the future seemed opening the only comfort they could find was the Gospel. People are having demonstrated all over he land that science and philosophy cannot solace the troubles and woes of the world, and they want some other religion, and they are taking Christianity, the only sympathetic religion that ever came into the world. You just take a scientific consolation in that room where a mother has lost her child. Try in that case the splendid doctrine of the "survival of the fittest." Tell her that child died because it was not worth as much as the other children. That is "your survival of the fittest." Just try your transcendentalism, your philosophy, your science, on that widowed soul and tell her it was a geological necessity that her companion should be taken away from her, just as in the course of the world's history the megatherium and the ichthyosaurus had to pass out of existence, and then you go on in your scientific consolation until you get to the sublime fact that 50,000,000 years from now we ourselves may be scientific specimens on the geologic shelf, petrified specimens of an extinct human race. And after you have got all through with your consolation, if the poor afflicted soul is not crazed by it, we will send forth from any of our churches the plainest Christian we have, and with one-half hour of prayer and reading of Scripture promises the tears will be wiped away and the house from floor to cupola will be flooded with the calmness of an Indian summer sunset. There is where I see the triumph of Christianity. People are dissatisfied with everything else. They want God. They want Jesus Christ.

The fact is that infidelity and agnosticism are founded on ignorance geological, ignorance chemical, ignorance astronomical, ignorance geographical. We have heard what the enemies of Christianity have had to testify. Now I put before you the testimony of the church on earth and the church in heaven. Not fifty, not a thousand, not a million, but all of the church on earth and all of the redeemed in heaven. Will you take the evidence of those who have witnessed as well as felt the power of religion, or will you prefer the testimony of those who begin by declaring that they have never witnessed or felt its power? You tell me that on a certain fourth of March twenty years ago, a president of the United States was inaugurated. How do I know it? You tell me there were 20,000 persons who distinctly heard his inaugural address. I deny both. I deny that he was inaugurated. I deny that his inaugural address was delivered. You ask why? I did not see it. I did not hear it. But you say that there were 20,000 people who did see and hear him. Is not the testimony of the 20,000 who were present worth more than the testimony of one who was absent? Now there are some men who say they have never seen Christ crowned in the heart and they do not believe it is ever done. There is a group of men who say they have never heard the voice of Christ, that they have never heard the voice of God. They do not believe that anything like it ever occurred. I point to twenty, a hundred thousand or a million people who say: "Christ was crowned in our heart's affections, we have seen Him and felt Him in our soul, and we have heard His voice; we have heard it in the storm and darkness; we have heard it again and again." Whose testimony will you take? These men who say they have not heard the voice of Christ, have not seen the coronation; or will you believe the thousands and tens of thousands of Christians who testify of what they saw with their own eyes and heard with their own ears?

VALUE OF TESTIMONY.

You say morphia puts one to sleep. You say in time of sickness it is very useful. I deny it. Morphia never puts anybody to sleep; it never alleviates pain. You ask why I say that. I have never tried it, I never took it. I deny that morphia is soothing to the nerves, or any quiet in time of sickness. I deny that morphia ever put anybody to sleep. But here are twenty persons who say they have all felt the soothing effects of a physician's prescribing morphine. Whose testimony will you take? Those who took the medicine, or my testimony, I never having taken the medicine? Here is the gospel of Jesus Christ—an anodyne for all trouble, the mightiest medicine on earth. Here is a man who says: "I don't believe in it; there is no power in it." Here are other people who say: "We have found out its power and know its soothing influence; it has cured us." Whose testimony will you take in regard to this healing medicine?

Young man, do not be ashamed to be a friend of the Bible. Do not put your thumb in your vest, as young men sometimes do, and swagger about, talking of the glorious light of nature, and of these being no need of the Bible. They have the light of nature in India and China, and in all the dark places of the earth. Did you ever hear that the light of nature gave them comfort for their trouble? They have lancets to cut and juggernauts to crush, but no comfort. Ah! my friends, you had better stop your skepticism. Suppose you are put in a crisis like that of Colonel Ethan Allen. I saw the account and at one time mentioned it in an address. A descendant of Ethan Allen, who is an infidel, said it never occurred. Soon after I received a letter from a professor in one of our colleges, who is also a descendant of Ethan Allen and is a Christian. He wrote me that the incident is accurate; that my statement was authentic and true. The wife of Col. Ethan Allen was a very consecrated woman. The mother instructed the daughter in the truths of Christianity. The daughter sickened and was about to die, and she said to her father: "Father, shall I take your instruction or shall I take mother's instruction? I am going to die now; I must have this matter decided." That man, who had been loud in his infidelity, said to his dying daughter: "My dear, you had better take your mother's religion." My advice is the same to you, O young man. You know how religion comforted her. You know what she said to you when she was dying. You had better take your mother's religion.

WORK OF THE ENDEAVORERS

MANY MEETINGS ARE HELD IN CINCINNATI.

The Various Sessions are Largely Attended and Many Addresses are Heard.

Cincinnati, Ohio, July 9.—The time of the delegates to the Christian Endeavor convention today was occupied mostly by denominational conferences. There were twenty-six of these rallies held in the various churches about the city and they were attended by almost all the delegates and visitors.

The day opened with the usual two daily quiet hour services, conducted by Revs. Floyd W. Tompkins, of Philadelphia, and Cornelius Wolfekin, of Brooklyn, N. Y.

A special meeting was held during the morning at the Central Christian church, where Rev. G. Campbell Morgan, of Baltimore, gave consecutive Bible teachings. Rev. J. F. Carson, of Brooklyn, also spoke, his topic being, "The Holy Spirit."

The personal equipment of Endeavorers and all those who seek to be well provided with all the requisities, both spiritual and temporal, necessary to become successful workers, was a very interesting subject discussed at the Ninth Street Baptist church under the direction of Miss Margaret Koch, of Waterville, Maine. She took as her topic, "The Relation of Expression to Power in Christian Endeavor Work."

Many earnest Endeavorers attended who sought advice as to the best ways of their launching into the work in a more vigorous and aggressive manner.

The three great unditoriums were thrown open to the public at 9:30 a. m. for a discussion of "The Twentieth Century Church." Rev. J. H. Garrison, of St. Louis, presided in Auditorium Ohio; Rev. Canon J. B. Richardson, of London, Ont., in Auditorium Endeavor, and Rev. Allen B. Philputt, of Indianapolis, in Auditorium Williston. Five-minute speeches were the order and many were made by the various visiting clergymen. Among the unlimited speakers who addressed the three meetings were:

In Auditorium Ohio—Rev. John Henry Barrows, of Oberlin, Ohio, who spoke on "The Power of Prayer;" Rev. A. J. Lyman, of Brooklyn, "The Power of the Bible;" Marion Lawrence, Toledo, Ohio, "The Power of the Sunday School," and Rev. F. W. Gunsaulus, of Chicago, on "The Power of the Church in the Nation."

In Auditorium Endeavor—"The Power of Christian Endeavor" was treated by Rev. Amos R. Wells, of Boston; "The Power of Evangelism," by William P. Hall, of New York, and "The Power of a Noble Life," by Boker T. Washington, of Tuskegee, Ala.

In Auditorium Williston—Rev. Johnson Myers, of Chicago, treated "On Its Supreme Need;" Rev. James Chalmers, of Elgin, Ill., "Its Place in the Community," and Rev. Wayland Hoyt, of Philadelphia, on "Its Mass Meetings."

The meetings were then adjourned to allow the Endeavorers to join in the noon-day evangelical work in the factory and tenement districts.

DESPERADO ESCAPES.

Chicago, July 9.—Theo. Johnson, who stabbed Policeman Michael O'Malley Sunday night while the latter was trying to disperse a gang of hoodlums, today escaped from the west North avenue police station. He pried open the door of the cage, crawled into a coal hole and made his way to the street. O'Malley's condition is serious.

BOER PRISONER ESCAPES.

New York, July 9.—One of the Boer prisoners recently taken to Derrill's Island, Bermuda, from South Africa, was a stowaway on the steamer Trinidad, which arrived here today. His name is William S. Duploy. The authorities here sent him to Ellis Island.

STRUCK BY WABASH TRAIN.

Wabash train No. 18 struck and badly injured John Boltz at the Fontain street crossing in Huntington at 8:42 o'clock this morning. Boltz was driving across the tracks and either failed to notice the approach of the train or miscalculated the distance and speed it was traveling. The pilot struck both horse and buggy, and Boltz was tossed aside, alighting upon his shoulders and head. His right shoulder was crushed and he received some bad wounds on the head, arms and legs, but it is believed he will recover. The horse was thrown several yards and was instantly killed. Mr. Boltz owns the Oak saloon in Huntington.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Singrey have gone to Milwaukee, where Mr. Singrey will attend the national convention of wholesale saddlery dealers of the United States.

NEW MYSTERY IN GIRL'S DEATH

Body of Little Alice Cothrell Found in Cistern at Wallen, But Manner of Death is Unknown---Coroner Investigating.

(From Monday's Daily.)

The dead body of little Alice Cothrell, who disappeared from her home in Wallen Tuesday afternoon, was found at 4 o'clock Sunday afternoon, drowned in a cistern upon the premises of Charles Dunn, the well known saw mill owner at Wallen. One phase of the mystery is thus cleared up, only to give way to another, and in the inquest which began this morning Coroner Barnett is conducting a searching inquiry as to how and when the little girl fell to her death in the cistern.

Prosecutor Emrick has been called in to assist at the examination, which is being held in the coroner's office at the court house behind closed doors. Lieut. J. B. Fonner is taking a stenographic report of the testimony, and about twenty witnesses from Wallen are being examined.

EXCITEMENT IS HIGH.

From the day of the disappearance of the little girl, who was a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Cothrell, and about ten and one-half years of age, there has been the wildest excitement in and about Wallen. The girl was well known and appears to have been a general favorite with the people of the village.

Shortly after noon on Tuesday, after engaging in play with a smaller brother and sister, Alice left the house and was last seen near the residence of Mr. Dunn, where she went almost daily, but the anxiety of the parents was not aroused until her failure to return at the supper hour. Mr. Cothrell, who is in the employ of Mr. Dunn, returned from his work, and both he and his wife made inquiry all over the village. No one had seen the child and the neighborhood was soon aroused.

The father, with some of the neighbors, continued the search during the entire night. The day following others took up the work and from that time until the body was recovered Sunday evening there was hardly an hour when searching parties were not out covering every foot of territory in the vicinity of the village.

VARIOUS CLUES FOLLOWED.

Occasonal rumors of girls having been seen at distant ppints were eagerly investigated. Huntertown people joined in the search and every bit of woods for miles around was minutely searched. Day after day kind-hearted neighbors of the agonized family persistently kept up what seemed a hopeless quest, and the entire country was thoroughly aroused. Fears that the little one had been kidnaped grew more general, but the search was kept up tirelessly. Sunday a large delegation of Huntertown people came to Wallen to lend their services in seeking the lost girl, and it was determined to make a more thorough investigation of the open wells and cisterns in the village, under the presumption that the girl might have accidentally fallen into one of these and drowned.

At the Dunn home, where the little girl had called on Tuesday and near where she was last seen alive, James Noonan, George Warcup and J. E. Ballou made the investigation. The cistern here is beneath the kitchen, where there is a trap door in the floor, and another covering over the top of the cistern about two feet below. Mr. Dunn expressed his positive belief that the child could not have fallen into the cistern, but secured a garden rake and to this his companions spliced a pole several feet longer.

FOUND THE BODY.

Almost as soon as the rake touched the bottom of the water it met an obstruction, and a moment later the body of the long-lost girl was dragged to the top of the water, which was nearly eight feet in depth. Reaching downward the searchers lifted the form out and Coroner Barnett was quickly notified.

Sheriff Stout drove to Wallen with Coroner Barnett, who at once began the investigation. The little body was in an excellent state of preservation and was neither swollen nor decomposed. The water had been cool enough to prevent decomposition and the only mark visible was a slight bruise below the knee, such as any child might have received in the course of play. Coroner Barnett called Dr. Greenwell, of Huntertown, to make an examination after the body had been removed to the home of the stricken parents.

CASE IS MYSTERIOUS.

Unless the coroner's investigation shall bring it out, there appears to be no one who can give any information as to when or how the child fell into the cistern. Marie Sampleton, a domestic employed at the Dunn home, was engaged at the family washing on Tuesday and was obtaining water from the cistern. She says the little girl, who was a frequent visitor, came into the kitchen shortly after 1 o'clock and remained some time. Miss Sampleton was in and out of the house as required by her work and finally saw Alice walk back through the yard, apparantly going to a little tract of land north of the home, which is used by the Cothrells as a garden. This was the last Miss Sampleton saw of the little girl, and neither she nor any other member of the family heard any outcry such as a girl would have been likely to make in falling into the cistern. There is a rumor that a gentleman saw the little girl returning toward the Dunn home at a time which must have been later than when Miss Sampleton saw her leave.

The cistern was opened and closed at varous times during Tuesday and subsequent days and the water was used continuously as usual up to the time the body was found in its depths Sunday afternoon.

CORONER IS RETICENT.

Coroner Barnett was unable to say whether or not the taking of evidence would be concluded today and absolute secrecy is maintained as to the testimony given at the inquest. It began at 10 o'clock this morning and at noon there was an adjournment until 1:30 this afternoon, when Dr. Greenwell, of Huntertown, went on the stand.

Asked whether there was anything in any phase of the case to indicate even an attempt at assault, Dr. Barnett evaded the question, but replied: "The whole case looks suspicious."

The most intense interest is manifested in the case by the crowd in the court house corridors. The testimony of Dr. Greenwell was concluded.

As The Sentinel goes to press Mr. Dunn, upon whose premises the girl's body was found, is on the witness stand.

KILLED HIMSELF.

Edward Lenfesty, in a fit of despondency resulting from drinking and domestic troubles, sent a bullet into his head at his boarding house in Muncie Saturday night, inflicting a wound from which he died a few hours later. For some time the deceased was employed as a switchman on the Lake Erie and Western, but a few days ago he resigned and since that time he drank heavily up to Saturday night, when he shot himself. The remains have been taken to Plymouth, the old home of the deceased, where they will be interred tomorrow. S. W. Lenfesty, of this city, a conductor on the Pittsburg road, is a brother of the deceased and he went to Muncie to claim the body and take it to Plymouth as soon as he heard of the tragedy. Ed Lenfesty is well known here. He came to Fort Wayne ten or eleven years ago and took a position as caller in the roundhouse. Later he entered the road service and for awhile was a brakeman. When he left that road he went to the Lake Erie and Western, where he was employed up to last week. Several years ago he was married to a daughter of Gus Bowser, but the couple parted soon afterwards. A few months ago Ed married a young lady from South Bend and she survives him. Mrs. Lenfesty was visiting her parents at the time of the tragedy.

TEN MILES COMPLETED.

(Huntington Herald.)

The construction gang on the Fort Wayne and Southwestern interurban line informs the Herald that Friday evening the work of track laying had reached the Hendry residence, in Roanoke, a point just north of the old lock. Of course, by the time this appears in print the rails will be laid still further north and east of Roanoke. Some days a whole mile of track is laid and at this rate the work creeps along slowly but surely. A couple of weeks more and the space between Huntington and Fort Wayne will be spanned by the steel bands and ready for the trolley wire.

MRS. M'KINLEY RESTS.

Canton, Ohio, July 8.—President and Mrs. McKinley closely observed their resting program today. The weather was cool, but there was too much humidity for Mrs. McKinley to venture out on a morning drive, although she continues to gradually regain strength. President McKinley and Secretary Cortelyou devoted some time to official work during the morning, clearing up business they brought from Washington and disposing of matters forwarded by mail.

VERDICT OF ACCIDENT.

Coroner Barnett states that his finding in the case of Walter Stanley will be that Stanley came to his death in an accidental manner while intoxicated. Stanley was the Nickel Plate caller who was ground beneath the wheels of a Lake Erie and Western train near the Main street crossing a week ago. The officers were unable to find any evidence to substantiate the theory of foul play.

MISSOURI FINANCIER DIES.

Westchester, Pa., July 6.—C. R. Crandall, president of the Sedalia Trust company, Sedalia, Mo., died suddenly in a hotel here today. His death is supposed to have been due to heart disease, aggravated by heat. Mr. Crandall was 60 years of age.

Theodore Grahl, of Detroit, Mich., is in the city on a visit to friends. Mr. Grahl was formerly a teacher in Emanuel Lutheran school, but resigned the position to assume charge of a Lutheran school in Detroit.

BIG DAMAGE SUIT IS FILED

H. F. BEVERFORDEN, DRUGGIST, IS THE DEFENDANT.

Ernest H. Meyer Wants $5,000, Alleging That a Mistake Caused His Wife's Death.

Readers of The Sentinel will recall the death of Mrs. Wilhelmina Meyer, wife of Ernest H. Meyer, of 310 Harrison street, which occurred just two weeks ago Monday. The cause of her death was given out at the time as blood poisoning, the result of an ingrowing toe nail. It was known at the time that the blood poisoning had been superinduced by the application of carbolic acid to the affected member, and rumor had it that the application was the result of a mistake of a druggist's clerk. The matter was thought to have been passed over until Monday, when Mr. Meyer filed suit in the Allen circuit court against Henry F. Beverforden, the well-known druggist, asking damages in the sum of $5,000.

The complaint, which was penned by R. B. Dreibelbiss, sets at first the early marriage of the plaintiff and the deceased, and the fact that they had raised a family and lived continuously and happy together as man and wife until the 24th day of June last, when Mrs. Meyer died. The complaint then continues and alleges that Henry F. Beverforden is a druggist doing business at 286 South Calhoun street, and that one William F. Benninghoff, a clerk in his employ, furnished certain drugs as afterwards described. The complaint then avers that Wilhelmina Meyer, the deceased, had for some time previous to the 24th of last June been a sufferer from an ingrowing toenail on her great toe, and that Dr. Merz, the family physician, had been called to treat it; the doctor prescribed a well-known remedy, "carbolated cotton," which remedy was secured and applied, and it afforded the patient much comfort and relief. The first supply of this carbolated cotton being exhausted, Mrs. Meyer requested her son, Henry Meyer, to go to a drug store and get a new supply of the remedy. He went to Beverforden's drug store and asked for 10 cents worth of carbolated cotton; after a short search the aforenamed William Benninghoff returned to young Meyer with a package of ordinary absorbent cotton, saying that they had no carbolated cotton, but that the absorbent cotton which he had was just as good. Young Meyer refused to take the article offered him, saying that it was not what his mother wanted and was not what she had sent him for. Benninghoff said he would prepare the cotton as wanted and that he took the absorbent cotton and instead of saturating it with carbolated acid, saturated it with pure carbolic acid; that young Meyer relying upon the statement made to him by Benninghoff, the defendant's clerk, took said cotton and delivered it to his mother; that Mrs. Meyer relying upon the statement made by her son, as having been made to him by Benninghoff, applied it as she had the other remedy before; that shortly afterwards the pain in her toe increasing, the cotton was removed, when it was found that the carbolic acid had eaten away a large portion of the toe and the flesh from the fore part of the foot. The family physician, Dr. Merz, was then immediately called, and he called in other physicians to consult with regarding the best course to be pursued, and it was found advisable to amputate a portion of the foot, in order to prevent the spread of gangrene, which had already set in; that an amputation was made and a few days thereafter, the pain and decay of flesh continuing, and the gangrene still advancing, another consultation of physicians was held, at which it was found necessary to amputate the leg six inches above the ankle; after the second amputation it was found that the gangrenous poison had permeated the system and could not be checked, and the patient died on the 24th day of June as before stated. The complaint then continues and says that the defendant is sixty-one years of age and that by the carelessness of the druggist and his clerk he has been deprived of his helpmeet during his declining years and has been put to an expense of not less than $500 for doctors' fees, and therefore asks judgment in the sum of $5,000.

READING ROAD IN BAD SHAPE

FREIGHT HANDLERS BLOCKADE TRAFFIC.

Shop Hands to Vote on the Proposition to Settle the Strike—Men are Still Out.

Reading, Pa., July 8.—The strike of Philadelphia and Reading railroad company freight handlers is still on. The company has over 100 cars blocking traffic in its yards here. The strikers have received word from Wayne Junction, near Philadelphia, and Newberry Junction, near Williamsport, the only points along the line where the company would be in a position to reload its freight, that the men there will refuse to allow that work to be done at either point.

This morning the company began putting green hands to work. Five of the old men remained and the company has about twenty-five men on duty!

The company's officials claim that they have a number of freight handlers at work and that they are handling the freight business fairly well with as little delay as possible.

In their grievances addressed to the company the men have requested that their wages be advanced from 14 to 18 cents an hour. They want a nine-hour day and ask for double time for overtime on Sundays and holidays and time and half-time on other overtime.

The engine "hostlers," who are employed in handling the locomotives in the yards, have addressed a letter to Superintendent Prince asking for an advance in wages.

The 1,250 Reading railway shop hands are still out, not a man having returned today. They are to meet this afternoon to vote on the proposition submitted by Acting President Welsh yesterday.

Acting President Welsh sent another offer to the striking shopmen this afternoon. He extends the time for them to return to work until tomorrow and offers to pay them three days wages, for last Friday and Saturday and today. He asks the freight handlers to return tomorrow also and promises that their grievance shall be fairly considered.

MINERS' TREASURER MISSING.

Terre Haute, Ind., July 6.—Secretary Kennedy, of the Indiana miners' organization, was called by long-distance telephone yesterday morning by officers of the local union at Rosedale, Parke county, and informed that William Coker, treasurer of the local, had absented himself, and it was alleged that he had embezzled funds amounting to about $1,000. The officers called up the bank at Rockville, where Coker deposited money, but the bank people responded that his bank account was "none of their business." He kept the account as a private individual. Coker was also treasurer of the lodge of Red Men. Several days ago the miners' local decided to have the treasury distribute money among the members for each to celebrate the Fourth in his own way, instead of providing for a general celebration, and the last heard of Coker was when he started for Rockville to get the money. He was held in high regard by the Rosedale miners.

FARMER'S HORRIBLE DEATH.

(Lagrange Democrat.)

A gentleman by the name of Tyler, living near Lima, met a horrible death Wednesday forenoon. He went to a field in the morning to cut wheat with a binder. Not returning for dinner his wife went out to see what was the cause, when she found his mangled remains beneath the binder. The supposition is that he was overcome by the heat and fell from his seat in front of the cutting bar. Judging from the bood on the ground he had been dragged several rods before the team came to a stop. From indications he had been dead for some time.

EIGHT ON THE FORCE.

Eight former Fort Wayne gentlemen are now holding positions in the United States pension agency at Indianapolis, the list including P. J. Fallon, J. E. Parnin, S. B. Bond, H. E. Kaiser, C. E. Webber, George Ward, W. P. Duffy and C. C. Kerr. The fact, also, that all have been holding the places for several years and through different administrations is evidence of the efficiency of Fort Wayne's representatives at the capital city.

EACH THOUGHT OTHER DEAD.

Dublin, Ind., July 8.—A remarkable union has been effected between two brothers in Henry county after a separation of nearly half a century, during which time each thought the other dead. Barton and Jabez Guyer lived with their parents in North Carolina. In 1852 Barton left home to make his way in the world. He went to Texas, thence to Mexico, finally returning to Texas, where he located. He wrote his brother repeatedly, but receiving no reply to his letters gave him up for dead. Jabez, never receiving any information from Barton, lost all trace of him and likewise mourned him as dead. Barton enlisted in the confederate army and served until peace was declared. Jabez later on moved with his family to Henry county, Indiana. Recently a relative of the family learned through conversation with a traveling salesman of a man named Barton Guyer in Harrisburg, Texas. Correspondence developed the fact that he was the long-lost brother.

REV. DR. CHAPMAN IS BETTER

NOTED EVANGELIST ON WAY TO RECOVERY.

Passed a Comfortable Night and His Physicians Believe He is Now Out of Danger.

Winona Lake, Ind., July 6.—Rev. Dr. J. Wilbur Chapman, the noted evangelist and Presbyterian divine, who was stricken here July 4th with acute indigestion, passed a comfortable night and his physicians say he is now practically out of danger.

Dr. Chapman was able to leave his bed this morning and to assist in his own toilet. It is believed that he will now go rapidly on to recovery. A specialist from Chicago who was called in consultation says there is no distinct complication involving the patient's heart. There is great relief here among the people that Dr. Chapman is progressing so favorably.

BEAST BOUND OVER TO COURT

LEVI JOHNSON HELD FOR A NAMELESS CRIME.

About a week ago a young fellow who gave his name as Levi Johnson was sent over on a charge of vagrancy. He was picked up on the river bottoms near the Foster waist factory, where he was found in company with a young boy, who got away and whom the police have been looking for ever since. He was located a few days ago and was brought into court last Saturday to testify against Johnson. Johnson was brought to court from the jail and was placed in a chair where he could see the little fellow as he gave his testimony. The boy said his name is Michael Callahan and that he is nearly ten years of age. He related how, on the 29th of June, being last Saturday, he met the defendant and was by him enticed to go down to the river bank in the weeds, and that while there the said defendant committed a disgusting and nameless crime. The crime was not nameless to the lad, who found a ready expression, as with tears streaming down his cheeks, he told of the atrocity committed upon him. Johnson, who is a tough-looking young chap, apparently about twenty-six years of age, was asked whether he had anything to say. He said that he guessed nothing he could say would count for much anyway, so he would let things go as they were. Judge Lantit bound him over in the sum of $1,000 to answer to a nameless charge in the circuit court.

AFTER A FRANCHISE.

A party of Fort Wayne gentlemen will go before the city council at South Bend next week and will ask for a franchise for an independent telephone system for that city. Among those interested in the project are Messrs. C. H. Worden, Theodore Thorward, W. J. Vesey and G. W. Beers, and these gentlemen have carefully canvassed the situation and have received assurances that the movement would meet with great favor from the citizens of South Bend.

A YEAR WITHOUT SUMMER

REMARKABLE PHENOMENON THAT OCCURRED IN 1816—ICE AND DESOLATION IN JUNE AND JULY.

There are few persons now living who recollect the year 1816, but European and American data represent it as having been phenomenal in almost every particular.

In New England the year went by the name of "eighteen and starve to death," and the summer months are known as history as "the cold summer of 1816," so remarkable was the temperature.

The sun's rays seemed to be destitute of heat and all nature was clad in sable hue. Men and women became frightened, and imagined that the fire in the sun was being rapidly extinguished and that the world would soon come to an end.

Ministers took the phenomena for the text of their sermons, and pseudoscientific men talked of things they knew not of, while fanatics took advantage of the occasion to form religious organizations.

The winter of 1815-16 was very cold in Europe but comparatively mild in this country, and did not in any way indicate the severe weather that soon prevailed.

Even the almanacs were silent and, although the usual indications "about now look out for cold weather," or "this is a good time for snow," were entered in the regular portions of the books devoted to the winter predictions, those used for chronicling the pleasanter months had no such alarming warnings.

January was wild, so much so that for days the people allowed their fires to go out, as artificial heat made the buildings uncomfortably warm. This pleasant weather was broken by a severe cold snap in February, but this low temperature passed in a few days and a warmer condition, similar to the month previous, set in.

March "came in like a lion but went out like a lamb." There was nothing unusual in the climatic conditions of the month which differed from those generally found in this windy season.

April was the advance guard of this strange freak in temperature. The early days were warm and bright, but as the month drew to a close the cold increased until it ended in ice and snow and a very low temperature.

To those who delighted in balmy May days and loved to watch the budding flowers, the May of 1816 was a bitter disappointment. True, buds came, but so did the frost, and in one night laid all vegetation a blackened waste.

Corn was killed, and the fields had to be made ready for another planting, but the people's astonishment was complete when they found ice formed to the thickness of half an inch in the pools.

June, "the month of roses," was this year a month of ice and desolation. "The "oldest inhabitant" was surprised, for never before had the thermometer sunk so low in the tube in these latitudes in the last month of spring.

Frost, ice and snow were common. Almost every green thing that had taken advantage of a few warm days to develop was killed, and various kinds of fruit were nearly all destroyed.

One day the beautiful snow fell to a depth of ten inches in Vermont, seven inches in Maine, and three inches in Massachusetts and central New York.

Matters were beginning to be interesting. People were undecided whether to spend the summer in the south or at the seashore and mountains. One day the latter resorts were desirable, and the next would decide in favor of the former, but, on the whole, the southern clime was preferred.

July was accompanied by frost and ice, and those who celebrated the glorious Fourth, "not wisely but too well," found an abundance of ice handy for immediate use the next morning. It was not very thick, not more than one-sixteenth of an inch, but it was ice, and it caused the good people of New England, New York and some sections of Pennsylvania to look grave. That month Indian corn was destroyed in all but the most favored locations, and but a small quantity escaped.

Surely August would put an end to such cold weather, but the farmers as well as hotel proprietors were doomed to disappointment. The midsummer month was, if possible, more cheerless than the days already passed. Ice formed even thicker than it had done the month before, and corn was so badly frozen that it was cut for fodder, and almost every green plant in this country as well as in Europe was frozen.

Papers received from England stated that the year 1816 would be remembered by the generation then living as a year in which there was no summer.

What little corn ripened in the unexposed States was worth almost its weight in silver, and farmers were compelled to provide themselves with corn grown in 1815 for the seed they used in the spring of 1817. This seed never cost so much, being difficult to get, even at $5 per bushel.

The last month of summer was ushered in bright and warm, and for two weeks the now almost frozen people began to thaw out. It was the mildest weather of the year, but just as the inhabitants got fairly to appreciate it old Boreas and Jack Frost came along and whitened and hardened everything in their path.

On the 16th ice formed a quarter of an inch thick, and winter clothing that had been laid away for a few days was again brought forth and wrapped round shivering humanity.

By this time the people had given up all hopes of again seeing the flowers bloom or hearing the birds sing and began to prepare for a hard winter.

October kept up the reputation of its predecessors, as there was scarcely a day that the thermometer registered higher than 30 degrees.

November also was extremely cold and sleighing was good the first week of the month, strange to relate, December was the mildest and most comfortable month of the entire year, a condition which led many people to believe that the seasons had changed about.

Of course, this cold spell sent breadstuffs to an unheard of price, and it was impossible to obtain for table use many of the common vegetables, as they were required for seed.

Flour sold in 1817 in the cities for $13 per barrel, and the average price of wheat in England was 97 shillings per quarter.—Boston Globe.

SIGNALS TO MARS.

In a London newspaper Sir Robert S. Ball writes of the futility of human endeavor to attract the attention of possible inhabitants of Mars. He says: "If the whole extent of Lake Superior was covered with petroleum, and if that petroleum were set on fire, then I think we may admit that an inhabitant of Mars who was furnished with a telescope as good as that which Mr. Percival Lowell uses at Flagstaff might be able to see that something had happened. But we must not suppose that the mighty conflagration would appear to the Martian as a very conspicuous object.

"It would rather be a very small feature, but still I think it would not be beyond the reach of a practical observer in that planet. On the other hand, if an area the size of Lake Superior on Mars was to be flooded with petroleum and that petroleum was to be kindled, we should expect to witness the event from here not as a great and striking conflagration, but as a tiny little point of just discernible light. The disc of Mars is not a large object, and the conflagration would not extend over the three-hundredth part of that disc.

"It is sufficient to state these facts to show that the possibility of signaling to Mars is entirely beyond the power of human resources."

HOW TO ENTER POLITICS.

If you want to be a politician, the first thing to do is to get into the push, or at least create the impression that you are in. When there is a convention, if you can't work in as a delegate, you can at least get into the crowd in the hotel lobby, and if you carry yourself in shape you can make the stranger who is within the gates of the city believe you are not only a delegate, but one of the steering committee. Keep busy. Take at least eight or ten men off to one side in the course of the evening for private conversation.

There is quite a good deal in making people believe you are cutting a good many lemons, whether you are or not. It is a god idea to be seen off in a corner talking with some prominent candidate. You can arrange this if you have the proper amount of gall. You may not have anything to tell him, but then you will be seen in consultation, and you will make some parties who don't know you very well think that there must be a hen on. But, above all else, cultivate your gall. If you can get some reporter to interview you on the political situation, that will be a good scheme. The newspapers can make a reputation for almost any sort of a man. — Topeka Mail and Breeze.

LINCOLN'S BIRTHDAY.

The Wyoming legislature has passed a law making Lincoln's birthday a legal holiday in that state, says the New York Sun.. At the present time the other legal holidays in Wyoming are New Year's day, Washington's birthday, Decoration day, July 4, Labor day, Arbor day (fixed by the governor) election day and Christmas.

The addition of Lincoln's birthday brings Wyoming into line with the other states which have already adopted it, which are Connecticut, Illinois, Minesota, New Jersey, New York, North Dakota, Pennsylvania and Ohio. Kentucky, where Abraham Lincoln was born does not celebrate the day, and it is indeed the state in which the number of holidays is smallest, the state having the largest number being Louisiana.

Ohio and Indiana have not adopted the anniversary of Lincoln's birth as a legal holday and Massachusetts, in which the memory of Lincoln is reverently observed has not done so either. Neither has South Carolina, the state in which the number of colored inhabitants is largest. South Carolina observes as a public holiday January 19, the birthday of Robert E. Lee.

A PLEA FOR THE HOME

In an article in the Woman's Home Companion Bishop Potter discusses the passing of the home in our large cities and dwells on the fact that in many cases children are brought up by servants rather than by parents. Here is his conclusion:

"If there is no longer to be any home life, any home circle and home sacrifices for the dear home's sake, then we need not be in any uncertainty as to what we shall have to anticipate. You cannot make character by means of a governess, a tutor and a groom.

"And meantime let the young founders of homes make a resolute beginning. You are looking forward to marriage and the founding of a family, my young brother, or you, my dear girl, whom may God bless and guide always. Resolve to have some law for the home, and to give some regular and sufficient time in it to your children. If we are to recover out of its well nigh lost estate the beautiful and gracious institution of the home, we must make the business of doing something of set purpose and of definite plan. All the way from the top to the bottom of our vast and complex social structure in the life of the wage earner and in that of the capitalist, the clerk, the professional man, the mechanic—that ancient and divine institution must be lifted to its true place and held in its rightful honor. Schools, gymnasia, bathing houses, recreation piers, libraries, model tenements, better food, ventilation, improved sanitary conditions, and the like are all of value in their place, but that which makes men and women for God and humanity, and the better service of their land and age, is first of all the personal touch of some strong and tender hand in the home. 'God setteth the solitary in families,' wrote the psalmist long ago. Let us respect His order and follow His way. 'Home, Sweet Home' is said to have been written by a life-long wanderer who never had one. It is an immortal witness to the deep and inextinguishable hunger of the human heart."

GREAT PECUNARY LUCK.

Of the many fortunes that have been made in the Beaumont oil field none quite equals in magnitude that which has come to J. N. Page, who has lived for many years in the little town of Georgetown, twenty miles north of Austin. Mr. Page is now of middle age, and has a wife and several children.

About two years ago an acquaintance of Mr. Page wrote him informing him that he owned a tract of fifteen acres of land situated about four miles south of Beaumont, which he desired to sell, as he needed money. Mr. Page had a few hundred dollars saved, and he bought the land, paying less than $200 for the whole tract. He gave but little further thought to his purchase, having determined to hold the little piece of land for his children.

When the great Lucas gusher was "brought in," Mr. Page began receiving offers for his land. He went to Beaumont and found that the tract was on Spindle Top heights, in the very heart of the proved oil district. Later developments have proved conclusively that there is oil under every foot of the land, as it is now almost surrounded by flowing wells. Land values went up with lightning rapidity, and still Mr. Page declined to sell. He held against all offers until ten days ago, when he sold one acre for $65,000. A few days later he sold the remaining fourteen acres of the tract for $600,000.

The purchaser of the fourteen acres is a syndicate in which former Governor J. S. Hogg is largely interested. —Beaumont Correspondence Cincinnati Enquirer.

Some idea of the value of the coal deposits in Indian Territory can be gained when it is known the average thickness of the vein is four feet, which will produce 4,000 tons an acre. These lands are leased in lots of 960 acres each, which means that 3,500,000 to 4,000,000 tons can be produced by those leasing the land. On this output the lessees pay a royalty of 8 cents a ton. The output during the last year was 1,900,127 as against 1,400,442 tons the previous year. The interests of the Chickasaw and Choctaw Indians are protected.

THE WOMEN OF KOREA

Their Lot Most Pitiable—The Lower Class Must Work, the Upper Class be Entombed.

"We may say without hesitation that the lot of the Korean woman is the most pitiable, just as the position of her people is the most deplorable, in the far east," says Anna Northend Benjamin, in Ainslee's. Every degrading idea emanating from China is here carried to an extreme. The wife is not more than a chattel, seldom seen before the marriage, which is arranged by a "go-between" (as in China and Japan), and after marriage to talk to her even is a degradation for the husband. In the lower classes she must work, work, work. In the upper classes she must be entombed.

A few instances will give point to these facts. In the city of Fusan, in the southern Korea, there lived a Korean wife of the upper, though not noble, class. She had been reached in her home, which was her prison, by some young women missionaries. One night, with the consent of her husband, they planned to take her to visit the Japanese settlement nearby. It lay only half a mile away, but the woman had never seen it. This event took the place in her life that a trip abroad does with us. She said that for many years she had seen nothing more than the roof of her husband's house. Now she had something to think of until she died. A Korean girl has no name. She is known as So-and-So's sister, or So-and-So's mother, when she becomes married and has a son. Her husband calls her by her son's name. A husband in Korea is entitled to a divorce on the ground of his wife's incompatibility with her mother-in-law. The professions of sorceress, Buddhist nun and dancing girl seem the only avenues by which Korean woman can escape her bondage. Though in some cases the adoption of Christianity has led to a better state of affairs, yet the attempt at innovation seems almost hopeless. A young Korean couple in Fusan had become Christians, and the husband, being the right hand of one of the missionaries, went with him on long trips into the country. He had fallen in love with his little wife—a very unusual thing—and, in his treatment of her, wished to emulate the example of his foreign friend. When he and the missionary found that they were to be in a certain village for a few days they sent for their wives.

"Where do you wish to go?" inquired the father-in-law of the Korean girl.

"To see our husbands," was the reply.

Thereupon he forbade his daughter-in-law to take the trip, saying that his son would be the laughing stock of the city, and he could not allow her to create such a scandal.

On another occasion when this same Korean husband was away, he wrote a letter to his wife, but the father-in-law was ashamed to give it to her, declaring that it was a violation of all Korean custom.

The women in this country are often unhappy and intelligent enough to realize the misery of their position. In a way they are more spirited than the women of the neighboring countries, for they have fits of uncontrolled anger, during which they tear their hair, cut themselves and generally make things fly. At such a time the husband may use much haste and tact in getting out of the way, or he may retaliate by some effective blows or later by a divorce. It is an interesting fact that, while as a nation the Koreans are least assertive, individually they are more apt to give way to violent outbursts of temper than either the Chinese or Japanese. When a Korean woman is deeply incensed she reduces everything to a simple equation, forgetting in her fury the teachings of Confucius, and her centuries of subjection. We have it in use to wish that all Korean womankind would rise up in simultaneous frenzy and trample the old order of things to death under foot. I can imagine the whole army of Korean men scrambling hastily to cover.

Two hundred and six years ago the first Boston ferryboat began to ply over the line that is now followed by the Chelsea ferry. Since that date, in fair weather and foul, through ice and fogs and storms, the boats have continued regularly to cross and recross the harbor. Never yet has any one of them met with a serious disaster, such as happens not infrequently in New York harbor.

COLLEGE MEN IN BUSINESS.

As a rule, great corporations seek college men, because, other things equal, they will ultimately make better heads, better leaders; and this, notwithstanding the fact of the general impression that college men are not practical, says O. S. Marden in Success. The heads of such institutions know very well that, if a man is made of the right kind of material, a college education, although it may temporarily prevent the development of the practical faculties, enables a man to analyze well and to grasp conditions very quickly. The greatest drawback to the young graduate is that he is too full of theories, too near his diploma to be of very great value; but, after the dream of his future greatness has faded a little, and he settles down to business, he will adapt himself very speedily; and when he once masters the details of a business he will make rapid strides toward the top. He has learned in college how to think, how to marshal his mental forces; and, when he has learned the different phases of his business and how to apply his knowledge, he will be a stronger man than he would have been without the higher education.

RIDING ON AVALANCHE

"Few mountaineers go far enough into the avalanche regions to see much of them and fewer still know the thrilling exhilaration of riding on them," writes John Muir in the Atlantic Monthly. "In all my wild mountaineering I have enjoyed only one avalanche ride and the start was so sudden and the end came so soon I thought but little of the danger that goes with this sort of travel, though one thinks fast at such times. One calm, bright morning in Yosemite, after a hearty storm had given three or four feet of fresh snow to the mountains, being eager to see as many avalanches as possible and gain wide views of the peaks and forests arrayed in their new robes before the sunshine had time to change or rearrange them, I set out early to climb by a side canyon to the top of a commanding ridge a little over 3,000 feet above the valley.

"But I was not to get top views of any sort that day, but, instead of these, something quite different, for deep tramping near the canyon head where the snow was strained started an avalanche, and I was swished back down to the foot of the canyon as if by enchantment. The plodding, wallowing ascent of about a mile had taken all day, the undoing descent perhaps about a minute. When the snow suddenly gave way I instinctively threw myself on my back and spread my arms to try to keep from sinking. Fortunately, though the grade of the canyon was steep, it was not interrupted by step levels or precipices big enough to cause outbounding or free plunging.

"On no part of the rush was I buried. I was only moderately imbedded on the surface or a little below it, and covered with a hissing, back-steaming veil, and as the whole mass beneath or about me joined in the flight I felt no friction, though tossed here and there and lurched from side to side. And when the torrent swedged and came to rest I found myself on top of the crumbled pile without a single bruise or scar. Hawthorne says that steam has spiritualized travel, notwithstanding the smoke, friction, smells and clatter of boat and rail riding. This flight in a milky way of snow flowers was the most spiritual of all my travels and after many years the mere thought of it is still an exhilaration."

SMUGGLING OUT OF ST. PIERRE.

The Dominion of Canada is now losing a big sum every year on account of the smuggling carried on persistently out of St. Pierre, says the New York Sun. J. R. McGown, inspector general of the Newfoundland constabulary, with headquarters at St. Johns, who is in Montreal for the purpose of conferring with the Canadian authorities, says that St. Pierre is nothing better than a nest of smugglers, and he believes that Canada is losing at least $250,000 of its revenues every year on this account.

Previous to 1895 the colony of Newfoundland suffered an annual loss of revenue of at least $120,000, but the loss has been greatly checked owing to the energetic antismuggling measures instituted by Mr. Bond when he was colonial secretary of Newfoundland in 1895.. In the last three years there have been no fewer than 140 prosecutions and convictions and the fines and forfeitures have amounted to more than $10,000.

While the amount of illicit trading between the French possession and Newfoundland has been reduced to a very small amount, the vigorous measures adopted by the Newfoundland government have diverted the smugglers' operations to the Canadian coast. Many of the St. Pierre merchants engaged in the traffic have made large fortunes. Joint action between the Canadan and Newfoundland governments is being urged in order to suppress the smugglers.

The Newfoundland government always has a cruiser hovering around the entrance to St. Pierre and the Canadian government is being urged to send one of its cruisers to Fortune bay to keep a similar outlook.

PICTURES THROUGH SPACE

(New York Herald.)

You can have it wafted through space on the crest of an electrical wave without the intervention of even a wire as a medium, and faithfully reproduced in a few moments for publication in your favorite newspaper.

You may even have your physiognomy hurled through an eight-inch brick wall with the speed of a series of lightning flashes and received in good condition for recognition on the far side of the wall, without serious detriment to your cherished lineaments.

All this can be done, for the Herald has demonstrated it in a series of experiments, concluded last Saturday, whereby it has successfully applied the principles of wireless telegraphy to the accurate transmission from point to point of portraits, sketches, maps and other pictures.

It was an ingenious combination of the possibilities of the wireless telegraph with those of the Hummell teledіagraph, or picture telegraphing machine, which resulted in the marvelous joint application of the two devices witnessed last Saturday.

W. J. Clark, general manager of the United States Electrical Supply company, assisted by electricians and telegraphers, conducted the experiments to a successful issue.

The most conspicuous articles of Mr. Clarke's personal outfit were a pair of jointed brass rods. These, in his miniature equipment, were to play the part of the great poles and masts which in long distance operations in wireless telegraphy are used to support the vertical wires that respectively transmit and receive the electrical waves through the atmosphere.

Mr. Clarke's operations were necessarily limited as to distance by the height of the ceilings in the Herald building, for, as is well understood, in wireless telegraphy the height of the poles or rods has a direct relation to the distance thdough which a message may be transmitted by the electrical waves.

After joining his rods the electrician strung along them a tiny wire of almost hairlike gauge. In describing the wireless telegraph apparatus employed it must be assumed that the reader is already familiar with the radical principles involved in wireless telegraphy. Mr. Clarke's oscillator consisted of a pair of brass spheres, each about an inch in diameter, and adjusted at a distance of about one thirty-second of an inch apart.

A dry battery of seven cells operated a small induction coil, thus causing sparks to pass between the two brass spheres of the oscillator. One terminal of the induction coil was connected with the vertical wire strung along the fishing rod, the but of which was inserted into a socket in the transmitting apparatus. Up to this point the transmitting device does not differ materially from that used for ordinary wireless telegraphy, with the dots and dashes of the Morse telegraphic code.

Just as the two groups of apparatus used in wireless telegraphy may be designated respectively as the transmitting and the receiving instruments, so the pair of Hummell machines may be characterized as the transmitter and the receiver, one, of course, being stationed at each end of the line of communication.

In the Hummell transmitting instrument is a small revolving metallic cylinder. On its surface is clearly drawn, with a shellac-like substance, the picture which is to be telegraphed. As the cylinder revolves a metallic contact finger bears lightly upon its rotating surface.

Shellac ink or paint is a non-conductor. The electric circuit is broken, therefore, at every point where the rotating cylinder brings the contact finger in touch with any part of the shellac tracing. This, in turn, causes the closing of the induction coil circuit and a crackling spark leaps between the two brass spheres of the oscillator; a current is generated through the hairlike wire to the tip of the brass rod and thence passes into space in the form of an electric wave. So much for a brief outline of the transmitting apparatus.

In the receiving apparatus a six-cell dry battery operated the decoherer part of the mechanism and a two-cell battery was in circuit with the coherer and the relay. One terminal of the coherer was connected with the vertical wire strung to the second rod, which was inserted in the socket like the other. The mechanical rotation of the two cylinders of the Hummell picture machines was effected by means of a small electric motor operated by connection with the regular electric lighting current of the building.

In the Hummell receiver a revolving cylinder similar to that in the transmitter, and so adjusted as to rotate with it synchronously, is wound with a sheet of thin blank paper. In place of the contact finger on the transmitter the receiver has a steel stylus, the point of which bears upon the revolving paper. By a simple spring device the point of contact of the stylus with the cylinder is moved along an almost infinitesimal distance with the completion of each rotation. Were it not for the circuit being broken by the shellac lines of the picture, therefore, the stylus would inscribe on the receiving cylinder a series of close parellel hair lines completely around the blank paper. But the opening and closing of the circuit by the shellac lines result in their perfect reproduction by the stylus of he receiver in a series of dots and dashes, which are made more distinct by inserting a carbon sheet under the thin paper wound about the receiving cylinder.

For the sake of the layman, as the coherer plays so important a part in wireless telegraphy, it merits a brief explanation. It is a slender glass tube, stopped at either end by metallic plugs and with a small open space between them. This space is filled with nickel fillings, which normally form a medium of very high resistance, because they lie so loosely together in the glass tube as to represent a series of imperfect contacts, and consequently are practically a non-conductor of electricity.

But convey into that little tube electrical energy of the right intensity and you generate sufficient heat to momentarily weld the fillings, so that they cohere at their points of contact, and for the time become a good electrical conductor of low resistance. The current passes through them instantly, completing the circuit. The next instant a hammerlike blow struck automatically upon the outer surface of the glass tube by the decoherer again reduces the filings to the normal state of high resistance, until the oscillaor, flashing another spark from the distant transmitter, imparts its energy to the vertical wire of the receiver, these to the coherer and again welds the filings into a coherent electrical conductor. As a preliminary experiment the transmitting and the receiving apparatus, rods and all, were set up in the same room at a distance of not more than six feet apart, but wholly unconnected, the tips of the rods extending almost to the ceiling —a height of twelve feet.

Sparks flashed from the oscillator. Electrical energy shot up to the tip of the brass rod, leaped across in electrical waves to the tip of its fellow and thence downward to the coherer. The little metal filings welded and fell apart in their work. This allowed the current from the two cell battery to pass hrough the relay, which in turn, closed the circuit of the six cell battery through the magnet governing the steel stylus.

Down came the stylus on the paper wrapped about the rotating cylinder of the receiver. Then, keeping time to the tick-tack, hammer-like blows of the decoherer, the little stylus rose and fell like a thing of life and intelligence. Mr. Ashbridge's features began to appear neatly outlined on the cylinder. It was all done in thirteen minutes.

Then a more severe test was made. The transmitting apparatus was carried bodily into an adjoining but not a communicating room and the receiving apparatus was left in its original position. A distance of about fifteen feet now separated the tips of the two vertical rods, and an eight-inch wall, solidly built of partition brick and plaster, intervened between them. The transmitting apparatus was no longer visible to those watching the reveiver. The electrical waves must force their way through the intervening wall or else not reach the receiver at all. They did it as easily as the Roentgen rays pierce a fabric of human flesh and muscle.

Again the picture yielded to the spell of the current in the next room and came when it was called.

The greatest difficulties the experimenter found to contend with were in overcoming vibration in the registering stylus and in regulating his coherer to the precise degree of sensitiveness necessary to secure good results. The coherer must be sufficiently sensitive to respond to the slightest influence of the sparks discharged from the oscillator, yet not so sensitive as to register the influence of electrical waves generated from extraneous sources.

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON.

Lesson for Sunday, July 14, 1901.

Topic—"Beginning of Sin and Redemption."

Text—Genesis iii., 1-15.

MYSTERY OF SIN DEEP.

The mystery of the introduction of sin into our human race is too deep for any complete solution by finite minds. And it is just as profoundly mysterious if we adopt the evolutionary being, next above the anthropoid theory of life, making man to be the upper link in the chain which nature herself caused to appear, as if we accept the ancient belief that God made man in His own moral image.

If man is but an evolutionary being, next above the anthropoid ape, why has there never been found an ape which evinced a sense of sin, compunction of conscience and disposition toward real repentance? And why has there never been known a tribe of human beings totally destitute of those three infallible signs of a moral nature?

The whole evolutionary theory of creation is weak in the matter of established evidence of strictly continuous outgrowths of one order from another. But it totally breaks down at the point of sin in mankind, as a reality and a destroyer, which it is not in any other species of living creatures. The world has never ceased to think and theorize on the way sin came into the human race, and we may not doubt but more than writers of the scriptures had some true notions.

QUESTION EVEN PUZZLING.

The ancient Egyptians, Persians, Greeks and Germans, as surely as the Hebrews, dwelt on the dark fact, until their souls were forced to find some theoretical explanation that would be, as they thought, adequate to account for the awful reality. It was a sage who once said: "Fools make a mock of sin." And are they anything else than foolish who poohpooh the notion that sin is anything serious?

Extract and expel all sin from all hearts and human habitations and this earth would be heavenly at once. As it is, there are but few localities and lives that at all deserve the description "heavenly" now. How, then, was the world invaded by evil?

Pagan philosophers have proposed and propagated theories and modern rationalists, rejecting the doctrine of divine revelation, have proclaimed naturalistic notions. But, most important for us, the holy Scriptures present the simple story which we read in this lesson piece, Genesis, third chapter. Neither a pagan nor an unbeliever in the inspiration of our holy Scriptures will probably pay any respect to this record.

But for us who believe it has a weighty message. It presents man, who, Genesis i, 26, was made in the moral image of God, as tested by evil. And we have to consider the tempter, the tempted and the temptation. Under these three heads the whole truth should come to light.

THE TEMPTER.

The tempter is impersonated in the serpent. If we start in to hold rigidly to a literalistic interpretation it will be a waste of time and a darkening of counsel with words. On the other hand, they who are diligently seeking to mythologize the Bible make a great adieu over the serpent speaking and contriving and craftily lying to Eve.

On that we would waste no time. One thing we know, that is, if we could create a serpent we could easily open his mouth to speak. Certainly God could; as certainly as He is the omniscient and omniscient being we believe in. But God has never done all we believe He could have done. And in the present instance we are not called to confess our faith in the reptile as an orator.

Read the story, without a tempter of criticism, and just as it stands it abounds in weighty truths. But plow deeper than the mere letter and see not simply a conflict between a base brute and a woman, but primitive man in his moral innocence put under trial.

EVIL ALREADY EXISTED.

According to scripture, II. Peter, ii. 4, evil already existed in the world. "A superior order of intelligences had apostasized. How these supernal spirits came first to lose their celestial purity we know not. The only point we can make plain is that any free agent can choose either right or wrong; else would free agency be a mere figment. Hence we take from other Scriptures the presupposition of a first offender and think of all following fallen ones in heaven and on earth as influenced by him and his imps.

In this view the serpent may stand as the mere symbolical instrument of the tempting evil spirit. It was the wicked one who undertook to deceive the mother of us all, and when she consented to do as he desired the beginning of everything bad was made. Was the tempter then a real reptile empowered with speech? It is as easy to prove the same as it is hard to prove by verifiable facts that there was no subtle brute in the case. But we shall sacrifice no vital truth if we suppose that what is said as of the serpent is the same as we read in Revelation xii. 9, "that old serpent, called the devil and satan." There satan and serpent are one and the same. So let it be in our study.

THE TEMPTED.

The tempted were mankind's first representatives. This is far enough to go. As it would be a vain babbler's method of criticism to contend whether the serpent were a black snake, a rattlesnake, a boa constrictor or what not in species, so would it be for us here unprofitable to higgle on the question whether there were more than one original family source from which the race, as it is, descended.

Let us accept as authority safe to follow the learned men who believe all mankind sprang from an original pair. As such they were the first man and the first woman with all it requires to make a human being such and with nothing more. They were beginners in all the limitations of youth with which we are still familiar; innocent, inexperienced and susceptible. In a sense, every male child is an Adam and every female an Eve until this hour and in a full sense save that now each enters life with a load of inherited tempers, tendencies and desires to which the first two were strangers.

Let us follow the malign spirit—serpent-like in his foul, false and crafty attack upon this innocent, inexperienced and susceptible pair. By it we may learn how much alike are the methods of evil in the temptations of man at present. Observe the introduction of the issue (lesson verse 1) how gentle it is. Hath God said—are you sure you took his meaning correctly that "ye shall not eat of every tree of the garden?" Why not of all if of one? Is not fruit fruit of whatever tree? Now carry the case to our day and surroundings, and satan will ask us, Are you sure that one belief is not just as good as another? Is it not nonsense to suppose any one theory sound and safe and any other not? Thus the evil one begins by setting up his word against God's word. And the same has been his practice ever since. It is that throwing of doubt upon the word of God in scripture which is so common in our time. We sometimes think it is due to big head and a wrong heart. For those who most boldly contradict the declarations of scripture are sure to be dumbfounded if you inquire of their actual knowledge to the contrary. They will assert with all emphasis that the Genesis account of the origin of man is a myth and nothing more. But when asked, what does the myth rest upon, as the reason for its existence, they mock at you if you consider it in the least sense historical.

HAVE NO OTHER PROOFS.

But call on them to prove historically the beginnings of evil in our world by other actual, recorded events and they have none, and so, usually, their retreat and refuge is to pagan theories. Thus what the Bible declares to be God's words they spurn, but what a benighted heathen scribe wrote they subscribe to with both hands.

The next step (lesson verses 2, 3) in the temptation is the consent of the tempted one to discuss the matter with satan. How much there is of import in these words (verse 2): "And the woman said unto the serpent." There was the entrance of the deadly wedge. There began the compromise which was finished in full consent to eat.

The primal mistake which led to all the after ills was that the tempted one entertained the question of the truth of God's word. To parley is to perish when so great an issue is on. As when the Almighty said "the soul that sinneth it shall die," and some one pipes up asking whether that is anything more than a creed notion. It is more than creed, it is the attested fact of everyday observation. Liars were at first only prevaricators. Thieves began as pilferers. Topers were only tipplers. And not one of these, and no other slave of sin, can you find that was not once on the outer edge of an evil way, and would never have entered by a leap. Entrance was made by inches only.

ADMITS OF NO COMPROMISE.

Compromise with wrong is to do wrong and two wrongs never made a right. Even a little yielding emboldens the tempter.

Nothing better should be expected of satan, since we have Christ's (John viii., 44) word for it that he is the father of lies. But the face of his falseness does not justify man's agreement with him. The old serpent, satan, flung back a contradiction into God's face, saying, "Ye shall not die," when God had said, ye shall.

Had the tempted woman scorned the suggestion and spurned the possibility of the Almighty misstating, her will would have been braced as the will of Jesus was when in the wilderness He repelled Satan's suggestions and always braced Himself with a text of Scripture.

Let it be every Sunday school teacher's determination never to speak of God's holy words as Satan did, accusing it of being false. Better lose both your eyes and never be taught to read with the fingers; better lose hearing and so be shut away from the world than to use these senses to scatter doubt in others' minds as to the inspiration, integrity and truthfulness of the word of God.

IMPUGNS GOD'S MOTIVES.

For, observe (lesson verse 5), when the evil one secured Eve's consent to consider whether the word of God is reliable utterance on duty, and when he had gone on flatly to charge God's word with untruthfulness, then he was ready, because she was ready, to impute despicable motives to God. This comes out, as verse 5 shows, when the enemy accuses the Eternal of cowardice. God acts in fear of telling you too much. He keeps secrets from you, because if you knew them you would be His equal and overthrow His throne. Thus Satan baits her thought by suggesting that if she only knew the other side of things it would broaden and bless her life. So said Satan to Eve, and so he has continued to say to souls he would deceive.

The old serpent, Satan, insinuated (verse 5) that God's purpose in barring His children from one tree, "of the knowledge of (Genesis ii., 17) good and evil," was corruptly selfish. As if God feared man's supremacy over Himself might follow.

WAS AS PAUL TAUGHT.

As a matter of fact, it was mercy's provision and it amounted to just what Christ's apostle Paul taught—"whatsoever a man soweth that shall he reap." Knowledge of evil leads easily into evil. Acquaintance with vice vitiates virtue. So was the virtue of Eve vitiated by tampering with the tempter (lesson verse 6). Soon she forgot God, and defying His will, she indulged and at once became a helper on the serpent's side. "No man liveth to himself," nor does any woman. If only each evil doer acted alone less would be the destroying power of sin. But Eve led Adam and every sinner leads some other unstable soul.

But the time comes (lesson verse 7) when an eye-opening experience exposes the transgressor and then sorrow of sin begins. Every evil doer is in a sad sense blind. Satan seems to have power to blind the eye of the soul and benumb the sensations of conscence. But the time will come when "the eyes of them" are opened; too often when the damage done is well nigh irreparable.

The opened eye in the lesson is the same as an aroused conscience. "Conscience makes cowards of us all." Here it began to do so when the guilty pair heard (verse 8) the voice of God in the garden.

Space will not permit us to more than sketch by touches the points which still remain. We can see (verses 9-11) how gently the Lord deals with these offenders: "Where art thou?" "Who told thee thou art naked?" It never has been since Eve's dishonor the aim of God to get after the transgressor and cut him off. He is long suffering. Slow to anger and of great mercy. He was and He is and ever will be.

CHARACTERISTICS OF EVIL.

When we contemplate (verse 12) Adam laying the blame on Eve it reveals one of the most contemptible characteristics of a serpent-poisoned man. And without change it is still the consequence of evil doing that it charges its committal to some one else than the actual author. It gives us Eve at her very best, that she shifts the blame only on the old serpent (verse 13): "The serpent beguiled me and I did eat." They are at poor business, as I have heard them, who defend the devil and charge all Eve's folly and fall upon herself. Such are the same as you hear always ready to slur and hurl charges against woman. I do not believe and cannot conceive of Eve disobeying the divine command if she had not been beguiled.

Bearing in mind that the old serpent and Satan are the same in scripture, we have in verses 14-15 God's sentence of judgment (verse 14) and His promise (verse 15) of redemption.

HANS AND THE PIG GO SWIMMING

Copyright, 1899, by Caroline Wetherell.

The Jobbernowls, when days were warm, much wished to learn to swim,
But Mother Goose reproved them for this very foolish whim.
"You know," said she, "your joints will swell, your skin in drops come off
And some of you be sick in bed or have a dreadful cough;
So be content to play at tag or some such quiet game,
And if you're good you may perhaps some extra favor claim."
They listened well to what was said and meant to heed it too.
When thus she spoke, Dame Goose, they knew, must have a treat in view.

But Hans was discontented, and he grumbled to the Pig:
"When to the shore we went, I'm sure we had a rubber rig
That kept the water from the paint. I don't see why out here
There need be such a bother if the water we go near.
I'll borrow Ole's bathing suit because I have not one,
Then you and I, my Piggie Pork, will have some quiet fun!"
So, sneaking up to Ole's room, the bathing suit he donned
And, by the back door slipping out, sped down toward the pond.

Said he: "Those wooden things must go, or I will make them squeal.
They will make the water muddy." He asked them to get out.
The Jobbernowls and Mother Goose just then came strolling by.
Of course those two went straight to bed and got no treat of pie.

Wanted a Job as Boss.

A boy of about 14, with well worn clothes and a face in which timidity and determination struggled for the mastery, entered the office of a shipping house on Front street one day last week, approached the desk of him whose appearance spoke the control of the establishment and, catching his eye, said:

"Do you want a boss, mister?"

"What!" exclaimed the proprietor, surprised out of his self control.

"I want to know if you want a boss, sir."

"I don't understand you. What do you mean?"

"Well, sir, I've been looking for something to do for three weeks now, and nobody wants a boy, so today I thought I'd see if somebody didn't want a boss. I'd like to be a boss."

"Well, well! That's not bad. Are you willing to work up to the job? It took me 25 years to get it."

"'Deed I am, sir, if you'll give me the chance."

Today an earnest boy in jumper and overalls is struggling with bundles and packing cases in the shipping room of the concern. He intends to be boss of the establishment before his side whiskers, which have not yet sprouted, are as gray as those of the present incumbent.

Make Careful Choice.

In choosing an occupation do not choose one that first offers you the best position or salary, but choose one in which you would be willing to devote your life. There is nothing to be gained by jumping from one thing to another and working a few months here and there.

Every boy has a market value, just as surely as a load of corn or a bushel of potatoes has. Commercially some boys are worthless, some worth but little, while others are very valuable.

Queer Fire Extinguishers.

At a fire in Georgia last summer, there being no water at hand, some little colored boys pelted it with watermelons that were growing in a nearby field, and the bursting melons soon put out the fire.

Two Towns.

In the first the bells ring early;
Every one is on the "go;"
The streets are named Now, Ready, Waiting;
Not a signpost's written Slow!
Here no person has to hurry
(Time for extras one can take),
For the town is called—you've guessed it?
No? That's strange! It's Wide Awake!

And the other, all is drowsy;
No one sees much life about
Till near noon; then there's confusion
Rife on Late-in-getting out!
(That's their street); here you see people
Rushing breathless up and down,
And their work is never finished,
'Cause they live in Sleepy Town!

FINE HORSE WAS CREMATED

BARNS BURN IN EAST END THIS MORNING.

Dr. Morse Harrod the Principal Loser

Fire Had Good Start and Was Hard to Control.

Three barns were badly damaged and one horse was cremated in a fire which was discovered in the rear of 44 Maumee avenue shortly before 11 o'clock Saturday. Dr. Morse Harrod, who resides at that number, was the principal sufferer, and he estimates his loss at $500, the greater part of which is covered by insurance.

The fire originated in the Harrod barn, though how it started is unknown, and when discovered the blaze was under terrific headway and fanned by a stiff breeze. The lots on the avenue at this point are quite short, and the burning building stood in close proximity to the doctor's residence, so that for a time it was feared it would be impossible to save the house. Engine companies 2 and 4, with the chemical engine, No. 3, made a quick response to the alarm, while Sherman Harrod attempted to get the horses from the burning barn.

The flames had such headway that this was impossible, though Mr. Harrod succeeded in dragging two buggies out. Besides the horse there was a lot of hay and some oats in the structure. The animal which burned was the family horse and the doctor's family valued it highly. Flames leaped across the narrow alley and set fire to two other barns, owned by John Barrand and Mrs. Schaurich, and the damage here will be from $50 to $75. Sparks from the burning buildings set fire also to the residences at No. 58 and No. 36 Maumee avenue, but the damage here was trivial.

BARRACKS ROOM CRIME.

Columbus, Ohio, July 5.—Thomas Spaulding was shot and killed by Albert Johnson, who then blew off his own head with a Krag-Jorgensen rifle, at the United States barracks in this city yesterday. The men were sergeants in the general recruiting service. They were alone in their quarters at the garrison at the time of the tragedy, Johnson being dead and Spaulding in the death struggle when several persons who heard the shots rushed into the room. According to the story told at the barracks, Johnson deliberately shot his comrade as the climax to an argument in which they were involved. Spaulding was sitting in a chair in the center of the room, when Johnson seized a rifle which was standing in the room, and fired, the bullet penetrating the victim's heart, passing entirely through the body. Johnson then stepped to the door of a large closet, and sitting down, placed the muzzle of the gun in his mouth and pulled the trigger. Johnson was a resident of Indiana and has been in the army for about ten years. Spaulding was born in Louisville, Ky., and had served as a soldier for eighteen years. The latter married a Columbus girl about a year ago. It is stated at the barracks that they had been quarreling just before the tragedy, a woman's name being involved in the wrangle.

BURNED SEVERAL BARNS.

Kendallville, Ind., July 6.—Several barns in this section were struck by lightning and burned during the storm Thursday night. Henry Goering, six miles north, lost a large structure with all its contents; three barns near Stroh were also burned—that on the farm of William Hayward containing a team of horses, a cow and nine pigs.

Maj. John M. Burke, in advance of Buffalo Bill's Wild West, arrived in the city last evening and is a guest at the New Aveline, where the inscription upon the register reads: "John M. Burke, United States."

TROUBLES OF THE SMITHS

A LONG LIST OF MARITAL AFFLICTIONS.

Mr. Smith is Discharged by Court in Case Charging Him With Bad Associations.

The domestic tribulations of the Smith family had another airing in police court Wednesday, and in order to give the readers of The Sentinel an understanding of the various ramifications of these troubles, a little recapitulation is necessary. Passing over earlier diffrences occurring at various times during the twenty years of the married life of Philip B. and Eliza Smith, last fall Mrs. Smith became very jealous of Mr. Smith and a separation followed. Mrs. Smith would not consent to a divorce, but sued for support and Mr. Smith was ordered to pay eighteen dollars a month for her support and furnish her with a home, rent paid. Smith was to pay the monthly allowance in two installments, one on the 10th and the other on the 20th of each month and this he has generally done, but in each case when he was behind time, Mrs. Smith went into the circuit court and had an order issued bringing her delinquent spouse into court to show cause why he had failed to pay the money as directed. Mrs. Smith's jealousy was aroused principally by the relations existing and supposed to be existing btween Mr. Smith and Mrs. Maud Pierson, with whom he frequently associated. In March, Mrs. Smith commenced proceedings against Mrs. Pierson, asking for $5,000 damages for alienating the affections of her husband. She claimed that when Smith and Mrs. Pierson passed her on the street they would make faces at her and on a number of occasions has had one or the other, and sometimes both, arrested for provoke, only once securing a conviction. Mrs. Smith has frequently said that she would have her husband and the woman arrested on any pretext and as often as she could find a cause for filing an affidavit, and it must be confessed that she has kept her word and has kept Smith and Mrs. Pierson pretty busy for the past several months attending justices' courts. Monday she filed an affidavit against her husband for associating with prostitutes and named Mrs. Pierson as the co-respondent and named her home as being a house of ill-fame. The case was called last Monday afternoon and by agreement was postponed until this morning. Mrs. Smith had summoned about a dozen women, neighbors of hers and of Mrs. Pierson, and Mrs. Pierson, although not a party direct to the suit had brought in a number of witnesses to establish her character. The court room was well crowded, until P. B. Colerick, counsel for Mr. Smith asked to have the witnesses separated, and they were all escorted to the police quarters in the basement. Mrs. Smith was the first witness called and she gave her testimoney with vigor, and introduced a few side remarks not exactly relevant to the case. Other witnesses were called in turn until the state had exhausted the supply. The defense then proceeded to call the witnesses, when the counsel was interrupted by the judge who said it was altogether unnecessary to proceed any further, as the state had utterly failed to make a case; that there had been no word of proof or testimony offered to show that Mrs. Pierson is a prostitute, that she is of a bad character or that she is or ever was the keeper of a house of ill fame. The fact that Mr. Smith was a frequent caller at her home, and had been seen with her often on the street cut no figure in the case whatever and he therefor dismissed the case without any further ado. Mrs. Smith says he is not through yet, but did not indicate what her next move would be. The damage suit against Mrs. Pierson is set for next Saturday.

APPEAL IN BASHARA CASE.

Salem Bashara, through his attorneys, W. & E. Leonard, has filed an applicaton for review in his bankruptcy matter, claiming an exemption of $600 under the statutes. Judge Baker will pass upon the case in review.

A. L. JOHNSON DEAD.

New York, July 3.—Albert L. Johnson, of Cleveland, Ohio, brother of Mayor Tom L. Johnson, died at 10:15 o'clock last night at Fort Hamilton, a Brooklyn suburb. Death was caused by aneurism of the heart. Although he had been ill for some time he had only been confined to the house about three weeks. At his bedside, when he died, were his wife and four children; his brother, Tom L. Johnson, and his mother. Mr. Johnson was about forty years old. He began his career as a railroad man as driver of a street car. He came to Brooklyn six or seven years ago, after Patrick H. Flynn had obtained franchises for several trolley lines, and he got control of the line from the Broadway ferry to Sheepshead Bay and the line through Hamburg avenue to Canarsie and started a 5-cent fare system to Coney Island. He consolidated these lines with the Jesse Seligman syndicate and merged the Atlantic avenue lines into the Nassau system to get across the Brooklyn bridge. Three years ago he sold out to the Brooklyn Rapid Transit company.

Annual Meeting of Indiana Sons of Veterans and Ladies' Aid Society at Muncie.

Muncie, Ind., July 4.—The annual encampment of the Sons of Veterans of Indiana, and their auxiliary, the Ladies' Aid society, came to a close today, the visitors participating in a monster Fourth of July parade at the close of their session.

A pretty feature of the closing ceremonies was the presentation of a beautiful ring, with settings of emeralds and pearls, by the members of the Ladies' Aid society to Miss Nettie Rice, of Fort Wayne, the retiring president.

SONS OF VETERANS.

Commander—George W. Krietenstein, of Terre Haute.

W. Haggans, judge advocate, Shelbyville.

MR. WAYNE AT ROBISON PARK.

The many friends of Charlie Wayne will be greatly pleased to learn that the contemplated arrangements for his appearance at Robison park have been consummated. Mr. Wayne will open for one week, on Sunday, July 16, and it is safe to say that the park theater will be visited by more old timers and people strange to local theatricals during that week than during any previous week in its history.

IS HELD ON SERIOUS CHARGE

C. G. MORGANTHALER ARRESTED IN CHICAGO.

Former Fort Wayne Man is Accused of Swindling by Means of Worthless Checks.

Wednesday's Chicago Chronicle says:

"C. G. Morgenthaler, who for the past three weeks has been sought by the police in different parts of the city on charges of passing worthless checks, was arrested yesterday by Officer Jeremiah Carey, of the Sheffield avenue police. The following persons who will appear to prosecute the prisoner have lost money through cashing worthless checks:

"H. Berghoff, State and Adams streets, $18.50; James Levy, 3000 Prairie avenue, $19; David G. Gollear, 985 North Clark street, $15; R. C. Mazer, 965 North Clark street, $12.50; Emil Gorsch, Clark street and Diversey boulevard, $13.50; Dr. Clancy, 1249 North Clark street, $10.

"Morgenthaler, according to the police, secured money from the above mentioned persons by representing himself as an agent for the Chicago Press company. On the strength of this he passed worthless checks on the Foreman Brothers Banking company and the Merchants' Loan and Trust company banks, bearing what is alleged to be the fictitious indorsement of the Press company. The man represented that he had an office at 358 Dearborn street. He lives at 1724 Sherman place."

Until a few years ago Mr. Morgenthaler was a resident of Fort Wayne, and he is widely known in this city, where he had many friends. He was genial and companionable, though unfortunately addicted to bad habits, which have undoubtedly proved his undoing.

SONS OF VETERANS.

Muncie, Ind., July 3.—The first session of the fifteenth annual encampment of Indiana Sons of Veterans, yesterday afternoon, was attended by about two hundred delegates, and there are that many more delegates here today. The customary parade will take place at night, on account of the heat. Muncie Knights of Khorassan have been invited to participate and make a fireworks display along the line of march. Following the parade street cars will be taken for West Side park, where there will be a big display of fireworks, Muncie's Fourth of July display. A ball in the large pavilion will follow.

The feature of yesterday's program was the camp fire at the Wysor Grand Opera house last night, where 1,500 persons, including the local G. A. R., in a body, heard addresses by Senator Fairbanks, Governor W. T. Durbin, Charles F. Griffin, past commander-in-chief National S. of V., Representatives James Robinson and George W. Cromer, State Commander Sid Conger and State Senator W. L. Ball. R. I. Patterson recited an original poem. The principal business of the afternoon session was the hearing of reports and the appointment of committees. Routine work occupied the session of the Ladies' Aid society.

Indianapolis is a candidate for the next meeting and, as yet, seems to have no opposition. Its candidate for commander seems to have the lead also. The candidates for president of the Ladies' Aid society are Miss Mattie Ott, of Richmond, and Miss Maggie Goodrich, of Shelbyville.

SEEK HIDDEN CASH.

Terre Haute, Ind., July 4.—The wife and six children of Ira Smith, of Youngstown, who was killed by lightning while plowing ten days ago, have been searching night and day since his death for $15,000 in cash, mostly gold, he was known to have hidden on the farm. Smith was eccentric and had no faith in banks. On his person when he was killed he had $1,300. A few days before he had brought home $2,600 in gold and said he would hide it with his other money. He never told members of the family the hiding place, and said that when he should be dying he would let them know where they could find their inheritance. A few years ago his son shot and seriously wounded him. The old man then remarked that it was fortunate he was not killed instantly, as by his death no one would know where to look for the money. All the likely spots about the farm have been examined and in places holes have been dug in the earth. At first the family made the search as secretly as possible, but now their labors are watched by many persons.

THE AMERICAN BOYS ARE BEATEN

Pennsylvania Crew Defeated by the Leander Crew in the Final Heat in the Greatest Race Henley Has Ever Seen.

Henley, July 5.—To the disappointment of all the Americans at Henley the Leander rowing club crew this morning defeated the crew of the University of Pennsylvania in the final heat for the grand challenge cup. The weather was bright with sunshine and puffy cross winds blew from the Bucks shore, slightly favoring the Leanders' station. The followers of the British crew evinced the greatest confidence, and Leander money was every way available, but this confidence never exceeded anything beyond even money. The Pennsylvania's friends picked several hundred pounds and a Philadelphia occupant of a house boat is said to have invested £500 in favor of his crew.

The Pennsylvanias reached their boathouse at 11 o'clock, apparently as fit as possible, while many of the followers of the red and blue showed marks of the intense strain of the final minutes. The crew stripped, chatted and laughed as coolly as though going out for practice.

Ellis Ward, the American coach, placed a miniature American flag upon the rudder of his boat as the coxswain came to the boathouse and said to Smith:

"Keep that as far ahead, my boy, as you can."

Leander—C. A. Willis, bow; H. J. Duvallon, W. Dudley Ward, G. M. Maitland, C. D. Burnell, J. E. Payne, C. J. D. Goldee, R. B. Eherington-Smith, stroke; C. S. MacLagan, coxswain.

Pennsylvania—R. R. Zane, bow; R. H. Rhensbray, F. Davenport, S. Crowther, jr., A. H. Flicker, G. S. Allen, W. G. Gardiner, J. P. Gardiner, stroke; L. J. Smith, coxswain.

BOTH CREWS CONFIDENT.

Both crews, at the start, showed no trace of nervousness and were sent away in capital style, the Pennsylvanians rowing forty-three to the minute and the Leanders rowing forty-two. At the and of Temple Island the Americans led by a third of a length. At Fawley the time was 3 minutes 25 2-5 seconds, with the Leanders three feet ahead.

From there on it was a splendid struggle, out of which the Leanders gained inch by inch. The mile was reported in 5 minutes 15 seconds with the Leanders half a length ahead, which they increasd to three-quarrts of a length. At the Isthmian the Pennsylvanians made a desperate spurt, but it was of no avail, and the two men weakend perceptibly opposite the grand stand. The Leanders won by a length in 7 minutes 4 3-5 seconds.

"It was a grand race," said Coach Ward, as the Leanders crossed the finish line. "We were simply outrowed and have no other explanation to make."

HENLEY'S BEST EVENT.

It certainly was the best and most exciting even seen at Henley. There was scarcely the advantage of three feet in the Leanders' station.

The cheering for the contestants as they struggled for the lead was terrific. Even Henley had never before heard such wild applause as greeted the Pennsylvanians and the Leanders all down the course and the cheering was delerious from the partisans of the Leanders as the latter boat crossed the line at the finish ahead of the Pennsylvanians.

DELUGED BY GREAT CLOUDBURST

Grand Rapids, Mich., July 5.—Western Michigan was visited by a disastrous cloudburst early today and the resultant damage will amount to thousands of dollars. Both the Pere Marquette and Grand Rapids and Indiana railroads are crippled north of here and all northbound passenger trains are obliged to make long detours, while freight traffic is paralyzed. Between here and Howard City, on the Grand Rapids and Indiana, the road bed is washed out in a dozen places and the Pere Marquette is in the same condition.

The Grand Trunk can get no trains east on account of the washing out of a bridge at Saranac.

Dams in the Flat and Rouge rivers, north of here, have been washed out and many mills along these streams will be idle for days. The Grand river rose three feet and six inches between 6 and 10 o'clock this morning and is still rising rapidly. Great damage was done to fruit trees and growing crops in the western Michigan peach belt.

CLOUDBURSTS OUT WEST.

Helena, Mont., July 5.—Traffic on the Northern Pacific railroad has been stopped and probably will not be resumed inside of twenty-four hours owing to two cloudbursts between Miles City and Wilbaux last night. Five bridges and several dams were destroyed and 1,000 men are engaged in repairing the damage. All trains are held, meantime, at Dickinson on the east and Miles City on the west.

THEY ASK FOR FREE TRADE

PORTO RICANS UNANIMOUSLY PASS A RESOLUTION.

Island Assembly in Joint Session Pleads for Relief—Governor Allen Promptly Signs.

San Juan, July 5.—In a joint session lasting three hours, the Porto Rican assembly yesterday unanimously passed the free trade resolution. The assembly hall was crowded with people and cheers greeted the announcement that Governor Allen had signed the resolution.

The free trade resolution begins with a preamble in which reference is made to section 3 of the Foraker law. The resolution then continues:

"The Porto Rican assembly, in exra session and acting pursuant to the instructions of congress, does hereby notify the president of the United States that by virtue of the Kollander act and other acts, it has enacted and put into operation a system of local taxation to meet the necessities of insular government, and it hereby directs that a copy of this joint resolution be presented to the president of the United States and it requires that Governor Allen deliver the resolution in question to President McKinley, to the end that the proclamation may be made by him, and if it shall seeem wise and proper to the president of the United States the assembly requests that his proclamation be issued July 25, as that day is being established a legal Porto Rican holiday to commemorate the anniversary of the coming of the American flag."

REVENUES OF THE ISLAND.

Governor Allen personally read a message before the assembly in which he exhaustively reviewed the financial situation of the island and showed that Porto Rico possessed abundant revenues for its needs without drawing upon customs receipts. Mr. Hollander's report on the island's resources from which revenue could be derived was considered sufficiently definite to warrant the joint resolution in favor of free trade.

The resolution was introduced to the house by Senor Morales. Mr. Hollander, in a long speech, reviewed the workings of the new tax law and explained the new system of taxation. He said:

"Present conditions make this joint resolution possible and the insular assembly can henceforth dispense with the revenues acruing from Porto Rican customs."

Several other lengthy speeches were made. The resolution passed at 12:45 and was signed by Governor Allen.

Yesterday's action of the assembly is considered to be the most important taken by it since the inauguration of Governor Allen.

SLAYS FATHER AND SUICIDES

Milford, Del., July 5.—Upon the refusal of his father to allow him the use of a team for a drive yesterday afternoon Edward Windsor went to his room in the Windsor hotel, of which his father, Thomas B. Windsor, is proprietor, and procured his shotgun, and returning to the barroom fired a charge full into his father's breast. Today the attending physicians say Mr. Windsor will die The son disappeared after the shooting and the officers have thus far been unable to find him. It is supposed that he has committed suicide. The elder Windsor was formerly sheriff of Sussex county.

M'ARTHUR STARTS HOME.

Washington, July 5.—A cable message was received at the war department today from General Chaffee, saying that the transport Meade sailed from Manila today with three officers and 140 enlisted men of the Eighth battery, field artillery. General MacArthur is a passenger on the vessel. He will go as far as Nagasaki, where he will spend two weeks, completing his trip to the United States on the transport Sheridan.

BLOODY FIGHT AT IRONTON

TWO WHITE MEN SLAIN AND TWO BADLY INJURED.

Two Negroes in Jail for the Murder --Mob Wanted to Lynch the Men Under Arrest.

Ironton, Ohio, July 5.—At Fleetwood park late yesterday John and Albert Slaughter, white, were probably fatally stabbed by Luther Page and Abner Owens, colored.

A small sized riot followed. Finally the colored men were arrested and placed in the county jail.

After midnight an attempt was made to organize a mob to lynch the prisoners. A crowd gathered at the tunnel on Olive street, but no one volunteered to lead the assault on the jail. If the attack had been made a bloody battle undoubtedly would have occurred, as fifty armed colored men were doing guard duty around the jail where their friends were imprisoned.

DELUGED BY CLOUDBURST.

Indianapolis, July 5.—The state and county authorities have become convinced that many persons who have been committed to the insane hospital under verdicts by the insanity trust are not insane at all, and the attorney general has ordered a complete list of all cases in the past year to be made, that the persons committed may be re-examined by experts and their true condition determined. This step has been taken because of the Ross case on one hand and that of persons on the other who have been released and who have now came forward with statements that they were never insane. One of these is former Township Trustee Makepeace, who was committed under a verdict by the insanity trust and who was released after a few days' confinement. It has been called to the attention of the attorney general that many persons who are sent to the asylum seem perfectly rational for indefinite periods, and it is the rule there to study the cases in the stages of acute symptoms rather than when the patients are undemonstrative, and he thinks it highly probable that some of the recent commitments have not been looked into as closely as they should be. For that reason he will ask that an expert examination be made in each case where the dispensary doctors have been the witnesses and Justice Lockman has presided at the trials. If the developments are such as he expects, all the facts will be laid before the grand jury as further evidence of the illegal methods of the alleged trust.

HOLDING A CONFERENCE.

At the afternoon session of police court George Franch was fined $10 and costs on a plea of guilty to a charge of intoxication. Subsequently the judge reduced the fine to $1. Daniel Hurley pleaded guilty to violating the screen law and was fined $20 and costs. The cases of L. Singleton, Ed OMeara, John Condon, Ed Kleindinst and William Christen, continued from Monday, for violation of the screen ordinance, were then called.

DEATH IN A SPREE

OVERCOME BY THE FIREDAMP

ALL FOUND DEAD LATER IN THE DAY.

HAD BEEN OUT TO A DANCE

TOOK A KEG OF BEER INTO THE MINE.

Pittsburg, Pa., July 5.—Four Italian miners, while on a spree, went to an abandoned coal mine at Catsburg, about a mile from Monogahela City, about 4 o'clock this morning. They were overcome with fire damp and were found dead later in the day. They are:

Frank Yanky, aged 32 years, single, of Catsburg.

All were employed by the Schoenburg Coal company. Yesterday there was an Italian dance at Monongahela and the men, with many others, attended.

About 3 o'clock this morning the dance broke up and it is understood that the victims took a keg of beer and went to one of the rooms of the mine. The wet weather caused an accumulation of fire damp in the room and all were suffocated.

FRONTS OF STORES WRECKED.

Marion, Ind., July 5.—The plate glass fronts of the department stores of Miller & Barley and C. C. Jamison & Co., were wrecked at 8 o'clock last evening by an explosion of fireworks that were being sold from the sidewalk. William Herring, a clerk, was seriously burned about the arms and face. James Booth had his clothing burned off, and Charles Stanley, a boy, was burned about the face and hands. The streets were crowded and a large number injured by the explosion were hurriedly removed to their homes and their names were not secured. The accident was caused by some one throwing a lighted cracker into the stock of fireworks. The loss on goods and to the buildings will amount to several thousand dollars.

SPOKE AT ALBION.

Albion fittingly celebrated the Fourth Thursday and a large crowd participated in the observance. Judge Samuel M. Hench, of this city, was orator of the day and addressed a great audience from a stand in the court yard in the afternoon. Judge Hench discussed the relation of the ability of peoples to read and write, a free press and a popular knowledge of events and of history to the preservation of liberty. He cited the history of the ancient oriental empires whereof the people were sunken in ignorance as showing upon what state of society the prerogatives of kings had been founded and maintained. Judge Hench's address commanded close attention and was vigorously applauded when he had finished, to which were added three rousing cheers for the orator.

CORNERSTONE IS LAID.

At Monroeville Thursday an immense crowd attended the laying of the cornerstone for the new Odd Fellows' building, which is being erected by Monroeville lodge, No. 283. The structure is to combine a hotel and Odd Fellows' hall and Ernest Ehle, of 529 Broadway, this city, has the contract for the work. Mr. Ehle was on hand to assist in the exercises. Past Grand Master Enoch G. Cox, of Fort Wayne, was orator of the day, and a number of Fort Wayne Odd Fellows were present. The ladies of Monroeville supplied an elaborate dinner for the occasion.

M. Frank has the honor of being he first dry goods merchant in the city to allow his men clerks to wear shirtwaists. The hot weather is very trying on the clerks when they are obliged to wear coats with the thermometer hovering near 90, and Mr. Frank's example is one that salesmen in other stores will hope may speedily be followed.

THE MISHAPS OF THE FOURTH

DAY BRINGS LONG LIST OF UNFORTUNATES.

Few of the Accidents Were Serious—Clifford Matson Shot in the Neck—Others Injured.

While the glorious Fourth brought up the usual extended array of mishaps from handling toy cannon, fire crackers and other explosives, none of a fatal or particularly dangerous character have been reported.

Clifford Matson, 16 years of age, received a stray shot in his neck while attending a shooting match at White fields. The shot went entirely through the lad's collar, but luckily did not penetrate the flesh deeply. He is a grandson of D. F. Comparet.

Charles Fink, 11 years of age, son of Conductor George Fink, of Walton avenue, was badly burned about the face by powder from a toy cannon which was being manipulated by some companions. Some of the burned powder penetrated each of his eyes, and while the boy is suffering considerably, it is not believed the injuries will result seriously.

A. J. Ford received an ugly gash in his head last week. Mr. Ford was en roue home when the storm was at its height, and in running for shelter he came in contact with the frame of an awning which had been partly blown down by the wind. A surgeon stitched the wound and Mr. Ford was able to resume his journey homeward. He is employed in the Pittsburg shops.

Charles Guillot, residing on Montgomery street, has a painfully burned hand, the result of the premature explosion of a torpedo.

A lad named Kimmel, residing on the south side, was struck in the chest by the wadding of a pistol and sustained a painful flesh wound.

John Webel examined a fire cracker that didn't go off when it should have done so, and as the result Johnnie's face was blown full of powder.

Tod Seitz, of Elm street, looked into the muzzle of a toy cannon to see why it did not go off. Face full of powder, and eyes injured.

A drunken man in Nebraska induced Earl Wolf to hold his hand over the muzzle of a pistol. The sot pulled the trigger, and the charge tore a large hole in the lad's palm.

Monroe Oetting, son of Saloonkeeper Oetting, of West Main street, set off a cane, which was loaded with dynamite caps by some boys. The cane was shattered by the explosion, and a piece of iron penerated the lad's ankle. Dr. Dinnen extracted the fragment and put five stitches in the wound.

Edward Humbrecht, son of G. H. Humbrecht, residing in Bloomingdale, may lose the sight of one of his eyes, as the result of the premature explosion of a giant cracker. A fragment of the cracker penetrated the eyelid and cornea, lodging some distance back in the eyeball. Dr. Kannel attended the boy's injuries.

F. G. Landenberger, of the Fort Wayne Drug company, was painfully injured upon the leg by the premature explosion of a sky rocket.

FELL OFF PARK CAR.

Mrs. Cora V. Young, of No. 9 Hough street, got off a Robison park car at the transfer corner while the car was in motion. She was thrown down and received a bad gash in her head. She was unconscious for some time.

STORM CONCLUDES FOURTH

HEAVY DOWNPOUR OF RAIN LAST EVENING.

Lightning Strikes the African M. E. Church and Does Other Damage—Motorman Shocked.

A very heavy thunder storm passed over the city Thursday evening, putting a sudden stop to all outdoor celebrations of the glorious Fourth and causing much discomfort to belated picnic parties, of which there were a large number to the various parks and groves in and near the city. Towards evening heavy banks of clouds, with occasional flashes of lightning in the northeast, gave warning of the approaching storm and those who profited by the warnings and made haste to get home had cause to congratulate themselves later.

The storm struck the city shortly after 8 o'clock and the rain came down in torrents for more than an hour. Many people were on the down town streets at the time and the drenching rain quickly drove them to the shelter of convenient stores or doorways.

Lightning also struck the residence of Ed Bevelhimer, on South Harrison street, knocking off a lot of plastering and doing other damage, but not of extensive character. No fire resulted. Mr. Bevelheimer is a clerk at Robert Reidmiller's grocery on Fairfield avenue.

Neither of the telephone companies suffered any damage of any extent, and the service was not impaired in any way. The street car service was crippled for a time and frequently a car loaded with people would become stalled and the occupants were obliged to remain in the cars until the violence of the storm had abated somewhat.

LIGHTNING STRIKES CHURCH.

The African M. E. church, at the corner of Francis and East Wayne streets, was struck by lightning about 8:30. The bolt entered the steeple below the weather vane and continued its course downward, ripping off the shingles and roofing and tearing off a large section of the brick wall. The lightning set fire to a portion of the steeple, but the heavy rain extinguished the fire before any serious damage was done. The event caused much consternation among the colored residents in the immediate vicinity of the building.

AT ROBISON PARK.

The Fourth of July crowd at Robison park had a very damp time of it. Occasional showers preceding the heavy storm warned the people to seek shelter, and by the time the heavy downpour set in the pavilion was crowded to such an extent that standng room was at a premium. A few people were caught while out boating and were drenched through and through. The rain cut short the fireworks exhibition and the crowd sought shelter in the big pavilion and patiently waited until the rain had abated before they attempted to come home. Every available car, open and closed, was put in service to accommodate the rush, and the crowd was handled admirably, not a single mishap to any of the cars being reported. It was 1 o'clock before the last car from the park arrived in the city and the cars on all the city lines were kept running until the last transfer had been handled.

SHOCKED THE MOTORMAN.

Motorman Elzie Powell, on a Main street car, was badly shocked near the Lake Erie and Western tracks about 8:45. Shortly after a vivid lightning flash the conductor noticed that something was wrong and hurrying to the front of the car, he found Powell lying helpless on the platform. The motorman soon recovered, however, and was able to continue his run.

VERY CLOSE CALL.

At the grocery store of George Hermsdorfer, Jefferson and Rockhill street, occupants of the building had a very narrow escape. Lightning shattered a trolley wire pole on the opposite side of the street and passed across on the wires to the Hermsdorfer building. The proprietor was standing in the rear of the store when the bolt came down through a partition, wrecking plastering close beside him throwing a large sign from the wall over his head. Mr. and Mrs. H. Garman, who live above the grocery, were both stunned by the electric shock, Mr. Garman most severely, and it was some time before the bad effects passed away. Both saw the bolt of lightning and describe it as a huge ball of fire, which passed through the rooms. No fire resulted, though the entire building was filled with sulphurous smoke.

MRS. NATION'S NARROW ESCAPE

Crawfordsville, Ind., July 5.—Mrs. Carrie Nation had a narrow escape yesterday at the Elks celebration. She had just closed an address to 8,000 people, when the stand collapsed. Mrs. Nation was badly bruised, but recovered sufficiently to sell her hatchets and demonstrate their utility by fracturing several bottles of beer that she had procured for the purpose. She threatens to start a smashing expedition in earnest before she leaves town.

TOO MUCH MEDICINE.

Miss Myrtle Cunningham, of Van Wert, O., who is visiting the family of J. P. Pattee, of 30 Smith street, took an overdose of medicine Thursday and had a narrow escape from death as a result. Drs. Kannel and McCausland attended her and succeeded in counteracting the dose, and the young woman was taken to St. Joseph hospital.

BODY OF GOVERNOR PINGREE LIES IN STATE.

Thousands of Citizens Visit the City Hall, Where the Remains Are Placed for the Day.

Detroit, Mich., July 5.—Thousands of sorrowing friends and admirers of Hazen S. Pingree, former governor of Michigan, are passing through the long corridor of the city hall today, where the ex-governor's body is lying in state, amidst a profusion of beautiful flowers. The special car containing the body and the party of Detroiters, who went to New York to escort the remains to this city, arrived over the Michigan Central at 8:25 this morning. Detroit post, G A. R., of which Mr. Pingree was a member, was drawn up at the station when the train arrived. The body was placed in the hearse and the cortege started through the crowded streets for the city hall.

The exterior of this building was appropriately draped with black and the national colors. The long corridor running from Fort street to Michigan avenue was banked in palms and hung with funeral black. At the center of the corridor a catafalque had been erected and here the casket was placed, an American flag draped over it. Two by two the citizens reverently filed by the open casket, about which a military guard of honor stood throughout the day.

THE MAUMEE GIVES UP THE DEAD

Frank Reider Drowned at New Haven---Remains Recovered at Noon Saturday After Being in the Water Twenty-One Hours.

At noon Saturday the body of Frank Reidy was recovered from the Maumee river at New Haven, twenty-one hours after the unfortunate man went down to death in the swift current. The body had been carried a considerable distance down the river from the point where the mishap occurred.

Reidy was employed by the Wabash Railroad company in the construction of the new bridge across the Maumee at New Haven to be used by the new line to Butler. About 3 o'clock Friday afternoon Reidy, together with John Sullivan,, of Indianapolis, Joseph Blaising, Charles Loraine, Henry Shoaff and Fred Miller, of New Haven, started across the river in a boat with some material needed upon the opposite shore.

Heavy rains had swollen the river to a point three or four feet higher than the normal stage of water, and a very strong current was running. Half way across the stream the boat was caught in the current and overturned in an instant. The five were plunged into the water. Shoaff and Miller clung to the overturned boat, which was tossed about by the current, and Blaising, Sullivan and Lorraine succeeded in swimming to the shore. Reidy sank and was evidently caught by the undercurrent and carried to his death before his companions could offer any assistance.

As Blaising landed he saw the plight of Shoaff and Miller, who could not swim, and were clinging to the overturned boat. Though exhausted by his own swim, Blaising courageously plunged back into the water and succeeded in helping them both to shore.

The water is twelve to fifteen feet in depth where the accident occurred, and though the search for Reidy's body was begun at once and continued until a late hour late evening, no trace was found. A request was sent to the Fort Wayne police department for hooks and grappling irons, and these were sent there this morning. After several hours work with the apparatus the body was recovered at noon. Reidy was about twenty-five years of age, and his home was at Indianapolis. Coroner Barnett was notified as soon as the body was recovered, and he directed that it be turned over to an undertaker. Dr. Barnett went to New Haven that afternoon to make the official investigation.

EX-LIEUTENANT GOVERNOR NYE DEAD

died today. He was stricken with paralysis while delivering a Fourth of July speech at Union Mills He relapsed into unconsciousness and so remained until his death.

The funeral will be held in this city Tuesday afternoon and will be under the auspices of the Masonic order

Mortimer Nye was a native of Ohio and was fifty-eight years of age. The greater part of his life had been passed in this state. He served a number of terms as mayor of this city, in addition to filling other municipal offices. In 1892 he was a candidate for the democratic nomination for governor. The convention named Claude Matthews for governor and nominated Mr. Nye for lieutenant governor. He served a term of four years. His name has been canvassed by the state press for governor three years hence. Mr. Nye was past worshipful master of the Indiana Masons. He had been in failing health for several years, the attack Thursday being attributed to mental over-exertion and the heat.

A HOT CONTEST FOR PONIES

WAYNE KNITTING COMPANY'S GUESSING BATTLE.

Letters Received From Young Folks All Over the Country Show Great Interest.

In order to advertise the Wayne-knit Pony stockings, manufactured at the Wayne Knitting mills, in this city, the directors recently decided to buy ten ponies, one to be given to each child who made the nearest correct guess of the combined weight of the animals. Ten pretty Shetlands were purchased and weighed, and the exact weight in pounds and ounces was placed in sealed envelopes and entrusted to four well known citizens, to be opened when the contest closes, November 26th.

With every pair of stockings sent out there is a blank slip, which the purchaser fills out with name, address and guess, and the slips are then returned to the mills, where they are filed away until the day the contest closes. Evidently the stockings have a very wide sale, as replies are received from every part of the United States.

Although the contest opened on June 1st, a great many letters have been received from little folks in various parts of the country, and some of them are very amusing. One little miss from Littleton, Kan., says: "My guess is that one pony weighs two ounces; therefore ten ponies would weigh ten times two ounces, or twenty ounces. Yours truly, ———. P. S.—Please send my pony right away. I am eight years old and would like the latest one." This little lady was evidently of the opinion that she was to guess the weight of the cardboard pony sent with each pair of stockings.

A diminutive miss in Geary, O. T., is responsible for the following: "I wear Pony-knit stockings and I want a pony, if you give them away, for they are very pretty. I think one of them weighs about 450 pounds. I am ten years old and live in Geary, Oklahoma." She adds this postscript: "If I get a pony, Eugenia and I will go driving. I will name him 'Pony-Knit.' Maybe God will help me get one."

Another one from a young lady in Minden, La., is very girlish. She is apparently very anxious for a pony and her letter is as follows: "I saw your ad in the Delineator for July. Is it possible (underscored) that you give a real, live pony away? I am crazy for a pony. All the girls here have ponies but me. Please write me all about it in time for me to try for one. * * * Are they Shetland ponies? I wish I could get one; I'd be so proud. I know I can't, but I'll try. Please write me how to try. I won't get any help. I'll just think, and think, and think, till I about guess. If you will tell me how, I'll be ever so much obliged. Your little friend, who is going to try ever so hard to get a pony, ———. P. S.—I send you a stamp to write back. Oh, I hope I'll get one—I am nearly crazy about ponies. P. S.—Please write quick."

A little girl in Steele, Neb., wants to know whether they are "real, live ponies or the kind filled with cotton." A cut representing ten ponies to be given away, standing one on top of the other, appears in the slips sent by request to each guesser, and a small miss in Altoona, Pa., who is confident that her guess is correct, says she wants the fifth one from the top, because it is the nicest one. Some of the little guessers evidently think the ponies are mammoths, a little gril in Hollywood, Mo., estimating their combined weight at 600,500 pounds.

One little girl is cautiously skeptical and concludes her letter with, "I was told that this would do me no good, but believing differently, I remain, ———."

MR. FAIRBANKS AT WINONA.

The Fourth was fittingly celebrated at Winona with a very large crowd in attendance. The feature of the progra mwas an address by United States Senator Fairbanks. It was one of the finest patriotic orations ever listened to at Winona and held the splendid audience that completely filled the great auditorium and overflowed to the outside spellbound for an hour or more. Senator Fairbanks began with a sketch of the lives and services of the signers of the declaration of independence, showing how firmly the nation was established by the character and Christian zeal of these early fathers. He then took up different wars, showing what had been achieved by each of them in making the nation greater and better and improving the nation's standing abroad. In discussing the new possessions of the United States he showed how much happier the native peoples were under this government than under the rule of other powers, demonstrating that the Bible and the Stars and Stripes carried peace and happiness to all. In closing he outlined a visit to some of these countries and showed how loyal and how grateful the people are to the United States for bringing about a better sate of affairs. Two years ago, on the Fourth of July, Senator Fairbanks was in a little village in Alaska, where a celebration was held, the declaration of independence read and the day generally observed as it was Thursday at Winona and thousands of other places throughout the United States. He related how it brought joy to his heart to hear the Indians of Alaska on that occasion singing that grand old national hymn, "America," as he heard it Thursday. Senator Fairbanks made many new friends at Winona yesterday.

GERMAN BAPTIST DEDICATION

SERVICES TO BE HELD SUNDAY, JULY 20.

Rev. R. B. Traut, of Elgin, Ill., Will Probably Preach the Dedicatory Sermon.

The German Baptist church at the corner of Smith and Greene streets will be dedicated with appropriate services on Sunday, July 20, and the dedication will be the occasion of a large gathering of German Baptists from Indiana and neighboring states. The congregation is endeavoring to have Rev. R. B. Traut, of Elgin, Ill., preach the dedicatory sermon and he will in all probability officiate. Rev. Traut is the head of the German Baptist publishing house at Elgin, and is an eloquent speaker.

The German Baptist church has been organized but a few years. It has now a membership of thirty-eight, and the pastor is Rev. Jacob Ahner. Since organization services have been held in Zelt's hall at the corner of Creighton avenue and Gay street, but the membership outgrew the accommodations of the hall a st last year it was decided to erect a new church. Work on the building was begun last fall and it is now ready for occupation, though the fin ihsing touches on the interior have yet to be put on. The structure is a substantial one of brick with accommodations for about 300, and the total cost of building and land was about $4,500, every cent of which has been paid.

Fred Ulmer, a young lad who drives an ice cream delivery wagon for Geller, was arrested yesterday afternoon by Officer Dickson for breaking into and driving through a funeral procession on Calhoun street. The young fellow drove in the ranks of the cortege, between two hacks, for two squares and acted as though he thought he was doing a smart thing. He guyed the people along the street as he was passing and acted like a harlequin all the way until he turned down Wayne street. Officer Dickson, who saw part of the performance, gave chase and after a sprinting exhibition over a two square course finally overhauled him and took him to the station. At the trial this morning, which was not a trial at all, Ulmer was released without the examination of a single witness, although the arresting officer and other witnesses were presen to testify to the facts of the exhibition. The judge remarked that he did not know that there was an ordinance against such a practice and suggested that it would be well if the newspapers would call attention to it. There have been half a dozen arrests for the same offense within the past six months and the newspapers have printed the facts.

PLANT IS DESTROYED.

Goshen, Ind., July 5.—The Case buggy top factory, owned by L. F. Case and Samuel Wise, was gutted by fire at 12 o'clock last night. When discovered by the night watchman the entire building was in flames and its destruction is supposed to be due to the work of incendiaries. It is estimated that the loss will reach $15,000.

FEAR A NEW UPRISING IN CHINA

Society of Villagers Likely to Repeat the Boxer Outbreak---France Will Not Yet Withdraw Her Troops.

London, July 3.—A dispatch from Pekin says:

The French propose to delay their evacuation of Pao-Ting-Fu until autumn. They believe that their presence there is necessary as the disorders, which have been wide spread, are increasing. The society of allied villagers is replacing the boxer organization. This society, as ostensibly formed for local protection, but it is really insurrectionary, as it resists the collection of the regular taxes because the villagers suffered heavily last year and object to the additional taxes for the expenses of the court's return and indemnity for the Catholic converts, who greatly outnumber the protestants.

The people have some ground for complaint, it is said, but money being needed the government must make demands, and when they are resisted the Chinese troops must enforce the government's orders.

If the troops fail the foreign troops must interpose. Hence there is good reason for the French remaining as the converts are under their protection. Another reason is that the railway runs through the disturbed districts and must be protected. The Germans intend to evacuate Pao-Ting-Fu by July 5.

TRANSFERRED TO CHINESE.

London, July 3.—The British and Japanese sections in Pekin have been formally transferred to the Chinese, says a Pekin dispatch to a news agency.

There is delay on the part of the Italians, French and Germans in transferring their sections in the Tartar city. The Germans have transferred their section of the Chinese city, all of which is now under the jurisdiction of ten police censors. The British, German and Japanese retain some supervision over the city, and are responsible for the settlement of quarrels between foreigners.

A thousand new Japanese troops have arrived here and nearly four thousand more are coming to replace the force in the province of Chi-Li. The Japanese, French and German commanders have consented to Gov. Yuan Shih Kai's troops coming within seven miles of the city. The British commander has not yet decided whether to consent or not. The British, French and Japanese say they will not evacuate until the troops of the other powers have.

Arrangements are being made for the return of the court. Orders have been given for the rebuilding of two of the large gates of the city. The merchants in the ruined portion of the city are rebuilding, showing that they expect the court to return.

A BLOW TO THE INSANITY TRUST

Indianapolis Judge Orders Release of a Man Railroaded to the Insane Asylum---What the Evidence Showed.

Indianapolis, Ind., July 3.—John Ross, who was railroaded to the insane hospital last week, was brought before Judge Leathers yesterday in habeas corpus proceedings. The case has gained much interest throughout Indiana as it illustrated frequent charges that an "insanity trust" existed here, formed by a few doctors and justices of the peace, among whom the fees that accrued were divided.

"The main question," said Judge Leathers, "is the insanity of Ross. His having been sent to the hospital may be a hardship, but it is not the province of this court in an action of this sort to inquire into the general methods of the sanity commissions. So we must adhere to that issue throughout. However, the exposure in this case may call the attention of the proper authorities and it may prove beneficial on that account. If this was an action against the doctors for damages then we might go into all the charges preferred by newspapers and others."

Twelve fellow employes of Ross' at Kingan's packing establishment testified that he was sane. Emma Coleman testified that she was Ross' promised wife. She said that a day or so before he was taken to the asylum he had a fainting spell. He had gone to his boarding house sick that noon, as a heavy box had fallen on him. She was sent for as Ross had no relatives. She said Ross fainted again while she was there. Ross himself said he fainted two or three times during the day. Miss Coleman testified that in all the time Ross had been calling on her, ten months, she had never knew him to have a fit, nor had she observed anything to make her believe him insane. He saw her three times a week, she said. All the testimony showed that Ross was sane and that the insanity commission had not given the case proper attention.

At the hearing the manner in which insanity inquests are conducted in this city was aired before the court. Drs. Benham, Hicks, Young and Jacobs of the city dispensary, and Mrs. Elizabeth Cronin, the matron, were witnesses. Mrs. Cronin testified that many of the answers on the affidavit in the Ross case were made from information coming from the dispensary physicians.

Dr. Waters of the Cntral Insane hospital testified that he had noticed no symptoms of insanity in Ross, but his testimony was cut short by Judge Leathers, who said he had allowed much testimony that was wholly irrelevant in the cause to be given, because the legality of the system of declaring persons insane is being questioned.

There is much criticism here of the mode of conducting insanity hearings and it is charged that W S. Lockman, justice of the peace, has a monopoly of inquests. It is further alleged that dispensary physicians and a police surgeon are in an "insanity trust," all reaping fees.

Attorney General Taylor has interested himself in the matter and yesterday Lyman Parks, who was recently sent to the insane hospital, was released by the hospital physicians without the usual habeas corpus proceedings.

The next legislature will be called upon to revise insanity laws.

BOOM FOR JUDGE TAYLOR.

(Wabash Plain Dealer.)

Friends of Judge Robert S. Taylor, of Fort Wayne, in this and surrounding counties, are urging the distinguished jurist for the United States circuit bench, to succeed the late Judge Woods.

Representatives have undertaken to secure the general indorsement of the bar of northern Indiana for Judge Taylor, who is not an open and avowed candidate for the office, and it is believed that Senators Beveridge and Fairbanks will be friendly to his cause.

It is not forgotten that when Judge Taylor was a candidate for the United States senate two years ago, his caucus supporters went almost solidly for Senator Beveridge when it became evident that their favorite could not win. Senator Beveridge can not but feel kindly toward his opponent for this signal mark of admiration and esteem, and it is believed he will gladly improve the opportunity to reciprocate.

As yet the Taylor boom is in its incipient stage, but wherever and whenever it is mentioned it evokes so enthusiastic a response that there is no question but the judge will be a formidable aspirant.

Northern Indiana is entitled to a good deal more from the republican party than is accorded it. If the northern counties turned in such slender republican majorities as do the counties south of Indianapolis, the state would permanently take its position in the democratic column, yet the instinctive modesty of the republicans in the northern half of the state yields to the demands of the party in the southern half for an equal division, or, rather, for the larger part of the official usufruct.

The Plain Dealer is of the opinion that a spirited contest in behalf of Judge Taylor will land him in the important position, and not only will political justice be done, but a man than whom there is no superior for the place will be elevated to the position to which his transcendant abilities commend him.

M. E. MINISTERS' SUMMER HOME

Warsaw, Ind., July 3.—Elijah Hays, a wealthy citizen of Warsaw, last year gave to the Ministers' Aid Society of the North M. E. conference a thirty-seven-room, three-story hotel building formerly known as the National hotel, to be used as a summer home for Methodist ministers. The building was moved to Winona park and is now ready for occupancy. Rev. and Mrs. E. M. Baker have been installed as managers.

PLEADS GUILTY TO MURDER.

Muncie, Ind., July 3.—Walter Driscoll, who shot and instantly killed Mrs. Herbert McCall Monday at the home of his stepfather, Mahlon Martin, answered "guilty" to a charge of murder. He was remanded to jail without bond. His mother, who gave out false information to shield her son, is also held and remanded to jail under heavy bond. Prosecuting Attorney C. L. Dearth will have a special meeting of the grand jury to investigate the case in order to prepare it for trial at an early date. A search for the home of the parents of Mrs. McCall has failed to reveal any clew to the former residence of the murdered woman.

ATTACKED BY A SNAKE.

Martinsville, Ind., July 4.—While Miss Isis Meyer was driving to her home near this city, her buggy ran over a snake lying in the roadway, and the reptile coiled itself about the wheel and endeavored to crawl into the buggy. Miss Meyer fought it with the butt of her whip and called for help, and some men in a field nearby ran to her assistance and the snake was killed. It measured over six feet in length, and was of a reddish brown color, of a species not common in this county.

OFFER BIG REWARD IN GOLD

$5.000 FOR THE APPREHENSION OF THE ROBBERS

Who Held Up the Great Northern Flyer Near Wagner, Mont., Wednesday—Booty Large.

St. Paul, Minn., July 4.—Upon receipt of the news of the hold-up of the Great Northern Flyer near Wagner a reward of $5,000 in gold for the apprehension of the robbers was at once posted by the Great Northern officials. All the facts in the case were at once communicated to David Allman, chief of the Great Northern secret service. The large amount of the reward is taken as evidence that the booty was heavy, but the exact amount taken has not been given out.

News of the robbery and the reward was wired to all the principal points on the line and the police and detective forces of all the important points in the northwestern territory were notified.

The train was No. 3, westbound, and was held up about 2 o'clock Wednesday afternoon 196 miles east of Great Falls, Mont., by three masked men, who blew open the express car with dynamite and secured the entire contents of the through express, estimated at $83,000.

One of the robbers boarded the train a few miles from the scene of the hold-up. When the train reached the place where his confederates were lying in wait in a ravine alongside the track he pulled the bell cord, and as the train slowed down, jumped onto the engine and presenting a rifle, forced the fireman and engineer to abandon their engine.

As the passengers began to look out of the windows a fusilade of shots swept alongside of the coaches and was continued for several minutes. Dynamite was quickly exploded in the express car, tearing the car to pieces. The robbers then mounted good horses and rode away to the Bad Lands. A posse is in pursuit, but capture is improbable. Three passengers who ventured to look out of the windows in the day coach were struck by bullets, but not seriously injured.

PLACE LOSS AT $40,000.

Helena, Mont., July 4.—It is stated here that the three men who held up Great Northern railway train No. 3, westbound, near Malta, Mont., yesterday secured, $40,000 in cash, in addition to securities of considerable value.

Although large posses are scouring the country in all directions no trace of the gang has yet been secured.

NEW GOVERNOR TAKES CHARGE

Judge William H. Taft Installed as Civil Ruler of the Philippines Today---Three Natives to Go on the Commission.

Manila, July 4.—Civil government in the Philippines was auspiciously inaugurated today. Commissioner Taft was escorted by General MacArthur and General Chaffee from the palace to a great temporary tribune on the opposite side of the plaza Palacio. Standing on a projecting center of the tribune, Mr. Taft took the oath of office as civil governor of the Philippine islands, the oath being administered by Chief Justice Arellano. Governor Taft was then introduced by General MacArthur, the guns of Fort Santiago being fired by way of a salute.

A feature of the inaugural address of Governor Taft was the announcement that on September 1, 1901, the commission would be increased by the appointment of three native members, Dr. Wardo Detavera, Benito Legarda and Jose Luzuriaga. Before the first of September departments will be instituted as follows, the heads being members of the United States Philippine commission:

Interior—Worcester.
Justice and Finance—Ide.
Public Instruction—Moses.

Of the twenty-seven provinces organized Governor Taft said the insurrection still exists in five. This will cause the continuance of the military government in these sections. Sixteen additional provinces are reported without insurrections, but as yet they have not been organized. Four provinces are not ready for civil government. Governor Taft said that with the concentration of troops in larger garrisons it would be necessary for the people to assist the police in the preservation of order. Fleet launches will be procured, he said, which will facilitate communication among the provinces, as well as aid the postal and revenue departments. In connection with educational efforts, Governor Taft said that adults should be educated by an observation of American methods. He said that there was a reasonable hope that congress would provide for a tariff, suitable to assist in the development of the Philippines, and not a mere application of the United States tariff.

According to Governor Taft there is an unexpended balance in the insular treasury of $3,700,000, and an annual income of $10,000,000.

The governor said that any possible friction between civil and military subordinates should be discouraged. The patriotism of the leading Filipinos was commended. In conclusion, Civil Governor Taft reiterated a hope expressed by the president that in the future the inhabitants would be grateful for the American Philippine victories, and that they would be indissolubly linked in ties of affection with the common country.

SIX BAGS OF GOLD ARE MISSING

Officials Seek to Locate $30,000 Which Has Disappeared from the San Francisco Mint---Director Roberts Talks.

San Francisco, July 4.—Concerning the report that a shortage has been discovered in the San Francisco branch mint, the Chronicle today says:

Six bags of gold, each containing $5,000 in $20 gold pieces, have disappeared from the mint, and no trace of the thief has been discovered, although Superintendent Leach and his force, assisted by Director of the Mint Roberts and his staff of experts, have been at work on the mystery since June 29.

The annual count of the coin, amounting to $25,000,000, began last Friday. On Saturday six bags were found to be missing from the cashier's vault. As the cashier's books tallied with those of the other departments, the officials were forced to the conclusion that somebody acquainted with the inside affairs of the mint had taken the money.

Director of Mint Roberts, of Washington, made the following statement:

"We have been very reluctant to conclude that a shortage exists. We have fought against the belief that there is anything wrong, but after three days' work in checking calculations and going over the count we have still to face the situation of $30,000 less in coin than the books call for.

"There appears to be no escape from the conclusion that some one or more persons employed in the mint has been faithless to the trust reposed in him or them. There is a possibility of an over-payment to a depositor. It is improbable, however, that so large an over-payment could be made."

Both Superintendent Leach and Director Dimmick declared that suspicion could not point to Cashier Cole, since his books were in perfect condition and called for the amount missing.

WILL APPEAL TO PYTHIANS

TO SAVE INSURANCE BRANCH OF THE ORDER.

Supreme Lodge to Take Matter in Charge—Death Claims Last Year $8,000 Above Receipts.

Chicago, July 4.—One million dollars will be needed to place the insurance rank of the Knights of Pythias in as good shape as it was two years ago, and it is probable an appeal will be made to members of the order to come to the rescue and save the insurance branch.

The supreme lodge of the order will meet in Chicago next week under a special call to consider solely the future of the endowment rank.

Besides providing for funds it will consider a plan to raise the payments which members make by 23 per cent. so as to conform to requirements recently made by the laws of seven states. Beyond this it will have an even greater matter to consider—the charges of criminal negligence and misconduct which have been made against the former officers of the order.

Former officers will be charged with investing $300,000 where it is tied up and useless to the order, if not a total loss, and with depositing funds in unsound banks. Their books are said to be in such bad shape that it is impossible even to tell how much money was put into some of the investments.

The endowment rank is a huge fraternal insurance society in itself, with almost 70,000 members and with almost $120,000,000 of insurance outstanding. For twelve years until last January John A. Hinsey, special agent of the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul railroad, was the president of its board of control. During the latter part of his term of office $100,000 was invested in Texas coal lands a few miles from the town of Bowie and $191,500 was put in bonds of the Lexington Hotel.

INVESTMENTS ARE POOR.

Now the coal lands are said to be utterly worthless, unless by some accident of fate somebody some time finds oil on them, while the Lexington hotel property will need, it is said, an investment of several hundred thousand dollars more to make it possible to realize on the property.

This is only one of the troubles of the order. Outstanding against it are $375,000 of death claims unpaid, which must be provided for.

Last year the death claims amounted to $80,000 more than the assessments brought in. This the order could have stood with ease if the investments of its surplus funds had been in good shape.

John A. Hinsey denies the stories of mismanagement when he was president and says that the investments were good ones when he made them. Concerning the alleged bribery of an Illinois insurance commissioner, he said: "I never paid that man a cent. The books were examined by state inspectors in 1897. My whole correspondence with him consisted of two formal letters, which are on file."

Fred H. Rowe, attorney for the Illinois insurance department, was asked regarding the reports from Indianapolis that criminal proceedings would be instituted against the officers responsible for the mismanagement of the funds of the endowment rank, but would not commit himself.

GRAND JURY WILL PROBE IT

WANT LIGHT ON LUNACY COMMISSION METHODS.

Decision in the Ross Case Has Aroused Popular Indignation at Indianapolis.

Indianapolis, July .—The railroading of John Ross into the insane asylum and his delivery yesterday by by Judge Leathers, who pronounced him sane has aroused popular indignation against the system and a thorough investigation is now demanded. Two other cases have occurred and the victims set at liberty. The grand jury will investigate all recent cases. Dr. F. A. Morrison, president of the board of health, says that the board should investigate the dispensary physicians who are charged with railroading people into the insane asylum for fees even if the grand jury fails to indict them, unless it should clearly appear that there is no evidence whatever of wrong-doing on their part.

SEVENTY-ONE APPLICANTS.

Indianapolis, Ind., July 4.—The State Embalmers' board examined seventy-one applicants yesterday for certificates as registered embalmers under the new law. At the previous examination 262 applicants wrote for licenses. Twenty per cent. of this number failed. The examination continued at the state house all day, with a practical demonstration on cadavers at the Medical College of Indiana, in the afternoon.

The installation of Rev. J. H. Guendling, formerly of the Cathedral, as pastor of St. John's church in Goshen occurred on Sunday last.

That Lame Back

You can hardly straighten up, the back feels so sore. There's a chance that it is kidney "trouble," and that is something which it is dangerous to neglect. The best medicine for disease of the kidneys is Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. The use of this medicine has resulted in some remarkable cures. It increases the activity of the blood-making glands, purifies the blood and relieves the kidneys from clogging impurities.

"I feel it my duty to let you know that I have recently advised a young gentleman who was suffering badly with kidney and bladder disease to try your 'Golden Medical Discovery,'" writes Frank Stanz, M. D., of Flatonia, Fayette Co., Texas. "He bought four bottles from our druggist here, and after he had used the first bottle he began to improve. Sometimes he was unable to walk ten steps; now he can ride any horse without any pain in his back and he looks as well and sound as a young boy. His age is only 28. He has suffered for nearly three years, and several other doctors called the case incurable, but I had confidence in Dr. R. V. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. I have been offered one hundred dollars several times already for my kind advice, but I would not accept it because I want everybody to know what Dr. Pierce's famous medicine can do.

"This testimony is absolutely true, and the reason I haven't mentioned the young gentleman's name is because he don't want to have his name published."

Accept no substitute for "Golden Medical Discovery." The sole motive for substitution is to enable the dealer to make the little more profit paid on the sale of less meritorious preparations.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets stimulate the action of the sluggish liver. They should always be used with "Discovery" when there is need of a laxative.

KINDER HAS GHASTLY RELIC

MEMENTO OF AN ALLEN COUNTY HANGING.

Rope on Which Madden and Keefer Were Swung Into Eternity Thirty-Five Years Ago.

Randolph Kinder, who resides near Harlansburg, was in the city today, says the Huntington News-Democrat, and had in his possession a relic which he prizes very highly, although to some it is a ghastly object. The relic is the noose end of a hangman's rope that was used in executing two murderers named Madden and Keefer, who were hung by the sheriff of Allen county thirty-five years ago. The two men murdered another man in a lumber pile, securing five dollars.

Dr. Swazee was one of the judges who pronounced the murderers dead after they were hung and he secured the noose, which still shows signs of the condemned men's blood. After the death of Dr. Swazee his widow married Mr. Kinder and that is how he came into possession of the rope.

WILL CARRY IT TO THE COURTS.

Failing in the attempt to purchase upon what were considered favorable conditions the property of Miss Margaret Hamilton, at Barr and Lewis streets, as a site for the new Fort Wayne high school building, the school board at its meeting Wednesday evening determined to resort to legal measures to secure the property. Barrett & Morris, attorneys for the school board, were directed to institute condemnation proceedings to secure possession of the property.

The selection of the site was made by the board several months ago, but conditions governing the transfer of the property arose which have greatly delayed the work of the board. It was desired that a tract 160 feet in width off the eastern portion of the Hamilton square, and extending from Lewis street to Montgomery, be purchased, and the board also wanted an option upon ten additional feet at the west side of this plat.

THE TERMS OFFERED.

Miss Hamilton offered the 150-foot tract for $25,000, stipulating that $5,000 be paid in cash and $20,000 on or before the 10th of October next. No restrictions were to be placed on this, but in the additional ten feet arose the difference between Miss Hamilton and the board. Miss Hamilton stipulated that the ten-foot strip should be used only for park and ornamental purposes, or for the use of a bicycle path or passageway; that no building should be placed thereon during her life; that no further rights should be exercised over the strip during her life, unless by the payment to her of $10,000 as damages. Finally, she stipulated that the additional forty feet included in the option should not, during her life, be condemned or otherwise appropriated, except by the payment to her of $20,000 in excess of its value as damages.

These conditions the board could not accept and repeated attempts have been made to agree upon a satisfactory basis of purchase. Judge Alden, attorney for Miss Hamilton, submitted a last proposition at the meeting Wednesday evening, but it was no more acceptable than the previous one, and the board's determination to institute the condemnation proceedings resulted.

This new phase of the situation means that the building of the new high school and manual training school will be considerably delayed, and it is likely that work cannot begin before next spring. The circuit court has adjourned and action cannot be brought until the September term, and the formalities of the proceedure are likely to require considerable time.

The architect's plans for the building are well under way and the board had hoped to have the foundations of the building completed before cold weather. The board has abandoned consideration of the site offered by Hon. Montgomery Hamilton, as it is considered too small for the purpose.

Huntington, Ind., July 4.—Daniel Holder, an aged resident of Lancaster township, and a veteran of the 47th Indiana, died of sunstroke while plowing corn at Helney's Bend Tuesday afternoon at 3:30. Death was almost instantaneous, occurring before a fellow workman, Anderson Rittenhouse, could reach him.

'POSSUM SKETCHES.

Copyright, 1897. BY M. QUAD.

One evening, when the old 'possum hunter of Tennessee was in a story-telling mood, I asked him how close a shave he had ever had from the revenue officers while making moonshine whisky, and after a little thought he replied:

"Wall, they cum powerful clus to me three or fo' times, but on one occashun I was saved in a mighty curus way. They knowed I had a still up yere in the mountings, and they was jest bound to find it or bust. They knowed, too, that everybody up yere was agin 'em, and so they had to be mighty keerful. They didn't cum huntin' around in an open way, but sent spies to trap us. The fust feller that cum along purtended to be a preacher, and he preached to us on fo' different Sundays down at the schoolhouse. I can't say as I mistrusted him the least bit, but arter his fust sermon the ole woman said to me:

"'Zeb White, if that preacher ain't one o' them revenoo spies then I'll go barefut all winter! I follered his sermon mighty clus, and he ain't neither Baptist, Methodist, Presbyterian, Mormon or any other pertickler faith. He ain't fur hell-fire nor agin it. He ain't fur heaven nor agin it. He was jest smellin' of everybody's breath all the time, and do yo' look out or yo'll git five y'ars in state prison!'"

"And did he turn out to be a spy?" I asked.

"Fur sunh, sah," replied the old man. "Yes, sah, we found him spyin' around on the hills and in the hollers and gin him two hours to pack up and git. He went off on a trot, and the Nashville papers afterwards had a long piece about him. The next feller to cum wanted to find coal and iron, and he was sich an honest-lookin' chap that I took him to roned one o' the kegs around 'till it had busted open, and they was lappin' up the whisky as if it was so much water. I hadn't any gun down thar', and as I had never seed a drunken b'ar in all my life I jest kept quiet and let 'em go ahead."

"And did they get drunk?" I asked.

"They did, sah—got drunk as reg'lar as three men. It was a sight to make yo' laugh all over. I reckon every one o' them b'ars got a full quart apiece, and it was co'n-mash whisky without any water in it. At fust they was mighty jolly and went dancin' around and tumblin' over each other, but arter awhile they got out o' sorts, same as men do. The biggest b'ar o' three wanted mo' whisky, but the other two thought he'd had 'nuff and kept him off. They was gittin' ready fur a row when the artist cum sneakin' down a side-ravine. He was on the trail of my still, and right thar' he was within 500 feet of it."

"And he ran up against the bears?" I asked.

"Of co'se he did—of co'se. Yes, sah, he was right among 'em b'ars befo' he knowed it, and they was mighty glad to see him. They looked at him fur a spell, as if wonderin' whether he was drunk, too, and then they went in to hev sum fun. The big b'ar reached out and got a hang on him and begun to dance around, and fur awhile the artist was too skeered to holler. When he did begin to yell yo' could hev heard him fur a mile, but the mo' he hollered the mo' it seemed to tickle the b'ars. When one got tired o' waltzin' him around another was ready to begin, and bimeby the feller got so weak that his legs gin out and he fell down."

"But didn't the bears hurt him?"

"THEY WENT IN TO HEV SUM FUN."

boarit fur a week, and on two or three occashuns I tramped around with him. He found what he was arter, and he talked about buyin' all the land around yere, but one mawnin' my ole woman sez to me:

"'Zeb White, kin a man find iron or coal in the darkness of night?'

"'He skassly can't,' sez I.

"'But fur these last two nights the stranger has slipped outer bed and bin gone fo' or five hours. If he ain't huntin' fur coal and iron then he's huntin' fur yo'r still, and yo'd better look out.'

"That set me to thinkin', and when night cum agin I was on the watch. The feller went to bed about nine o'clock, but climbed out of the winder an hour later and started up the hill. Yo' kin allus git the smell of a still better by night, yo' see, and from the way that feller was headed he would hev run plump on it. I played that I was a b'ar, however, and I skeert him so that he made back fur the cabin. Next mawnin' I axed him to move on, and he got out o' the nayburhood in a hurry. I thought I'd ketch on to the next man they sent up, but they was too tricky fur me. One day a feller appeared who said he was an artist and wanted to paint some mounting scenery fur one o' the biggest men in New York. He drawed a pictur' of the ole woman on paper, and was so handy about it that I reckoned he was all right. He went to stop with Dan Shaw and he had paints and breshes and things and used to work away by the hour. Nobody was mindin' him in the least when my ole woman speaks up one day and sez:

"'Not so very particular—why?'

"'Cause it was made fur smellin' out stills, and he's allus sniffin' about. He's out on the Bald Hill every mawnin' soon arter daylight to sniff the wind, and he's gwine to find yo'r still befo' another week. I could smell it myself this mawnin' when I opened the doah.'

"That set me to thinkin'," said Zeb, "and I jest made up my mind to lay low. I took four kegs o' whisky from the still and hid 'em in the ravine, and then I got Dan Shaw's oldest gal to watch the path and gin the alarm. Fur two days nuthin' happened. Then the gal cum down to the still and said a b'ar was rollin' the kegs of whisky around. I went up to the ravine and found three b'ars thar'. They had "Not a hurt, sah. That is, they didn't bite nor claw him. They did roll him around purty rough, though, and fur the last ten minutes he was in a dead faint and purty nigh naked. I wasn't goin' to interfere, even if they had begun to eat him, and I wasn't goin' to harm the critters who had done me sich a good turn. However, my ole woman had heard the rumpus up at the cabin, and as she cum down to see what was the matter the b'ars got sight of her, and skulked off. When she seen the artist a-lyin' thar', and I had told her the rest, she draps down on her knees and thanks the Lawd and sez to me:

"'Zeb White, he had the nose of a spy, and a spy I knowed he was. The next feller may call himself the gov'ernor of Tennessee, but yo' jest look at his nose befo' yo' take him in.'"

"And what did you do with the man?" I asked.

"Oh, nuthin' much," replied Zeb. with a smile. "The fust thing was to bring him to his senses. The next was to let him know that we knew he was a revenue feller. Then we showed him some mounting scenery he hadn't never seen befo'. It was a scene of a man tied up to a tree, with three other men layin' switches over his back. We gin him 100 apiece, and when we cast him loose he said he reckoned he would go out o' the artist bizness fur good and all. I think he did, fur he never cum back fur his paints and breshes."

"And what of the bears?"

"I killed one of 'em three or fo' days later, and he was still too drunk to walk straight. The other two got clean off, but I reckon it was a week at least befo' they got over the headache. Yes, this moonshine bizness is full o' curus things—mighty curus things. Sum of 'em beat any tricks yo' see in a circus."

Would Burn the Breweries.

Said Dr. Joseph Parker once: "I could make a garden of Eden in the East end of London in three months if I had my own way. I should do nothing but burn down all the breweries and shut up all the public houses." This will go alongside Dr. Edward Everett Hale's statement that if some one would take care of the poverty in the city of Boston that is caused by the drink traffic, the South Congregational church, of which he is the pastor, would single-handed take care of all the rest.

A FOREMAN OF THE JURY.

By Charles B. Lewis.

(Copyright, 1897.)

As the Lake Shore train from the east rolled into Toledo one morning a dozen years ago, a detective was waiting to see the conductor and make an arrest ordered over the wire an hour before. A detective who has been in the business for a dozen years seldom meets anything that surprises him, but as this officer was asked to arrest a handsome, well-dressed woman on the charge of robbery, he opened his eyes in amazement. There were two handsome, well-dressed women, and one said to him:

"Officer, this person has robbed me of jewelry to the value of $6,000 and I want her arrested at once!"

The other looked at him in a cold, haughty way and made a gesture of contempt as she replied:

"Officer, this woman's charge is false, and if you detain me it will be at your peril!"

"My name," continued the first, "is Mrs. John Wickham, of New York city. I am on my way to Chicago to visit relatives. This person boarded the train at Buffalo, and we became quite friendly. I had the jewelry in a small satchel. Late last night or early this morning she obtained possession of it. I wish to have her arrested and searched."

"If you dare to do it I will have you sent to prison!" exclaimed the other.

Here was a straight charge and a firm denial, and the detective was nonplused. If the woman had stolen the jewelry, she must have the plunder about her person or in her baggage. He asked her if she was willing to be searched, and she promptly replied:

"Not only willing, but I demand it, in order to clear myself. Afterwards I will deal with this woman!"

The two ladies left the train and were escorted to a hotel. Mrs. Wickham identified herself as the wife of a New York millionaire, and sent a telegram to her husband to come at once, and a search of the other proved her innocence. None of the missing jewelry was found upon her. She gave her name as Mrs. James Taylor, of Buffalo, and she hinted that her husband would demand the fullest satisfaction for the insult forced upon her. By the advice of the chief of police, Mrs. Wickham attempted to get out of the affair as best she could, but Mrs. Taylor stood on her dignity and wanted $10,000 for her injured feelings. She must either have $10,000 in cash or she would sue for $50,000 damages. Perhaps the two women might have reached some sort of a compromise but for the advent of Mr. Wickham. He heard his wife's story about the loss of the jewelry, and realizing that he was in a box he tried a bluff game on Mrs. Taylor. He struck the weak spot at once by demanding her husband's address in Buffalo. She refused to give it, and her refusal aroused suspicion that something was wrong. When pressed to give her identity she positively refused, and the result was a formal charge and her arrest in due form.

When the alleged thief was arraigned circumstances were so much against her that she was held for trial in the higher court. She continued to give the same name and address as at first, and added that she would see the case through without any assistance from her husband. Her policy was one of haughty independence. She had a fine wardrobe, considerable jewelry, and was also bound for Chicago. Her cash in hand amounted to less than $100, but no sooner had she secured a lawyer than money was sent him to make a desperate fight for her acquittal. Wickham was not only an aggressive man, but he had to convict the woman or pay damages. He therefore aided the police in every possible way.

Buffalo was turned upside down without finding a James Taylor to fit the case. Every effort was made to locate the woman, but beyond the fact that she had taken the train at Buffalo nothing could be learned. There were plenty who said she was an adventuress and was guilty of the theft, but there were many also who contended that she belonged to some honorable family and was seeking to shield the name from scandal by giving a false one and withholding information. She didn't seem to worry at all during her commitment, and when the case finally came to trial she was in the best of spirits.

I am a quiet, steady man of family, not in the habit of reading the newspapers much. If I had not been drawn on the jury for that term of court I doubt if I should have ever heard of the case. As a juror I had to listen to and weigh all the evidence, and for three days the accused woman sat within ten feet of me. The evidence was purely circumstantial, but not particularly strong as circumstantial evidence. Mrs. Wickham had section No. 7, and Mrs. Taylor had section No. 5. Both had hand-bags. Mrs. Wickham had said nothing about her jewelry, but the bag in which it was stored had disappeared. There were only four passengers in the sleeper. The third was an old lady—the fourth the president of an eastern college, and therefore to be considered above suspicion. If the car porter had taken the bag he had passed it to some one during the night, but the defense did not even hint that he might have stolen it.

It was a singular and yet a strong defense. If the prisoner preferred to fight the case out without revealing her identity that was to her credit and could not be used against her. As she did not know the contents of the missing bag why should she be tempted? If she had taken it what had she done with it? She was perfectly willing to be searched, and nothing had been found. The old lady might have taken it by mistake—even the college president might have been tempted. There was the train conductor, the car conductor and the porter. As the bag had not been opened by its owner between New York and Toledo, how could she swear that the jewelry was in it at Buffalo and beyond? Mrs. Wickham could only say that no one else but Mrs. Taylor could have taken the bag, and in all but one thing the prosecution made out a very poor case.

I had been made foreman of the jury, and when we retired I found myself halting between two opinions. No legal proof had been advanced that Mrs. Taylor stole the bag, but if there was nothing wrong about her why should she conceal her identity? I was almost of the belief that she was an adventuress, but yet I had sworn to be guided by the evidence. On our first ballot we stood seven for conviction and five for acquittal. On that ballot I voted for conviction, but five minutes later I was using arguments against such a verdict. Deep down in my heart I believed Mrs. Taylor to be the thief, but if we were to be guided by law and evidence she must be acquitted. The second ballot showed eight for acquittal and four for conviction. The four men were pig-headed and obstinate, and we had been out seven hours before one of them decided to come over to the majority. The other three vowed they would hang out 'till doomsday, and we put in a long night in the jury room. After breakfast the next morning I went to work at them in earnest. I am neither an orator nor a magnetic man, but I went over all the evidence and presented it, pro and con, in such a manner that after we had been out about 30 hours a ballot showed that we were all for acquittal. This was the verdict announced in court, and Mrs. Taylor was at once discharged from custody. Within two hours Mr. Wickham had compromised with her for $3,000 in cash.

As the days went by that verdict bothered me. Mrs. Taylor had gone to a hotel as soon as discharged, and Mr. Wickham had hired a detective to watch her. It was determined to discover her identity, if nothing more. The woman probably suspected that she would be watched. After a few days she went to Chicago, visited a lawyer's office, a bank and two or three other places, and then bought her ticket for Buffalo. The detective had dogged her every movement, and she had made no sign that she was aware of his espionage. He saw her leave the hotel in a carriage for the depot, and as there was plenty of time he took a street car instead. When he went through the train she was not to be found. The man worked on the case for a week without striking her trail and was then hauled off. When this instance came to my ears I was conscience-stricken over our verdict. The woman must surely be a sharper, and we ought to have strained a point and given her over to justice.

Two months had gone by, and one evening I was waiting in the Union depot at Cleveland for a train. I sat reading a newspaper when a woman dropped into the seat beside me and smilingly asked if she was mistaken in thinking I was Mr. So and So of Toledo. I replied that there was no mistake, and then recognized her as Mrs. Taylor.

"I am so much indebted to you!" she said as she held out her hand and let her smile broaden.

"About your case at Toledo?"

"Of course. The prosecution had a poor case against me, but my lawyer was fearful of a verdict of guilty, because I refused to reveal my identity. It of course looked as if I had something to conceal."

"But you didn't have?"

"Didn't I?" she exclaimed as she laughed heartily.

"Did you live in Buffalo, as you claimed?" I asked.

"Of course not."

"And isn't your name Taylor?"

"Not at all."

"Then may I ask who you are?"

"You may because you proved yourself a good friend in my hour of need. I heard how you brought those four obstinate fellows over to your way of thinking, and I am glad of this opportunity to show my appreciation in a substantial manner. As to my name, I have half a dozen. As to who I am, I make my living by my wits. If I were a man I'd be called a sharper."

"Then you—you are an adventuress!" I gasped.

"That is probably a correct term," she laughed.

"And you—?"

"I took the bag of jewelry, of course. You had no doubt of it in your own mind, and yet you stood my friend. Yes, I stole the bag while her berth was being made up at night and passed it on to a good friend of mine in the next car. The haul divided $3,000 between us, and for what you did for me I am going to present you with $500."

I sat and stared at her with mouth wide open, wondering if I was awake or dreaming, and she took a pencil and card from her reticule and said:

"Give me your home address and I will send the money by express tomorrow."

"My heavens, woman, but did you really steal that jewelry?" I whispered.

"Why, of course I did!" she replied.

"And you made Mr. Wickham pay you $3,000 damages!" I went on.

"Of course. You didn't suppose I'd let him off after all that trouble, do you? What is the address, please? I am one who fights her enemies and rewards her friends. If you do not think $500 is sufficient please say so and I will increase the amount."

I arose and walked out of the depot without saying a word in reply—without a look back at her—so overcome that I could hardly have given my name if asked for it. After wandering around for an hour I went back. To my great relief she had gone.

TEMPERANCE NOTES

THE RECHABITES.

There entered in the promised land, a band
Of Arabs with the pilgrim Israelites;
Dear to the God of Israel, though not named
Among the chosen tribes of Jacob's sons.
Austere, discreet; though knowing not the law
Of Moses, fearing God; content to live
In quietness, unknown to rank and state.
Such were the sons of Rechab—such the men
Who, knowing with far-seeing eyes and minds
The ruin wrought by fleshly lust and wine
Among the kingdoms of Phoenician fame,
Forswore themselves to nevermore drink wine;
To never leave their tents and healthful lives.

They kept their promise well; when years had passed,
When generations came and centuries fled,
They still remained a vigorous, noble clan.
Jehovah saw, approved, espoused them there—
Such merit surely should receive reward;
Among His chosen tribes, among the priests

But there temptation came within the house
Of God—e'en to the temple of the Lord:
Exalted of the Lord, come, drink ye wine!"

Then they stood up in all their God-like strength
And raised on high their eyes and sinewy hands.
"Our vow is sacred yet; 'tis writ in stone;
As firm as rock we make the vow again:
Before the Lord of Hosts, before His throne,
Not only we, but those who are our own—
Our wives, our sons, our daughters, while we live."

The Lord most high, who heard the solemn vow
In words whose truth and power the ages prove,
Spake once, and fixed the high decree for time,
And showed His love and care for all things pure—
His estimation placed on temperate lives,
His words were these—they're written in His Book:
"The sons of Rechab shall not want a man
To stand before Me evermore—amen!"

And so among the priests and scribes we find,
E'en to Messiah's time, these Rechabites,
In priestly office, honored by all men,
With unstained lips which wine has never touched—
So fit to stand before the Lord of Hosts,
To wear the robes ordained by sacred writ,

And now, not less, a blessing waits for us
Who firmly stand rejecting proffered drink;
Who say: "I promise by the help of God
To keep from drinking all intoxicants."
Who say: "What things are pure and just and true,
I make my own and ponder in my heart."

WITH A STOP TO IT.

The Only Kind of a Drink That a Staunch Temperance Youth Was Willing to Take.

"Come in and take a sip of something good," said bloated old Jack Saunders to Tommy Bristow as he was passing the saloon door on his way to school.

"I'm a temperance boy," answered Tommy, "and I've signed a pledge neither to touch, taste nor handle."

"Oh, that's all right," answered the old toper; "you can take a glass of beer or wine and still be a temperance man. You don't need to keep on drinking until you're a drunkard. That's all nonsense. You can take a drink and stop right there."

"If they have that kind of liquor in there," answered Tommy, who was a bright little fellow for his years, "I don't know that I would mind taking a glass, just to see what it tastes like. You are sure they have that kind, are you?"

"What kind?" demanded Jack.

"Why, the kind that has the stop in it. I guess not many of the men of this town have ever drank that kind. They drank the kind that had a keep on. But if you've got the kind in there that has a stop to it I'll go in and take a glass."

Jack Saunders hung his head. He knew what the boy said was true, and that the nonsense was all on his side—talking about taking a drink and then stopping when he felt like it. The trouble was he didn't please to stop, nor did any of the others. And Tommy was exactly right. It isn't safe for any boy, or man either, to take the first drink until some one invents the kind that has a stop to it.—Our Morning Guide.

CALLS THEM HOT HOUSE PLANTS

Congressman Hill Sees Little Stability in the Recently Established Provincial Governments in the Philippines.

Manila, July 3.—Congressman Hull, of Iowa, who accompanied General Chaffee on his southern tour, characterizes the newly established provincial governments as "hot house plants, unable to withstand adversities."

He said to the correspondent of the Associated Press that there will be many difficulties under the dual civil military government, which will be inaugurated tomorrow.

Mr. Hull believes that their natural richness ensures the eventual prosperity of the islands, but he is convinced from conversations with the governors and army officers that in the new southern provinces poverty and other obstacles will prevent the successful collection of land taxes. He believes that the salaries, excepting those of the clerks and minor employes, are too high, from the commissioners downward, and that the provinces ought to have far larger areas and fewer officers. The United States commissioners agree with this, but have deferred to the wishes of the inhabitants. Mr. Hull approves of the provincial law, but is of the opinion that the bulk of the territory should be under military government until absolutely pacified and cleared of ladrones. He is convinced the natives in general are not concerned about the government.

These views are typically those of the generality of army officers. The American civilians as a rule are not inclined to await a fair trial of the experiment of partial self-government and neither the natives nor the army officers are in favor of any removals of troops.

General Sumner urges that the native police of Tayabas province ought to be disarmed or enrolled by the military governor. Colonel Gardiner, the governor of the province, insists on controlling the police. The pending bill for the organization of the entire insular policy provides for civil control of the police, and army officers predict clashes unless the military control the police in the disturbed localities.

EAST END WILL HAVE A NEW FACTORY

A new manufacturing institution of considerable importance is to be established in the eastern part of the city. Last week the Haberkorn-Haley company completed the purchase of a tract of land embracing six lots, between Alliger street and the Wabash railroad tracks, and will locate its factory there.

A main building of brick, two stories in height, is to be erected at a cost of about $5,000, and plans for the structure have already been completed by the architect. Work is to begin at once, and the factory is to be rushed to completion. A considerable portion of the machinery has already been purchased and is in storage awaiting the erection of the buildings. The company will build the new model of steam engines for which patents were recently secured, and while no effort has yet been made to sell them, it is stated that a number of orders for the engines are already on file, placed by gentlemen who have seen the workings of the machine in the exhaustive tests which have been made. The company was incorporated several months ago.

FOR THE VACANT JUDGESHIP

LAWYERS AND POLITICIANS INTERESTED.

Indianapolis Has Three or Four Candidates and the State Will Present Many More.

Indianapolis, July 3.—The lawyers and politicians of the state are taking a great interest in the appointment of a man to succeed Judge Baker on the United States district bench, it being thought that he will be promoted to the circuit bench, vacated by the death of Judge Woods. Senators Fairbanks and Beveridge, who will make the recommendation to the president, will have to consider a long list of candidates for the place. Among the men suggested for the district judgeship are Addison C. Harris, Roscoe O. Hawkins and Ovid B. Jameson, of this city; Leander J. Monks, of Winchester, now a member of the state supreme bench; W. J. Henly, of Rush county, an appellate judge; A. B. Anderson, of Crawfordsville; Lucien Hubbard, of South Bend; Enoch G. Hogate, of Danville; E. H. Bundy, of Henry county; Judge Hammond, of Lafayette, and Robert S. Taylor, of Fort Wayne. Noble C. Butler, who has been clerk of the United States courts here for many years, also is spoken of as a successor to Judge Baker.

OPINION IN WASHINGTON.

Washington, July 3.—The weight of opinion here is that District Judge Baker will succeed to the circuit judgeship made vacant by the death of Judge Woods. There is some talk of Judge Tracewell, controller of the treasury, but, in view of the intimate relations that exist between Senator Beveridge and Judge Baker, the opinion is he will be selected, and his successor be named by Senator Fairbanks.

BOYS KILLED IN A TRAP.

Pittsburg, Pa., July 3.—Ten boys were caught like rats in a trap yesterday in a tunnel leading to the old Keeling mine, owned by the Pittsburg Coal company. Two boys were killed and eight overcome by the foul fumes of the place. Anthony Miller, aged fifteen, was killed instantly, and Patrick Gallagher, aged fourteen, died at the hospital within an hour. The boys who were overcome by fumes ranged in age between eleven and eighteen. They will all recover. The boys had been helping the men load a train and all boarded the train to go to the tipple. While in the tunnel the train stalled. The boys became frightened, jumped to the ground and tried to grope their way to the outside. The fumes of the tunnel, combined with the smoke from the engine, prostrated them, and the two who were killed fell across the tracks. When the train finally started these two boys were literally ground to pieces and others who had fallen to one side were taken out later by a rescue party, all in an unconscious state, but revived shortly afterward.

SOCIAL REFORMERS ADOPT A PLATFORM.

Detroit, Mich., July 3.—The second National Social and Political conference today adopted the following platform:

"We declare for direct legislation and proportional representation; direct nomination of candidates for offices; equal suffrage for all regardless of sex or color; honest elections, free from all partisan manipulation or control; direct taxation through progressive land values, inheritance and income taxes; public ownership of public utilities; an eight-hour day; sole control of the medium of exchange by the government; home rule; postal savings banks; state insurance and workmen's compensation for industrial injuries; opposition to militarism and conquest, and advocacy of peaceful arbitration; demand the same rights and liberties for others as for ourselves."

In the preamble to the platform the conference expressed its condemnation of monopolies, the concentration of wealth and the present policy of this government with regard to its insular possessions.

One of the features of the morning session was the withdrawal from the conference of Prof. W. C. Bohannon, of Chicago, because he was not permitted to talk on a resolution after the previous question had been moved.

TRIED TO KILL HERSELF.

Muncie, Ind., July 3.—Georgia Davis, who attempted suicide early yesterday morning, was placed in jail yesterday afternoon by the county prosecutor to hold her until the trial of the nine men charged with assaulting her. The girl says she wants to die. She is but fourteen years old. Miss Aletha Tuckett, of Logansport, who was likewise treated by the same crowd of men, attempted to take her life last night also with morphine. She was engaged to be married, and says that since the assault that caused the first complaint her betrothed refuses to marry her. She, too, will be placed in jail if she recovers.

INDIANA COAL TRUST.

Chicago, July 3.—Negotiations toward the amalgamation of the bituminous coal mines in Indiana are about completed. The particulars of the deal will be made public next week. A secret meeting of the finance and railroad committees having in charge the consolidation was held in Chicago yesterday. It is understood that the Indiana corporation will be financed by Chicago capitalists and that the capitalization will reach $15,000,000. Progress is also reported in the consolidation of the Illinois mines. It was given out yesterday that the Chicago-Virden company had secured options on all the mines on the Chicago and Alton railroad south of Wilmington and on ten mines in the vicinity of Springfield.

OHIO BANK FAILS.

Mansfield, Ohio, July 3.—Sturges' bank, a private institution, closed its doors today, following the filing of a deed of assignment by Banker Sturges to Attorney H. B. Dirlam. Sturges owned lumber works, real estate, and a controlling interest in the Mansfield machine works, the latter capitalized at $300,000. This afternoon A. Peck was appointed receiver for the Mansfield machine works. Sturges was a close friend of the late John Sherman. No statement of the bank's affairs has yet been made.

PETITION FOR BUTLER.

A petition very largely signed by Fort Wayne attorneys was forwarded to Senator Fairbanks, asking the appointment of Noble C. Butler, present clerk of the United States court for the district of Indiana, as district judge, assuming that Judge Baker, the present incumbent, is to be elevated to the bench made vacant by the recent death of Judge Woods. The attorneys say the petition was signed assuming that there would be no Fort Wayne candidate for the position.

FINDS A SNAKE IN HIS COW.

Dublin, Ind., July 3.—John Moore, of Philomath, southeast of this city, lost a fine Jersey cow yesterday in a rather peculiar manner. For some reason the cow seemed to crave drink, and finally died. Moore was determined to know what the cow died from, so he cut her open. When he did so a big black snake six feet in length crawled from the stomach. He killed it with a club. The snake was probably taken into the cow's stomach several years ago, and has since lived to grow to its full size. The cow had given its usual quantity of milk until recently, when she became sick.

SCANDAL IN PYTHIAN AFFAIRS.

Indianapolis, Ind., July 3.—At the special meeting of the supreme lodge, Knights of Pythias, in Chicago next week, it is understood a report will be made exposing persons alleged to have been implicated in a deal by which a former Illinois insurance commissioner received from a manager of the Knights of Pythias endowment rank $3,500 for a "clearance card" and a letter of recommendation for the rank. Union B. Hunt, secretary of state of Indiana, who is a supreme representative in the order, will attend the meeting of the supreme lodge and will favor an investigation and indictment of the offenders if there is evidence to warrant such action. The story is that the $3,500 bought a report showing that an investigation had been made and that the endowment rank affairs had been found satisfactory. Later the Illinois and Connecticut insurance authorities began an investigation and unearthed the $3,500 story. C. F. S. Neal, of Lebanon, manager of the endowment rank, sanctioned the investigation, which is still in progress. Neal is reported to have made affidavit in Chicago last Saturday touching the alleged payment, and the affidavit is said to be in the hands of the Illinois insurance department.

SHOT DOWN BY SHERIFFS.

Friar's Point, Miss., July 3.—A report received from the southern part of Coahoma county states that Deputy Sheriffs Frank Johnson, Edgar Montroy and Frank Mullen were fired upon by negroes upon entering an alleged blind tiger. The fire was returned and a fusilade of shots were exchanged. It is stated that four negroes were killed outright and a fifth has since died as a result of the officers' deadly aim. The white men escaped uninjured. No further details are at hand.

JOSEPH H. WORDEN DEAD.

Columbia City, Ind., July 3.—Joseph H. Worden, a brother of the late Supreme Judge James L. Worden, died at the home of his son in this city, aged eighty-eight years, four months and seventeen days. He had lived in the county forty-two years. He leaves one son and one daughter. His wife died ten years ago.

PENNSYLVANIA'S BOYS WIN

CAPTURE SECOND HEAT IN THE GRAND CHALLENGE.

Henley on Thames, July 3.—The Henley regatta opened today formally, although, owing to the large number of entries for the Thames challenge cup, three heats in the contest for that trophy were rowed yesterday afternoon and won by Trinity hall, Cambridge, the School of Mines rowing club and the Kingston rowing club.

In the second heat of the grand challenge cup race the University of Pennsylvania crew beat the London rowing club by three lengths.

The Pennsylvanias, after their heat for the grand challenge cup, disembarked at their boat house apparently as fresh as when they left it. There was no sign of exhaustion on the part of any member of the crew. The stroke, Gardiner, said:

"We pulled pretty lively at the finish, but there was no time in the race when we had any doubt about the result.

Ellis Ward, the coach, said:

"The crew did the work today which I expected. Their performance, I believe, was most creditable, but to me it was in no way a surprise. There was no advantage whatever in the stations today and all the conditions of the race and the management were as perfect as possible."

"No American crew was ever at Henley with better prospects. They are in splendid condition and confident. They will, in my opinion, meet Leander in the finals, when, I fear, the Englismen will beat them."

CORNELL'S VICTORIES.

Poughkeepsie, N. Y., July 2.—Cornell's oarsmen triumphed on the Hudson river yesterday afternoon. Their colors were in the van in two of the three events in the biggest rowing regattas, considered from the number of contesting crews and from the time made, ever held in this country.

Her varsity eight won the big race of the day and made a new world's record.

Her varsity four also rowed to victory.

The new record for varsity eights was the more remarkable from the fact that three of the four leading crews in the race each broke the old record by many seconds.

The varsity eight of Cornell university made the new record of four miles in 18 minutes, 53 1-5 seconds, the former record being 19 minutes, 44 3-5 seconds, made by the Pennsylvania crew last year. Columbia finished second, making the course in 18 minutes, 58 seconds; Wisconsin, third, in 19 minutes, 6 4-5 seconds; Georgetown, fourth, in 19 minutes, 21 seconds.

Following are the summaries of the races:

—Varsity Eight.—

1—Cornell	18:53 1-5
2—Columbia	18:58
3—Wisconsin	19:06 4-5

—Varsity Four.—

1—Cornell	11:39 3-5
2—Pennsylvania	11:45 2-5
3—Columbia	11:51 3-5

—Freshmen Eight.—

1—Pennsylvania	10:20 1-5
2—Cornell	10:23
3—Columbia	10:36 1-5

FIND STOLEN GOODS.

Warsaw, Ind., July 3.—Mrs. Maude Shinnabarger, daughter of ex-County Commissioner Aaron Miller, and Miss Pearl Frederickson, of Leesburg, are under arrest on a charge of larceny. Mrs. Shinnabarger was bound over to the circuit court in $500 bond. Miss Frederickson gave bond in $100 to appear in 'Squire Eiler's court July 12. Many articles have been stolen in this city and vicinity recently and a search of the house, four miles west of Milford, revealed thousands of dollars' worth of stolen goods, including silks, perfumes and dress skirts. The women had been staying on Miller's farm for some time and the Frederickson girl was employed as a domestic. A large quantity of whisky was found in the house.

FORM BIG COAL TRUST.

Cleveland, O., July 2.—The Leader today says: Before the first of September all of the big companies producing bitiminous coal will have gathered into one organization, similar to the United States steel corporation. The capitalization will be enormous, probably second only to that of the big steel trust.

J. P. Morgan, the advocate of coalition, first started in with his coal combination three years ago, mazing the first movement along the line of controlling the products of the Ohio and West Virginia fields. At that time he obtained complete control of the mining property in the Hocking and Shawnee valleys. In order to give an outlet for this coal he purchased certain railroad properties and this started the combination mania along the line of railroad ownership which as gone to extraordinary lengths.

THE SCHOOL APPORTIONMENT

WHAT VARIOUS COUNTIES ARE TO GET.

Allen County Receives More Than is Paid In—Other Counties Get Less Than They Pay.

Indianapolis, Ind., July 3.—Frank L. Jones, state superintendent of public instructions yesterday completed the June apportionment of school funds to the ninety-two counties of the state. The amount collected from all the counties was $1,131,959.34. and the total amount apportioned $1,113,695.52, leaving a balance in the state treasury of $33,550.70. The total amount apportioned makes the distribution $1.47 per capita. Marion county paid in $117,943.38 and received from the apportionment $70,-296.87. Some other counties, however, received much more than they paid in, Brown county, for instance, receiving $9,600.03, after having paid in only $8,295.84. The more populous and wealthier counties paid in more than they received.

Neuralgia.

The Prayer of a Nerve for More Blood.

In the face.
Sometimes the heart nerves seem to twist.
Twinging rheumatic pains of the extremities.

It is a disease of the nerve centers, and the pains accompanying it are a prayer for better nourishment. They are the danger signals which warn you against a total collapse of the nervous system.

Liniments and all external applications can only give temporary relief. Permanent cure cannot possibly come until the nerve centers are thoroughly revitalized by Dr. A. W. Chase's Nerve Pills. The beneficial effects of this great nerve restorative are felt thrilling through the nerve fibres as week by week and month by month the nerve force of the body is restored. Women afflicted with diseases peculiar to their sex are frequently great sufferers from neuralgia. Dr. Chase's Nerve Pills positively cure both these disorders by filling the nervous system with new vigor and life. 50 cents a box at all dealers, or Dr. A. W. Chaes Medicine Co., Buffalo, N. Y. The genuine has portrait and signature of Dr. A. W. Chase on each package.

Mrs. J. H. Warrick, of No. 280 Philadelphia st., Indiana, Pa., says: "I can recommend Dr. A. W. Chase's Nerve Pills to anyone who suffers as I did with nervous sick headache—neuralgia of the head and a weakened stomach digestion. They stopped the headache, the neuralgia disappeared and with it the stomach trouble."

JUDGE BAKER MAY NOT GET IT

(Indianapolis Journal.)

In all the discussion recently regarding the appointment to fill the vacancy on the United States circuit bench caused by the death of Judge Woods it has been conceded that Judge Baker would be promoted and that Senators Beveridge and Fairbanks would have to select some one to take the chair now held by Judge Baker, but now there comes from Washington information that throws doubt on Judge Baker's promotion.

This information is that when Senator Edmunds was chairman of the judiciary committee of the senate, which receives the recommendations for the appointment of federal judges, he and his associates established a rule that no man should be confirmed to the circuit bench who was over sixty years of age. It is required that a man must serve ten years on either the circuit or district benches and must have reached the age of seventy years before he can retire on salary.

The dispatch also points out that Judge Baker's service on the district bench would not count in his retirement from the circuit bench, even if the senate should waive its time-honored traditions, and he would be eighty years old before he could retire from that bench. It is further said that Judge Baker is sixty-nine years old and in a year or a little more he will have served ten years on the district bench. Unless the senate should waive its rule in this particular case he could not be appointed to the circuit bench. It is appreciated that at sixty-nine Judge Baker is in full possession of his powers, but it is presumed this fact would not affect the general rule of the senate.

Senator Hoar is now chairman of the judiciary committee and his conservatism and respect for the traditions of the senate are well known to the public at large. It is also well known here that Judge Baker would not press his own suit for promotion and he has said in an interview that he would not take part in the contest for the appointment to the circuit bench. Under the foregoing conditions it is thought in Washington that the president may be called upon to make only one appointment, a successor to Judge Woods on the circuit bench.

QUEER ACCIDENT TO HORSE.

Last Thursday Adolph Haller, the West Main street butcher, lost a valuable horse under peculiar circumstance. His clerk, a young lad, was riding the animal bareback and the horse was not traveling faster than a walk. Flies bothered the horse considerably, and while he was frantically endeavoring to dislodge some of the pests, presumably on his belly, he made a lunge with his right foot, wrenched himself and fell to the ground. Dr. Dodge, who happened to pass a moment later, was called and found that the horse had broken his front "elbow," the joint in the front leg, next to the body. The efforts of the horse in trying to kick forward with his hind leg probably wrenched him in such a manner that the bone in the front leg was snapped off short. Anyway the leg was broken and Officer Schlaudroff being called, after a short examination, shot the animal. The accident occurred at the corner of Monroe and Wayne streets.

The Kruger boy received the charge on the left side of his face, and the left eye is so badly injured that the sight is ruined and the optic may have to be removed.
